THE STORM SUNDAY.
The heavy snow fall on Sunday which was piled into high banks by the wind, caused considerable delay to the C. P. R., C. G. R. and street Railway, yesterday morning. The regular service was resumed during the day. Between eleven o'clock Sunday night and ten o'clock yesterday morning the wind travelled at a rate of 68 miles an hour at times. Gangs of men are engaged in clearing the streets and this storm will cost the city about $2,000. Since the first of January to date the city has expended $12,960 in removing snow. The average for other years was not half that amount.

Following the services both funerals met and as the two hearsees with flag-covered coffins, passed through the streets preceded by military bands and followed by firing parties with reversed arms the spectacle was a solemn one. Officers of the depot battalion, headed by Lieutenant-Colonel McAvity were in attendance.

POLICE OFFICIALS FROM MONTREAL BRING PRISONERS

Three Men Under Arrest in Connection with Wool Stealing Case — Startling Developments Are Expected.

It is stated that the wool stealing case which is now before the court is likely to lead to some startling developments, and will involve men higher up. Although the detective force and the police officials in general are not giving anything out to the press concerning the developments, The Standard learns that with the apprehension of one party connected with the theft it may result in still further arrests.

Yesterday Detective Biddess and Frederick Bowes of the Montreal police department arrived in the city with three men, George Drew, Francis Hayes and Stanley Horton, who were arrested in Montreal by the police of that city on advice from St. John. The case will be brought before the court this morning for further hearing. W. M. Ryan has been detained by the Colonial Hide Company to look after their interest and prosecute the offenders.

LUMBER CUT LESS THIS YEAR

W. P. Lowell, Lumber Operator, Estimates It Will Be Thirty-Five Per Cent. Less Than Last Year.

It is estimated by W. P. Lowell, of Canada, a prominent lumber operator, that the cut this year will be between thirty-five and forty per cent less than last. This statement is based on reports from all sections of the lumber area. Mr. Lowell arrived in St. John yesterday and is registered at the Royal Hotel. In conversation with a Standard representative last evening he advanced for the shortage several reasons, one of which, and it might be considered the main factor, is the decrease in the cut, in the shortage of efficient labor. Mr. Lowell stated that the Military Service Act had interfered a little with operations, but they have managed to obtain other help. "The high cost of help and the inefficient men procurable for lumber operations," stated Mr. Lowell, "is a big drawback."

The operations carried on by the company with which Mr. Lowell is associated are very extensive. The lumbering section of the country in the north, known as Rock Gulch, is the scene of considerable activity this year. The place is situated outside of Campbellton about 13 miles on the International Railway.

RAILWAY TRAINS DELAYED BY SNOW

Double-Header on Shore Line Stalled at Spruce Lake — Started Again Last Evening — Snow Banks Are High.

As the result of the heavy snow storm of Sunday it will cost the railway thousands of dollars to remove the snow from the tracks and place the regular service at the disposal of the public. It was not so much the quantity of snow that fell that caused the trouble, as it was the manner in which it drifted. In some places the drifts reached exceedingly high altitudes.

A double header pushing a snow plow left West St. John for St. Stephen over the Shore line yesterday morning, but was obliged to return after having cleared the road as far as Spruce Lake, where it was stalled. Last evening, however, the trip was commenced for the second time, and it is expected that the train will reach its destination.

East of St. John all trains were reported late last night. The Halifax train which should have arrived last evening at 5 o'clock is not expected until 6 o'clock this morning. The train from Moncton due to arrive at 9:30 p. m. was over two hours late. A number of members of the legislative assembly were unable to make connections for Fredericton on account of discontinued service on all railways, and they were obliged to remain in the city over night.

IS DOING WELL.
Mrs. G. F. Dawson, wife of the pastor of Exmouth street Methodist church, who was taken suddenly ill on Sunday with appendicitis, was operated on at the hospital that same night by Dr. Addy. Her many friends will be glad to learn that the operation was successful and Mrs. Dawson is doing well.

MARCH PROMISES RECORD MONTH IN STEAMSHIP TRADE

Port of St. John is Taxed Almost to Capacity—Exceptionally Large Number of Ships Booked—Movement of Freight Has Been Good.

According to officials representing the different lines of steamships plying between St. John and European ports, the month of March promises to be a record one. The port is at present almost taxed to capacity and there is an exceptionally large number of steamers booked for this month. It is also stated that the end of the week will see an unusually large number of arrivals.

"It is impossible to state when the last steamer will arrive in St. John during the winter schedule," stated an official last night, "as it all depends on the run of ice in the St. Lawrence river."
