St. George

St. George, Jan. 7.—The annual Christmas concert of the Presbyterian Sunday School was held in Court's Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 26th. It was very largely attended, every available seat being filled. The entertainment consisted of recitations, chorals, drills, etc., and the children acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner, owing to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Harriet Magowan and Miss Edna O'Brien, who had spent several weeks in training them. The orchestra rendered several choice selections. During the distribution of presents from the Christmas tree Mr. James Bryden took the platform and on behalf of the men of the congregation, presented Rev. J. C. Mortimer and Mrs. Mortimer with a package containing a sum of money. In a few well-chosen remarks Mr. Bryden extended between pastor and people, and extended the season's best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer. Rev. Mr. Mortimer replied stating that he was taken by surprise, and thanked the members of the congregation for their kindness. The concert closed with the singing of the national anthem.

One Great Essential To A Woman's Health Is Her Nerves.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long. Instead of being sick and wretched. Let her eat any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. It is any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired, out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N. S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flashes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

Gagetown

Gagetown, Jan. 3.—The leading feature of New Year's Day was the annual horse race which took place on Gagetown Creek at two o'clock in the afternoon. This year it was hoped to get a number of horses from outside points, but unfortunately this could not be arranged. However, the local horses showed good speed and kept a large crowd about the race-course from early afternoon until dusk, when it was found necessary to call off the fourth heat in two of the races. Some of the spectators noticed had driven distances, and a number of autos also were out, taking advantage of the smooth ice-road. A light snow early in the afternoon interfered with the sport for a short time; but soon cleared up.

There were three events—The 3-minute race; free-for-all; and Green race.

Entries for the three-minute race were: "Dusky," owned by G. P. Rigby, and driven by George McKay; "Dolly Wilkes," owned and driven by H. H. Gilbert; "Silver Legs," owned by T. S. 3rd—"Sparkie" 2 2 2

There were also only three entries in the green race: "Polly," owned and driven by Frank McAlister; "Duffy," owned and driven by E. McIntyre; and "Lady," owned by J. L. Allingham, and driven by H. B. Bridges. Summary for this race:

2nd—"Duffy" 1 3 2

FARMERS AGREE TO SOLDIER FOR CARL VACANCY

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 6.—Latest reports from Carleton County indicate that the proposition to have a returned soldier elected without opposition for the vacant seat in the representation of that constituency in the Legislature would probably be adopted.

"This trouble lasted about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) W. Byrne, St. Basile, Que., Nov. 23, 1918.

The Farmers and Independence.

Toronto Saturday Night gives publication to an article which contends that the Farmers' movement in Canada is a movement for the independence of this country. The contention is set up that the Ontario Farmers' Government is a Government favorable to independence; that it is a part with those who think that Lord Jellicoe should not be in this country advising upon naval defense; that if Canada must depend upon the United States for safety, what of it, and so on.

Saturday Night does not gauge the situation accurately. Neither the farmers nor any class in Canada desire or will permit of a policy of separation. There are separatists, no doubt. A wing of so-called Liberals in Toronto are busy advocating something of the kind, but they find no material support, nor will they.

Those who imagine that because the farmers have to a considerable extent joined in a class movement they have changed their political aspirations for the future of the country are imagining a vain thing. If one needs evidence of what Canada thinks of her empire affiliation we need but recall the vest of the Prince of Wales and the boundless enthusiasm which the presence of the young prince created among every class of the people. Is it suggested that the fine personality of the prince alone aroused that enthusiasm? Were his speeches applauded because of their eloquence or for the subject matter that they contained? No observer could have escaped the conclusion that the pallant prince was welcomed with sincerity of heart because of the attachment which Canadians feel for the motherland and because of appreciation of our part as a self-contained country. It confirms the judgment of Canadian history as to the proper course for this country to pursue.

Canada, in common with several European countries, has been "flooded with American goods." As a result, foreign exchange at New York has been depressed to depths. For Europe, the experience is novel and passing, due entirely to the peculiar situation created by the great war; for Canada, the existing cheapness of the price alone aroused that enthusiasm. There money across the border is a self-contained country. It confirms the judgment of Canadian history as to the proper course for this country to pursue.
