At this season of the year, when so many of our people are suffering from colds, we call attention to AYER'S CURE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS, but all affections of the lungs and throat. Having used it in our family for many years, we can speak from personal knowledge of its efficiency. There may be other remedies that are good, but in all our experience this has proved to be far the best. It is pleasant to take, and should be kept at command, by every family, as a protection against a class of complaints which seem harmless in the beginning, but become malignant and dangerous if neglected.—*N. FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 7.

Amending the Reciprocity Proposals.

A good deal of nonsense is talked about Canadian amendments to the treaty proposals that have been made to the Washington Government. As the case stands now the Government of Canada is committed to certain proposals, and has no power to honorably withdraw one of them except by consent of the Washington Cabinet. The Mackenzie Government must stand or fall by what it has deliberately committed itself to. The Brown proposals have been made, and it is for the U. S. Senate to accept, reject or amend them. In case of rejection the matter ends, in case of acceptance the Mackenzie Government is bound to stand or fall on the question of the ratification by Parliament of every clause, line, letter and punctuation point, in case of amendment the Government will be free to wash its hands of the affair. The amending of the proposal by Parliament will be the condemnation of the Government, for the Government has irrevocably committed itself to the terms agreed to by Brown. Mr. Mackenzie may, it is true, plead that he has made a fool of himself, or been made a fool of by Brown, and repudiate the proposals to which he has consented, but it is not probable that he will do so. He had humbly appealed to the Washington Government for modifications, in the hope that his prayer will be answered and some of the Canadian enemies of the proposed treaty appeased, but no modifications that will be advantageous to Canada will be consented to by Secretary Fish.

Mr. Burpee and Mr. Smith are opposed to the terms of the proposed treaty, and will leave the Government as soon as they have reason to believe that a majority of the House of Commons will vote against ratifying Brown's proposals. They refer to the office now, they refer to the sole purpose of trying to get the treaty suitably amended. There is, also, the contingency of the rejection of the proposals by the United States Senate, in which case they will not need to resign unless they are compelled to do so by the outrage of a railway policy of the Government of which they are members.

Subject for a cartoon—Geo. Brown kneeling at Mr. Fish's feet begging to be allowed to take back some of his proposals, Mackenzie and other members of the Cabinet anxiously watching Fish's countenance, and the Ministers of Customs and Marine bestowing encouraging nods and winks on a crowd engaged in burning Brown and the Government in effigy.

Our Special Commissioner to Europe describes Wimbledon matters in an exhaustive manner. His letter will be read with interest.

The St. Croix Courier, in an able leader on the necessity for steam communication with the islands, says it is informed that a scheme is now on foot to form a joint stock company for the purchase of a steamboat to ply between St. Stephen and Grand Manan, touching at St. Andrews, Deer Island, Eastport and Campbellville, and that leading capitalists have been asked to invest in the undertaking.

Port Phillip Freestone Quarries.

From the Maritime Sentinel.
These quarries are situated about two miles above the bridge across the River Phillip at its mouth, being the same range of reefs as the old McDonald quarry. For three years Sheriff McLean and one or two others have been patiently sinking trial pits and otherwise testing not only the spot being operated on, but the whole point back to the creek, having an area of 4 or 5 acres, and at last able to show a solid bed of free stone underlying the whole point at a depth of 8 or 10 feet from the surface.

The Los Angeles Herald has a correspondent who has been to Santa Monica, Cal., and portrays its attractions as a man in the whirlpool. It can be distinctly seen from the bank. All efforts to get the body have proved unsuccessful, as it is hurried round. One time his head and arms are visible; at another his legs are seen. His pantaloons are stuck in his boots. The body will fly from the whirlpool for weeks. It is dressed like a sailor.

While Patsy O'Hara was being tried in Atlanta for stealing, he took poison. His counsel rose to the sublime height of saying that he was innocent, and that the jury should find him guilty.

The last edition of "Allibone's Dictionary of Authors," devoted exclusively to British and American writers, claims to be complete, and to be brought down to recent date. Nevertheless, it contains not a word about George Elliot (Mrs. Mary Ann Evans Lewson), who is avowedly not only the first of English novelists, but the first of living writers of fiction. This is, indeed, an extraordinary oversight. Why did not Mr. Allibone omit William Shakespeare in his enumeration of poets, Edward Gibbon from his list of historians, and John Locke from his mention of British philosophers?

An Iowa paper reports the following as the form of marriage in a town in that State: "Join your right hands. Do you consent to marry this man?" "Yes." "Yes." "Well, then, have one another. You're man and wife."

The Central Division of the Intercolonial Railway will be placed on an equality with the other sections of the road in the matter of return tickets at reduced rates. Mr. Brydges thought differently, but fortunately he does not own the road.—St. John's Daily.

The St. Stephen Fire Company turned out on Monday evening with the Steam Fire Engine, in a very becoming manner, consisting of every party with a red stripe on each, Garibaldi shirts, and black colored glazed hats, helmet shaped and in front, and something similar to a southwest bell.—Journal.

The Montreal Times says that the Albert Railway is progressing rapidly. Mr. McDonald is succeeding well with the bridge across the river at Salisbury, and although the people may congratulate themselves on the prospect of early railway connection with the outside world. The time Central Railroad has issued a circular to agents requiring them to receive no liquors for transportation into Iowa, unless the shipment is accompanied by a certificate of the consignee's license to sell. Nearly all the Iowa lines in Chicago have issued similar orders to their present agents.

The Galveston papers represent the commerce of that port as greatly endangered by the exactions of the Wharf Company. The Galveston News has also a paragraph to the effect that the wharf monopoly sitting, like Sindh's Old Man of the Sea, on the shoulders of American commerce, a rope in his hand is strangling a railway enterprise, and in his scale of charges appears "cents on 'ere."

There is a fine attraction now at Niagara for nervous and sensitive souls. Mr. Mariett, the keeper at the Whirlpool, Niagara, reports that a man is in the whirlpool. It can be distinctly seen from the bank. All efforts to get the body have proved unsuccessful, as it is hurried round. One time his head and arms are visible; at another his legs are seen. His pantaloons are stuck in his boots. The body will fly from the whirlpool for weeks. It is dressed like a sailor.

Hon. Isaac Burpee, Minister of Customs, arrived in the city last evening. The Minister of Marine is expected this evening.

Reviews.

The Circuit Court opens on Tuesday, Judge Allen presiding. The trial of Leulien for the murder of his father-in-law is the only criminal case.

At the Mechanics' Institute this evening Prof. O. S. Fowler, the Phenologist, will lecture on Love, Selection, Courtship and Married Life. The professor's lectures are always interesting, and on such all-important subjects should draw large houses.

The tableaux of Erin was exhibited yesterday evening, for the last time, in the Mechanics' Institute. The City Hall, Carleton.

The Resolute Base Ball Club, of St. Stephen, are about starting on a starting tour. Leaving home on the 17th, they proceed to Woodville, York, and then to Acadia, thence to Fredericton and the Danvers Club. They will arrive here on the 20th inst., and remain two days, during which time they will play as many clubs as they can arrange matters with.

At a meeting of the Lumber Exchange, held yesterday, a resolution was adopted, approving of the determination of the lumbermen of Ottawa to reduce the production. It was resolved to hold a meeting next Thursday for a full discussion of the subject.

A farm, containing 75 acres of land, situated at Golden Grove, was sold this morning at auction. Mr. Hugh McManus was the purchaser for $375. It is a nice drive from the city, family tickets not being required, and Mr. Brydges having nothing to do with the road.

Mr. Carr, of whom the English and American press speak in the most eulogistic terms, is to give readings at the C. N. A. Hall, on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The St. John Presbyterian Church is holding its picnic at Norton's day. A train of 13 cars left this morning for the scene of the festivities.

Mr. L. D. Geldart has commenced business in Fairville in the drug and chemical line, and intends keeping on hand a good assortment of everything in connection with it. His store will supply a want long felt in that place, and there is no doubt but the public will extend him a large patronage. See advt.

The Lacrosse Club meets this evening at 8 o'clock on the Barrack Square. A lively game is expected. Spectators are invited to attend.

China, Samarra, Calabria, Hecla, Marathon, Batavia, Scotia, Saragossa. These first-class steamers of this popular line will leave Boston and New York for Liverpool during the next two weeks (Hall & Hanington, agents).

Mrs. A. D. Maskell.

From the many favorable notices of this lady we select one from the London Morning Post.
This talented lady gave a farewell reading at St. George's Hall on Wednesday evening (last Granville, K.G., presiding), it being her intention shortly to quit this country for America, a fact which her many admirers will greatly regret. Her beautiful voice and distinct enunciation, combined with strong dramatic feeling, gave the hearer a sense of pleasure and perfection rarely felt in listening to other readers of her sex. Mrs. Maskell may be sincerely congratulated upon the warmth of her reception, a warmth to which her brilliant talents justly entitled her. She will quit this country followed by the regrets and admiration of a large circle, who, like ourselves, will wish her all success and prosperity on the other side of the Atlantic.

Board of Trade.

The Board met yesterday afternoon, Vice-President Seammill in the chair. Letters of thanks were read from Capt. Dorr and other United States delegates. A resolution was passed thanking Governor Tilly and Lady, and others in Fredericton, for attentions paid on their late excursion to the capital. The question of reciprocity was brought up by S. D. Barton, Esq., and on motion of C. W. Weldon, Esq., and on motion of subject was adjourned until a future day, after which the Board adjourned.

Academy of Music Theatre.

Miss LeClercq, as Julia, inspired every one who was present last evening, with new admiration for her wonderful artistic powers. Never did a village maiden look more artlessly beautiful; never a city belle more dashing; never were the emotions of love and pride, struggling for the mastery, more admirably expressed; and never did womanly virtue seem more Godlike in its triumph over temptation. Miss LeClercq shows the quality of her genius by her superiority in notes like this—notes that require brains as well as beauty and expression. We have already characterized Mr. Warner's Master Walter as a great performance. With Miss Noah as Helen, Mr. McDowell as Modon, and Mr. Owen as Fashion, the play could not help going off with great eclat. Mr. H. S. Marlock, as Clifford, made a capital impression on the audience. Miss LeClercq, Miss Noah, Mr. Warner, Mr. Marlock, and Mr. McDowell were enthusiastically called before the curtain more than once. In the interpiece, "The Widow's Victim," Mr. Murdoch gave his wonderful imitation of musical and dramatic celebrities, and pleasing original character songs and sketches, his performance keeping the audience laughing from beginning to end. "School for Scandal" will be played to-night for Miss LeClercq's benefit. Mr. J. B. Fuller taking the part of Sir Peter Teazle. We hope St. John will show its appreciation of standard comedy by filling the house.

At a meeting of the United Lodge No. 29, last evening, the following were installed officers of the Lodge by Wm. E. Stubbs, D. G. W. C. T.: John Withers, W. C. T.; Jas. McHarg, W. R. H. S.; Miss Phoebe Mansbridge, W. L. H. S.; Jas. W. Ganter, W. V. T.; Joseph McIntyre, W. R. S.; Miss Esther Mansbridge, W. A. R. S.; Joseph Taylor, W. F. S.; Robert McIntyre, W. T.; Wm. H. Book Sale.

Messrs. Hall & Hanington commenced a sale of books by auction this forenoon. Bidding was quite lively, and a large lot of books was sold at fair prices. The sale will be continued this evening at 7.30. Many valuable books are yet to be offered, and the evening sale should command a large attendance.

The St. Andrew's Society.

The St. Andrew's Society met at the Victoria Hotel last evening. There was a good attendance, including the Society's proper officers. There was no business of importance transacted. The officers were appointed a committee to arrange for a picnic, the understanding being that only members of the Society and its friends who choose to ask will be allowed to attend.

Appeal to the County Court.

In the case of King and Fleming, sentenced by the Police Magistrate to two months penitentiary for assault, John Kerr, Esq., has appealed against the decision of Judge Watties.

Shipping Notes.

Yves Wrecked at Sable Island.—Mr. H. W. Johnston, of the Marine and Fisheries Department, received a telegram yesterday stating that the bark Nashawk, from St. John for Liverpool, G. B., had been wrecked on the south side of Sable Island during a dense fog, on the 23rd of July, and became a wreck. All hands were saved, as were also the materials. The captain and crew will come on in the Lady Head. The Nashawk was 512 tons register, and was built at River John in 1864. She was owned by D. Gerrard, of Arichat, and was commanded by Captain LeBlanc. When leaving St. John harbor some months ago she went aground and was considerably damaged. She was disengaged, taken on the blocks, and was thoroughly repaired, at a large expense. The Nashawk was, therefore, nearly as good as a new vessel. About three weeks ago she sailed for her original destination.—Hz. Citizen.

City Police Court.

There were but two prisoners in the dock this morning.

The first called was James Hall, lately arrived from Scotland. He confessed to being drunk on Johnston's wharf, where he had evidently found his way from the back door of some of the water street gin-mills. He offered to "take his way out the town" at once if let go. "You look as if you want rest and I would not be justified in letting you go. Pay $4, or William Wray's navy hair, without his dark complexion, would have stamped him of the race of Ethiopia. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Wentworth street, and breaking the door and violently assaulting the person of one Annie McManus. The charge was denied, and the prosecutor, a tall, slinky woman whose pet name is "the Great Eastern," gave evidence. Her testimony showed Wray to be a very depraved man, as he had called her "out of her name," and struck, scratched and tried to choke her. The defendant had no witnesses. "The girls in the house," he supposed, "would swear just like McManus, and it wasn't worth while to call them." The assault being proved a fine of $20 was imposed, and the woman said he ought to be pleased to get off so easily. "If I told all I knew," she said, and finished with a series of winks as she left the court room.

Portland Police Court.

The Magistrate was unable to come to the Court Room this morning, though his face is much better.

A coroner was sent to apprise him that one Catherine Fox had been arrested, drunk and confessed her guilt. He ordered a fine of $6 to be recorded, which would stand for future good conduct.

Mr. C. Sparrow begs to intimate to Saint John epicures that he has engaged one of the best and most skillful cooks to be had from Boston, and he is now preparing to furnish breakfasts, dinners and suppers in the highest style of the culinary art. The public are respectfully invited to call and try his skill, at the Victoria Dining Saloon, No. 8 Germain street, opposite Country Market.

The Ballist Warst.

The Harbor Inspector has been, of late, devoting considerable attention to this piece of city property, not so much for itself, but to prevent dirt and ballast being rolled off. The earth has been removed from the top of the wharf and Charlotte street extension to the depth of six inches below the timber cap of the wharf. It is the intention to prevent the street being built up level with the wharf again, which will prevent the ballast rolling off, and also to oblige each person there discharging ballast to leave the place in the same condition in which he finds it. As there seems to be no prospect of the wharf property being distributed for railway purposes, it would be a good plan to have a portion of it levelled, so that carriages can drive down there.

An Aged Victim of Drink.

An old woman, last night, was discovered lying near the corner of Princess and Germain street, almost speechless. It was evident that she had been drinking, but several kind hearted ladies and gentlemen who passed at the time, interested themselves and secured a bed for the poor unfortunate. By their kindness she was saved from arrest and imprisonment. Though over sixty years of age, she has, until lately, been a faithful servant in many houses in this city, and no doubt some provision will be made for her so that her remaining days may be passed in comfort.

Fire at Mosquito Cove.

A pile of lumber belonging to Mr. J. E. Hamm of Indiantown, at Holt's mill, Mosquito Cove, took fire yesterday afternoon from the chimney. In a short time the fire spread rapidly and threatened to destroy the mill, notwithstanding the exertions of all the men and women of the place. Messrs. King & Co. Baker's mills were shut down, and the employees sent to render their assistance, and two men were sent to Portland for the fire engine. The flames had spread very rapidly, and on the arrival of the steamer a pile of 60,000 feet of board lumber was in flames. In a short time, by the active exertions of the firemen, the flames were subdued and the mill and damage of the lumber saved. The Portland firemen remained until 8 o'clock, and saw that the fire was entirely extinguished.

Coldbrook Rolling Mills.

At a meeting of Coldbrook Rolling Mills Company, yesterday, in the Maritime Bank building, the following officers were elected: Sir Francis Hincks, President; Hon. T. R. Jones, Vice President; Hon. John Hamilton, Hon. John Muirhead, A. P. Carron, M. P., Z. Ring, Esq., and Jas. Donville, M. P., Directors. Mr. Donville continues to be managing director, and Mr. E. G. Scovill Superintendent of Works. The capital of this company is one million dollars, and their works are located at Moosepath, three miles from this city.

Fall of Another Clergyman.

A Saratoga correspondent of the N. Y. Sun makes the following contribution to the literature of clerical calamities: "It is with sorrow that I am compelled to chronicle the fall of another clergyman, and that, too, in Saratoga. The unfortunate man is the Rev. Dr. Corey, who has been with Dr. Deems for many years, the spiritualistic co-adjutor of Commodore Vanderbilt. We all know that for many years Dr. Corey has driven fast horses with the Commodore, but his friends were not prepared to hear of his fall like Mr. Beecher through the influence of woman. The scandalous story being told by Dr. Corey's brother clergyman at 'The States' today is as follows: For several weeks Dr. Corey has been invited to intervals to be engaged in talking with a beautiful young lady on the balcony. No other strange conduct was noticed, nothing serious has been thought of the matter till today, when the full particulars of the clergyman's fall became known. It seems that last evening about dusk the Doctor was seen talking still more earnestly with the same young lady, when another young lady, a friend of the first, hurriedly joined the two. Both young ladies were highly connected, but their names are withheld from the public for the present. As the second lady appeared, words ensued, and Dr. Corey seemed surprised about something. Stepping back a moment toward the edge of the balcony his foot slipped, and the unfortunate clergyman fell over the edge and down into a water sprinkler, totally ruining the sprinkler and landing a fearful rent in his dress. Before the doctor's fall became publicly known he had to New York, where he is now keeping his room while his family takes it lying to patch up the difficulty and mend the unfortunate affair."
