My dear Sir Alan:

I have learned from my father that the position of Librarian of Osgoode Hall Library, recently rendered vacant, is to be shortly filled and that he is one of the applicants. His purpose in applying is not that he is other than perfectly happy and contented in the position he has of Lecturer at the Law School, which work he much enjoys, but simply because to the position of Librarian there is an element of permanency which does not belong to the other position.

My father, as you know, has been a student all his life and would be much at home in a Law Library. His position as Lecturer at the Law School for many years past having given him a personal acquaintance with most of the younger men in the profession in the Province, he would appear to have the kind of qualifications which would admirably fit him for the position.

To me personally, and to all of us, it would be, just at this time, a very great help and satisfaction if the advantages of permanency and emolument involved could be secured to my father. Under the circumstances I hope you will pardon my saying that if you could see your way to lending your support to his application I should feel deeply grateful.

Yours sincerely,
W. L. M. K.
