BEHIND THE OUTER MAN.

S. E. Kiser.
You can't make a soldier with only gold braid. And nobody thinks you can. Ere the fine-looking suit by the tailor is made. There's much to be done to the man. You can't make a surgeon with knives and all that. You can't make a judge with just a silk hat. You can't make a preacher with robe or cravat. And nobody thinks you can. You can't make a monarch with only a throne. And nobody thinks you can. Ere the actor may sway in a realm of his own. There's much to be done to the man. You can't make a gentleman out of an ass. Or a boor who is bravest in front of his glass. By filling his pockets with pelf; but alas! There are people who think you can!

A GAME OF SKILL.

Hamilton Judges so Consider the Festive Joker
Hamilton, Sept. 8.—Jacob Mendall was charged at the police court yesterday with keeping a common gaming house on the Market Square. Crown Attorney Crerar prosecuting and Geo. L. Stanton, Q. C., defending him. The complainant was Abel Lunick, of Rochester, who testified that he had lost $10 at poker in Mendall's rooms. Mendall having received a rake-off of five cents every time the cards were dealt. In view of a decision given several years ago by the late Judge Muir, and arguments by the crown attorney at that time, Magistrate Jeffs decided that poker was not a game of chance, but a game of skill, and that it was not illegal for a man to keep rooms for the accommodation of persons who wished to play cards, if the players were abiding by the rules, and the bank not kept by any one of them. The Crown Attorney protested against such places as Mendall's being allowed to continue.

C. P. R. HOUSE BOAT.

A Most Delightful Outing Home for Those Who Desire it.
The new C. P. R. House boat which is now completed and ready for occupation has been visited by a large number of Nelson people, all of whom declare it to be an ideal outing home. The boat is completely furnished in every respect. The four state rooms with their four double and four single berths are equipped with the latest and most comfortable beds and room at home. In the dining room is all that a dining room requires, silverware, glassware, etc., and the room itself is sufficient large to accommodate all the party that could travel on the boat. The kitchen is complete, too, and in fact, there is nothing lacking anywhere. All of the rooms are carpeted and the hallway is laid with oilcloth. Upstairs you are in the open air, with an awning to shield you from the sun and a hammock if you would like to rest. No more tedious and delightful place to spend a week or two could be imagined; provided, of course, the boat is anchored at some of the beautiful spots of Kootenay Lake. Nowhere, perhaps, in all the Dominion of Canada is there a body of water offering to the man of the road a more attractive and such inducements as are offered anywhere on Kootenay Lake and nowhere are there more delightfully secluded places than can be found here. And it is to give visitors the opportunity of seeing all this, under most pleasant conditions, that the C. P. R. has caused to be built this house boat, which will be rented at a large rate of $20. which makes it within the reach of everyone who can afford an outing. The boat itself will rent at $5 per day, with a minimum charge of $20. All the necessary provisions and supplies do, is to stock it with eatables and drinkables. Nothing else is required by them unless they desire a servant, and this the C. P. R. officials will undertake to secure them.

CLEAR, WHITE SKINS.

By Harriet Hubbard Ayer

The following is a splendid formula for a liquid whitening: One quart water (previously boiled and strained); alcohol, 30 drops; oxide of zinc, 1 ounce; bichloride of mercury, 8 grains; glycerine, 20 drops.

Take four ounces of the water and heat it to boiling; dissolve the bichloride of mercury in this hot water, and add the alcohol. Mix the zinc and glycerine together in a bowl; pour the larger portion of the quart of water into it; then add all the diluted bichloride of mercury and alcohol. Bottle and shake always before using. Apply the liquid with a soft small velvet sponge.

A good spring medicine for clearing the skin is sulphur and molasses. Get five cents' worth of sulphur precipitate. Put two teaspoonfuls in the bottom of a glass; see that there are no lumps in it; pour six teaspoonfuls of syrup or molasses on the sulphur and stir it; take one teaspoonful of the mixture before breakfast and one just before going to bed for three days; omit for three days. Repeat and omit for three days until you have taken the preparation for nine days.

If, as well as being shiny, the skin appears greasy also, you cannot do better than bathe it twice a day with a lotion made up of: Sulphate of zinc, 10 grains; eau de Cologne, 1 ounce; rose water, 8 ounces.

Use a little good powder, and then rub gently with a piece of chamois leather; this will remove the appearance of shininess quicker than anything. Do not take food that is highly seasoned. Eat all such things as you can get the most easily digested, and have them plain and unseasoned.

Tom—Congratulate me, old chap! Miss Flynn has just presented me with the key to her heart.

Jack—Humph! It's dollars to doughnuts she will have the lock changed to-morrow.

THE NOSE TELLS ALL.

His Shape Indicates Your Character. The Nose of Fighters.
Physiognomists go so far as to assert that the nose is the key to the man's character, the index to his brain. And so many people—great employers among them—share the belief that it is almost as lucky for a child to be born with a good nose on its face as with the proverbial silver spoon in its mouth. There are noses and noses, and the artistic nose (literary men and painters have it) or should have it, the "constructive" nose peculiar to architects and engineers, and not the least important is one labeled by physiognomists "combative and organizing." This might also be called the military nose. It belongs to great commanders on sea and land and is so prominent that it cannot be mistaken. Wellington had it to an abnormal degree. In this as in other respects he has never been equaled by any other soldier. Wellington was a great believer in noses.

Napoleon also admired a good nose and was personally well endowed in that particular, but nothing like to the same extent as his vanquisher at Waterloo. Both are said to have chosen their men for important positions by the size and shape of the noses. It is not short, Wellington and Napoleon for professional purposes practiced physiognomy, which was a crime in the days of Elizabeth, when "all persons fawning to have knowledge of Physiognomy or like Fantastical Imaginations" rendered themselves liable to all manner of perils.

Even in these days we have the fighting nose at the front—where of course it should be. The finest specimen is the property of General Kelly-Kenny. It is quite Wellingtonian and gives points to Napoleon. With such a nose General Kelly-Kenny ought to go far. From his nose the physiognomist would tell you that General French is possessed of determination and perseverance. The same expert would probably describe General Sir Redvers Buller's nose as that of a "plodder," while according to Aristotle, who—versatile man—professed some knowledge of physiognomy, Lord Kitchener is "insensitive." Of all the Boer commanders in the field Louis Botha is the only one whose nose is of the military model. Notwithstanding the reverses he has suffered he is generally credited with being a very able soldier.

Lord Roberts—what of his nose? It must be confessed that it is not of the "fighting" stamp. The "face reader" would say that its owner possessed great artistic instinct. Quite right! Lord Roberts is an artist—an artist in war—London Mail.

Inhabitants of Prairie Dog Holes.
A correspondent in Kansas writes: "I observe that Mr. Ware says the prairie dogs, snakes and owls all live in the same holes. Another writer says they live in the same town, but not in the same holes. What is the straight of it?"

The straight of it is that all three do not dwell in the same holes. The error has arisen from the fact that rattlesnakes, prairie dogs and owls are found together in the same vicinity. Yet the fact remains that they are mortal enemies and that a war of extermination is waged among them. The rattlesnake seeks the prairie dog hole for the double purpose of establishing a domicile and feeding upon the young. The snake often succeeds in driving the prairie dogs out, and then it makes its home in the vacated quarters. But no sooner has the snake established itself in one hole than it is ready to watch upon the hole ready to prey upon the little snakes when they are hatched and come forth. The owl is responsible for the fact that western Kansas is not literally overrun with rattlesnakes—at least the old hunters who get close to nature will tell you so.

A Parisian Sentimentalist.
Among the odd and interesting personalities of Paris the Baroness de Repent is conspicuous. Her husband is devoted to homeless dumb animals. She keeps a small corps of bicyclists constantly in search of "waifs and strays," and all so found, whether cat, dog or other animal, are taken to enjoy her hospitality. Even the dead of their kind are not neglected. When her hired lieutenants see a dead animal by bridge or gutter, they do not throw it into the Seine or the garbage barrel, but take it to a quiet cemetery at Neuilly, where it is placed in a decent grave. Already 2,000 dogs and nearly as many cats are interred there, with flowers growing over their graves. The Baroness became imbittered toward humanity by disappointments and therefore decided to comfort her loneliness by bestowing kindness on animals, of whose gratitude she was certain.

Estimate Giants of Guam.
Were there giants in the old days in our latest possession, Guam? The present races are Melanesian and Malay, with occasional Negritos. But these men could never have built the massive forts that dot the island—forts as massive as those of Yucatan. The walls range in height from 8 to 40 feet. In one wall a cornerstone 10 feet by 2 1/2 by 6 was found 20 feet above the ground. How did the natives, who have left no trace of skill beyond a stone ax or two and an iron spearhead rear those mighty walls?

Business and the Cinematograph.
It is proposed to utilize the cinematograph for representing machinery in motion. It is expected that in this way it will become a valuable auxiliary to trade in machinery, as buyers will be able to judge of the working of a machine from the microscope without seeing the thing itself.

Don't Hesitate.

There is just one thing to use if your stomach is "out of order" and that "one thing" is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The supposition is that you want a prompt cure and a lasting cure. That is why the "Discovery" is recommended as the one thing for your condition. It cures promptly, perfectly and permanently, diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure. It has completely cured ninety-eight per cent. of all those who have given it a fair and faithful trial.

About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach. Dr. Wm. Conolly, of 555 Walnut St., Ohio, "It got so bad that I had chills and fever three days in a week, my stomach would not hold, and I would belch up gas, and was in a very bad state at such times. I have been treated by the best doctors in this city but got no help whatever. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others dyspepsia. I have bought and tried everything I saw advertised for dyspepsia and stomach trouble, but continued to get worse all the time. About twelve months ago I was in such a condition that my friends and some fear about my recovery. It was then I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint and advised the use of your Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets in connection. The medicines I have taken as directed, and an very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day since. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanses the bowels and stimulates the liver.

How He Dealt With Cowards.
In appearance Osman Pasha, the lion of Plevna, was handsome and prepossessing, looking a born leader of men. Like Napoleon, he was always distinguished by the plainness of his uniform. He had a queer habit of always, even in battle, carrying a pencil behind his ear, but end foremost. He was taciturn, grave, abrupt and disdainful of forms and etiquette. He hated all foreigners, especially Germans, Russians and English. As for war correspondents, he entertained the utmost detestation of them, whence the deeds of his army were never chronicled as they should have been. He had a strange method of dealing with cowards. He would send for them and publicly box their ears. When really angry, his rage was terrible.

After the sortie and the surrender he was seen to be weeping tears of rage and shame. He was, it may be, a little touched by the Czar Alexander II, who came up to him and said: "I congratulate you on your superb defense. It is one of the finest feats of military history."

And that is the judgment of posterity.

Locusts Good to Eat.
All native African races eat locusts. With many it takes, and has to take, the place of the British workman's beef and mutton. In a good many villages sun dried locusts are an article of commerce. The locusts are particularly good to eat.

Before they are eaten they are toasted. The wings and legs having first been torn off, the long, soft body and the crisp head form the delicacy.

I determined not to let my European prejudices influence me, but to give the dish of grilled locusts a fair trial. I thought how John the Baptist had enjoyed them plus wild honey.

The one I was eating was rather nice. I agreed with my Arab servant that, should the meat supply fall short, a dish of locusts would be a very good substitute.

By the time I was eating the second locust it seemed to me absurd that one should have a sort of lurking pity for John the Baptist's daily menu unless it be for its monotony, and I felt convinced that I should get tired of honey sooner than I should of locusts.
