GREAT LUCK

Mrs. McKinley Owns a Large Tract of Land Which Will Bring Immense Fortune.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 23.—A special to the Dispatch from Canton, O., says:

By means of a branch of the Illinois Central and an independent road of the Goulds that will penetrate great koin and soil fields lying along the Ohio river, Mrs. William McKinley will probably gain a great fortune.

She inherited a vast tract of land from her father, John McKinley, of Illinois, a territory worthless for the purpose of settlement and possessed only of rich kaolin deposits that were apparently useless, for there were no means of transportation. Now a branch line of the Illinois Central will open these kaolin fields to the main line, and the Gould interests are associated with another enterprise that will connect the fields with an eastern route.

The President's widow inherited these valuable tracts as one of the Saxon heirs. The territory was obtained by the elder Saxon, Mr. McKinley's father, after he had been inveigled into a land speculation 30 years ago. Although the deposits were rich they could not be worked. However, a group of Cincinnati capitalists has been trying to pay dividends on an adjacent kaolin tract near Rosedale, Ill. Owing to the high value of kaolin they could transport the mineral in wagons to the nearest railroad profitably.

The partial success aroused the interest of the Illinois Central officials. If kaolin could be mined with profit after the unnecessary expense of employing such a primitive means as horses and wagons, the railroad directors agreed that with a line penetrating the kaolin belt the success of the industry would be assured.

Mrs. McKinley holds a clear title to scores of square miles on which the outcroppings are even more promising than those near Rosedale, and it is probable that her lawyers will lease her possessions to one of the two railroads for a reasonable share in the profits.

Kaolin is the finest grade of china clay, and is only used in the most expensive products of American potteries.

Theatrical

McKinley Bros. Minstrels at the Grand Theatre.

FINE MINSTREL TROUPE.

There is still a tender place remaining in the heart of the theatre-goer for the old-time minstrel performance, as was manifested by the large audience which assembled in Victoria theatre last evening to witness the features offered by the McKinley Bros. Minstrel Troupe. The Company is not an over-large one, but every member is selected by reason of his special adaptability to the part he plays in the varied and well-balanced program. The first portion of the program consists of the regulation circle performance, wherein some beautiful ballads, song songs, choruses, etc., are introduced. This part contains some pleasing features, and the songs so capably rendered are all new and so acceptable that the core was repeatedly demanded. The Company possesses a remarkably well trained quartette of sweet singers in W. D. Campbell, E. P. O'Connor, H. J. Brown and L. Campbell, their different numbers were gems, and the blending of their voices was like a sweet-toned organ.

"Under the Gaspipe," a humorous monologue by Red Hoffman, was a novelty enjoyed by all. Campbell and Campbell were very entertaining in their musical sketch. These musicians are genuine artists, and render classical music with the grace and finish of masters. They have a varied collection of musical instruments on which they perform with remarkable ease.

One of the numerous specialties consists of astounding feats of axe juggling by Varin and Turenne. It is impossible to intelligently describe their many feats, tossing about light and heavy double faced axes as though they were mere toys. The equal of this pair has never been witnessed on a local stage.

The Barrelli family of acrobats have been here before, but they seem to have improved since their last appearance. Their feats were new and thrilling, and wonderful to behold. Their portion of the performance is well worth seeing, though the remainder be excluded.—Kingston Daily Whig.

"A Trip to Coneytown" Company will be a revelation to theatre-goers when it appears at the Grand Opera House here next Wednesday evening, October 29th.

This organization comprises nearly 40 of the leading colored artists of the American stage, there not being a white face in its ranks, although in its chorus are a dozen pretty young women who will be difficult to distinguish from their lighter sisters. This Company has nothing in common with what has been heretofore seen in this line, and has no rivals. The piece is a lively farce comedy and travesty in two acts and three scenes, and is made up of all the most popular features of farce, vaudeville and opera.

Our beloved order has been in existence for over twenty years, and is still doing business "at the old stand." We have paid out during that period the large sum of seven millions of dollars to the widows and orphans of our deceased brethren and we still have unbounded faith in that our Order, like our ever expanding and growing country, will move on in the pathway of progress and success.

ONE STEP MORE

Will be fatal to the sleep-walker. Will he draw back or will he take the final fatal step? A great many people are in peril like the sleep-walker. They are diseased. The disease is progressing day by day. The time comes when one more step away from health is fatal. The man who has suffered from indigestion or gastric trouble goes some night to a dinner and returns home to find he has taken that last step from health which can never be taken back.

To neglect the cure of indigestion or some other form of stomach trouble is dangerous. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood, stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and eliminates bilious poisons from the system.

The praise I would like to give your Golden Medical Discovery I cannot utter in words or describe with pen," writes Jas. B. Ambrose, Esq., of 125 1/2 Mifflin St., Huntington, Pa. "I was taken with what our physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote you, and you advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped being cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

You can get the People's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, paper covers, free by sending 31 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Camden Council.

Council met Monday Oct 6th. 1902. All members were present; last minutes were read and adopted. Accounts and communications read.

The following accounts were ordered paid: Jno. S. Farrow, sheep killed by dogs, $2.00; Chas. H. Houghton, sheep killed by dogs, $1.00; John Holmes, sheep Inspector $1.50; John King, running ferry at Kluge Crossing $20.00; Bert King, painting ferry boat, $1.00; Laird Bros., for new ferry boat, $14.00; Z. Paul, assistance on survey of George drain, $9.25; Wm. Elgie, assistance on survey of Hughes drain, $4.50; Wm. Elgie, assistance on survey of Lumsden Parlay drain, $6.00.

The reeve reported to the council that he had interviewed the ratepayers on the Stephenson Highway drain and had decided to appeal from the decision of the Referee. The council approved of the steps taken by reeve.

John Vance notified the council to put the Vance drain into a proper state of repair, notice excepted and the clerk instructed to notify the engineer.

Commissioner Paul reported the sale of the Greenwood drain. Report adopted.

By-law granting franchise to the Lambton Central Electric Ry. Co. was read third time and finally passed.

Petition from the ratepayers on the Helmsome drain, asking that the course of the drain be changed was read and entertained and the clerk instructed to notify the engineer to make an examination.

Communication from J. Coutts on behalf of David Cutler re the Mason Highway drain was read and ordered filed.

The collector submitted his security which was accepted as satisfactory and the clerk was instructed to have a bond executed and deliver the roll to the collector.

Engineer's report on Hughes tile drain was read and adopted.

A by-law imposing the rates on Camden ratepayers assessed to the Bear Creek in Dover township, was read the third time and finally passed.

Fred Lelann, made a complaint of water standing on the road, left with commissioner of division to do as he thinks best in the interest of the township.

The Court of revision on the Young Greenwood drain, was opened at two o'clock.

There were no appeals, and the engineers assessment was adopted after the court closed.

The council adjourned to meet again on Monday November 3rd 1902.

ORDERED A WIFE

Pennsylvania Man's Queer Request to New York Millinery Dealer Honored.

New York, Oct. 23.—The Sun says: The business of Johnny Miles is conducted largely with the aid of an epigram. Persons who visit his justly celebrated millinery establishment in this city are reminded by mottoes and maxims, conspicuously displayed, of the fleeting nature of time and of the proprietor's desire that his precious moments shall not be wasted by those who have no particularly pertinent observations to offer.

There is another set of placards in which Miles' genius for word painting, which is a sort of by-product of his millinery art, is easily recognized. These call attention to the frank and unmistakable terms to the superiority of Miles' merchandise and the infallibility of his business methods. It was one of the latter announcements which from time to time on his periodical visits to New York caught the eye of Charles L. Martin, a substantial tradesman of Girard, Pa., and a purchaser of Miles' spring and fall bonnets. It read:

"Most merchants have three hands, right hand, left hand and a little behindhand. We have only two, right and left. We are never behindhand. We pride ourselves on our prompt shipments."

It was with this assurance of prompt attention to the wants of customers in mind that Martin on Monday mailed the following communication:

My Dear Mr. Miles—This is rather a peculiar order in your line, but I will most sincerely appreciate any assistance you may be able to give me, and thanks in advance.

Can you give me the address of some poor but respectable milliner to-day who has no home, "but would like one?" No objection to distance. Must have dark hair, brown or black, and—Protestant, American, English, Spanish—must understand trimming and be a first class saleslady. Age between 25 and 45 years, and not over five feet in height. One who can give reference as to character, etc., possessing good disposition. (No flirts need apply). Money and good home for the right one. No objection to widow with one child, but don't want a dozen!

You can give me a list of ladies to whom I have referred in the past. I have dealt with you before. Now can you give me a list of ladies to whom I have referred in the past. I have dealt with you before. Now can you give me a list of ladies to whom I have referred in the past.

I am also an heir to an estate in the courts of London, England, and heir to an estate here in America.

I am all alone and lonesome. Happiness is superior to wealth for me. She must not weigh over 170 pounds. Hoping you may be able to give me the address of a number, and thanking you again, I am, yours sincerely,

CHARLES L. MARTIN.

Miles, following the methodical bent of his mind, had the letter copied and referred it to the proper department. This department is down stairs from the main salesroom, and it is not less than 125 young women, who are employed in the millinery, who are engaged in arranging feathers, flowers, lace and fur, according to the well-matured designs of Miles.

It was agreed that a great deal depended on the attractiveness of the reply which was to be sent to Martin, so 30 girls were willing to entertain sealed proposals with the correspondence clerk upstairs and asked him, as an expert, to compose this answer. Here it is:

Dear Sir, Your favor of 20th inst. rec'd. Would say in reply that we shall be pleased to submit samples as per memorandum attached. Goods shipped at risk of consignee. Return references to be paid by West. Waiting further instructions, we remain, yours truly.

Miles is confident that a transaction with Martin will be closed within a few days.

"We've got some goods on the bargain counter that will just about fill the bill," was his sage comment.

MORE BUILDING

Wm. Baby is without doubt a very enterprising citizen. His latest move is the purchase of the Lamont Block and back to the river at a reasonable figure. The block is situated near the Third street bridge and contains Tyrrell's music store, the All Saints' Hall and two flats. The large frame buildings at the rear Mr. Baby has temporarily rented to Quinn & Patterson for implements. Some time ago Mr. Baby purchased the corner lot adjacent to his present purchase. It is his intention, if prohibition is not established, to put up a large seventy-five thousand dollar hotel. He owns the opposite corner, where he is building a large $7,000 grocery. Besides these properties he has purchased a large double frame house on Forsythe street which is being overhauled in every way, putting large verandas around it and fitting it up with furnaces and bath rooms. Then his other purchase, the Taft Block, is undergoing a great change, large spacious basements, new mahogany fronts, etc.

When a girl is engaged to three fellows at once she shouldn't lack excitement.
