

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 5, 1893.

The School Board.

The first meeting of the board of school commissioners for the town met at the firemen's room last Friday afternoon.

Funeral of Kenneth E. Bishop.

The funeral of Kenneth E. Bishop on Saturday afternoon last was very largely attended. Appropriate services were held at the residence and were continued at the Baptist church.

Various News Notes.

The new trial of the Weltons and Dr. Randall, in the graveyard insurance case, has been set for May 15th.

The membership of the Baptist church in Kentville has increased since the beginning of the present year.

One of a number of French Canadians who have returned to Quebec from the New England States says that there are fifty thousand Canadians preparing to return to Canada.

Sir John Thompson, under date of April 13th, has written to Solicitor-General Curran, expressing the hope that the work of the Behring Sea arbitration tribunal, award and all, will be finished by the first of June.

An exchange says:—A Farmer's club union has been formed at Aylesford, N. S., with a membership of 60 or 70 persons. They have bought together a half cent of feed and flour in Gaspé and $350 worth of grain seed in Toronto, and report that the co-operation plan of buying is a good one.

The wife of Captain Roberts, of the White Star steamship Narovic, which has been missing since Feb. 11, and the wife of Chief Officer Wright, who was second in command to Captain Roberts on the Narovic, have both gone insane through despair caused by the loss of their husbands, and have had to be placed in an asylum for the insane.

The British tar got a lion's share of the applause awarded to the foreigners at the land parade in New York, and the New York papers generally admit that they presented a better appearance even than Uncle Sam's marines. This is probably the case and the admission indicates that the Britishers are a long way ahead of the representatives of any other power.

A Convention of the Liberal party is to take place at Ottawa on the 20th of June next. It promises to be one of the most interesting events of the year, so far as Canada is concerned. It is stated that one of the objects of the convention will be to formulate a policy which the Liberals all over the country may fight upon and through which they may fight their way to power.

The store owned and occupied by A. Bigelow & Son, at Stewiacke Station, was discovered to be on fire at midnight on Sunday, and was totally destroyed. While the fire was in progress a quantity of powder exploded and blew the roof and whole front of the building to atoms.

Mr. Bigelow and others who were engaged to save the stock were in great danger, but fortunately escaped with a few bruises. The loss is estimated at $4,000 to $5,000, and there was $1,800 insurance. Mr. Bigelow is a native of this county, living formerly at Perce.

The Falmouth Dykes gave way a fortnight ago to-day (Tuesday), at the upper abutment, opposite the farm of Mr. John Lawrence. Where the break occurred is about four miles up the river, and caused considerable damage, flooding the dykes of several owners. About forty men repaired the dyke, but it gave way again, and renewed efforts were made last Saturday night, the men working until early Sunday morning. This time they were successful, and some extra work is being done to secure the dyke from further encroachment riverward.

The Legislature of Prince Edward Island has again passed a bill abolishing both the Legislative Council and the House of Assembly, and henceforth the Legislature will consist of one house only, one half of the thirty members of which will be chosen by electors possessing a real estate qualification to the extent of $375, and the other half will be elected by manhood suffrage. The constitution of the Legislature and the franchise is not to be changed hereafter except by a two-thirds vote of the body created by the act. The question of the prohibition of the liquor traffic is to be submitted to a plebiscite.

If you are free from indigestion you need not fear cholera. If you are not free you are in danger. K. D. C. will free you from both indigestion and cholera.

Man's Dual Nature. The practice of putting a man's private virtues against his public sins, in obituary estimates, tends, in the opinion of the Watchman, to confuse moral distinctions. A man's character is not built like an ocean steamship in watertight compartments. Each man's life is a unity. There is an underlying principle which explains both his private and public life and until we apprehend that, we do not know the man. We are quite familiar with the human type which is all sanctity in public and very far from a saint in private. Just now, however, another type is evolving, namely, that of the man who is all hardness and avarice and self-seeking in public, but who in an angelic moment he crosses his threshold and gets on his dressing gown and slippers.

Man's Dual Nature. In his report on the trade and finances of Jamaica, Sir Henry Blake, the governor, reports the percentage of imports from the several countries as follows: United Kingdom, 49; United States, 37.2; Canada, 10.4; other countries, 3.4. This shows a decrease in the trade with the United Kingdom, and an increase with the United States and Canada. The importations from Canada have been gradually increasing, and there is no doubt in Sir Henry Blake's mind that this is to some extent due to the representation of that colony at the Jamaica exhibition. The exports were distributed as follows: United Kingdom, 32.7 per cent.; United States, 50.9; Dominion of Canada, 5.5; other countries, 12.7.

The visit of the Blake and two or three others of the regular British North American squadron from Halifax caused a great sensation in the naval parade at New York and comparisons are being made between them and the "navies" of Great Britain. It is quite a number of much heavier war-ships than the Blake, but we trust our neighbors may never need to make their acquaintance in what might be termed a professional capacity.

Donahoe's Magazine for May. Donahoe's Magazine for May is the brightest and most interesting number yet issued of this valuable and entertaining periodical, and this is saying a great deal when we consider the meteoric fashion in which this monthly has flashed into the front ranks of American periodicals. Among its special features this month are: "Through the World's Fair in an Hour," illustrated by Commissioner E. C. Hovey; "The Sacrifice of the Shop Girl," by Mary E. O'Sullivan; "The Catholic in Politics," by Thomas C. Quinn; "The Sisters in the Civil War," by Charles S. O'Neil; "Thirty Years of Ireland's Battle," by Hon. John F. Finerty; "The American Standard," illustrated by Henry Austin; "The Knights of Columbus," illustrated by Thomas W. Cummings; "Suppressing Dangerous Books," by Rev. Charles Warren Carrier; "Round About Pittsburgh," illustrated by Bayard Bradford and a discussion, "Should Married Women Work?" In fiction there are contributions by James Hall, Jr., and Joseph M. Burgoyne, while there are poems by George Russell Jackson, Eugene Davis, Mary Theresa West, Katherine E. Conway, Rev. A. B. O'Neil, C. S. C., Godfrey Egmont, Arlo Bates, Rev. Mortimer Edward Twomey, Cona Stuart Wheeler and John S. Browning. Donahoe's Magazine Company, publishers, Boston.

Funeral of Kenneth E. Bishop.

The funeral of Kenneth E. Bishop on Saturday afternoon last was very largely attended. Appropriate services were held at the residence and were continued at the Baptist church, which was filled with friends of the deceased, anxious to pay their last respects. The services began with the beautiful hymn, "My Jesus Knows," sung by a quartette consisting of Misses Fitch and Wallace and Messrs Wallace and Leonard. Rev. Dr. Higgins then read the 90th Psalm, and Rev. Mr. Martell offered prayer. The hymn, "Asleep in Jesus," was then sung, after which Dr. Higgins gave an appropriate address, taking for his text 1 Cor. 15:57—"But thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." The quartette sang the anthem, "Cast Thy Burden on the Lord," and at the close of the service with the audience was passing out of the church, "No More Good-byes." Wolfville Division and the Wolfville Fire Co., both of which societies the deceased was a member of, attended and marched in the procession from the church to the grave where appropriate services were held. The floral offerings were profuse and very pretty—showing, to some extent, the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Among them we may make special mention of a wreath furnished by the Fire Co. and a handsome offering by the teachers of the Baptist Sabbath school. The family wish, through the ACADIAN, to thank all those who by their sympathy and in other ways have assisted in their time of deep bereavement.

County Court.

The spring session of the county court was opened at Kentville on Tuesday by Judge J. P. Chipman, only the local barristers being present. After a few motions were disposed of or set down for future hearing, the docket was begun.

De Wolfe vs. Kinsman, an appeal case, was by consent left to be decided in Chambers; Beckwith vs. Woodworth was ordered to be tried on Friday, and Burdige vs. Ellis on Thursday. Stronach vs. Ward was postponed to May 22d.

In the Queen vs. Hushin and their appeal suit, the appeal was allowed on default, as no one appeared for the plaintiff.

Ferguson vs. Bishop was then argued. In this a judgment had been taken against the defendant in the magistrate's court, but more than six years had elapsed since taken. The defence was that the statute of limitation was a bar to the plaintiff's claim, and that the judgment given was not of a court of record. E. B. Copwell for plaintiff and T. R. Robertson for defendant. Judgment reserved.

The case of Smith vs. Overseers of the Poor Union came up and lasted all the rest of the day and was not ended until Wednesday afternoon. Several witnesses were examined. Judgment reserved.

The next case called was Porter vs. Williams and was not finished when the court adjourned that night. There are several cases yet to be heard, and it is probable that the court will be sitting all the week.

Kentville News.

William Eaton, Town Clerk, has been very low with pneumonia for a week, and the citizens of the town were startled on Wednesday afternoon by hearing that he died about 4 o'clock. A great deal of sympathy has been expressed for the bereaved family. Kentville has lost a citizen and an official whose place cannot be filled.

Mr. J. A. Grierson left here last week for Weymouth, where he has now opened an office for practice.

Mr. William Carter died very suddenly at Kentville on Sunday. While in a fit of coughing he burst a blood vessel. He had been suffering from a grippe for some time but had not been considered dangerous. The funeral was on Tuesday. Mr. Carter was worthy pastor of the division here.

Monahua Lodge, I. O. G. T., are making great preparations for their Fishing Excursion in Margeson's Hall on Friday night, May 6th.
