

MISS CAROLYN CORLIES BAILY.

She was married to Theodore Mitchell Hastings recently at Bryn Mawr, Pa., in the Church of the Redeemer. Miss Baily is one of the most popular young women in society. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Baily, of "Clovertown," Ardmore, Pa.

NEGRO BURNED ALIVE AT STAKE.

Had Attempted to Assault Woman--Never Whimpered When Flames Licked Him.

Rockwell, Texas, March 8.—After burning Anderson Ellis, a negro who attempted to assault Mrs. Arthur McKinney, at a stake in the public square of this little town late last night, the crowd quickly dispersed. Ellis was taken from the Rockwell county jail and securely tied to an iron stake, then cordwood saturated with kerosene was piled about him, and upon his refusal to make a statement beyond admitting his guilt in the presence of Mrs. McKinney, who fully identified him as her assailant, the torch was applied. As the flames licked about his man did not utter a cry nor show any symptoms of losing his nerve. He was dead in less than ten minutes.

Authorities in the chase after the negro. The search continued through Friday and Saturday. Yesterday a posse arrived at the farm house of Andrew Clarke, a negro farmer. Demand was made to search the premises on the supposition that the negro Ellis was there in hiding. Upon their refusal the inmates were commanded to surrender, and two negroes were seen running from the rear of the house. Shots were fired, and one of the men, Will Clark, son of the farmer, was killed. The other negro, now known to be Ellis, escaped for the time being, but bloodhounds were put on his track, and about 5 o'clock last evening he was surrounded at a farm house three miles south of Caddo Mills. Ellis was armed, and made desperate resistance, but he emptied his weapon at the posse without effect. He was wounded twice, and quickly closing in, the posse overpowered him and tied him securely. He was then hustled off to jail, but when it became generally known that he was a prisoner, determined men overpowered the jailors and obtained the key. The burning at the stake quickly followed.

SHOT HIMSELF Had Forced His Sister to Elope to New York.

Husband Goes Back to Italy Heart Broken.

Chicago, March 8.—Frank Serino was shot and killed yesterday because a week ago, according to his slayer, he held a revolver to the head of Mrs. Josie Fresco, 19 years old, a bride of ten days, and forced her to elope with him to New York city. Serino's slayer was the brother of Mrs. Fresco, Michael Pessalano, 20 years old.

CRUEL DEATH.

Baby Upset Pot of Scalding Tea on Face and Body.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., March 8.—Muriel Murray, the fourteen months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murray, Barriefield, met a terrible death on Saturday night. The family were at supper shortly after six o'clock, when the baby, tugging at the table cloth, upset a pot of scalding tea on her face and body. Terrible injuries, both internal and external, resulted. The suffering infant died four hours later from shock.

SORRY FOR HIM.

Rev. Dr. Workman Preached Instead of Rev. Mr. Jackson. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, March 8.—Rev. Dr. Workman, who replaced Rev. Mr. Jackson as preacher at the anniversary service in Brock Street Methodist Church yesterday, made this slight reference to the Jackson-Carman controversy. "We are all sorry," he said, "that Mr. Jackson is prevented from being here to-day because of sickness and trouble, and we all sympathize with him in his trouble, without saying which side of the controversy we take."

MISS FLORENCE ABLE TO TESTIFY

But it is Very Doubtful if Mrs. Kinrade Will be Able to Stand the Ordeal on Wednesday.

Detective Miller Here Again To-day, But Has Little to Say--No New Facts Brought to Light.

It is announced definitely to-day that Miss Florence Kinrade will be able to attend and give her evidence at the inquest over the death of her sister, Ethel, on Wednesday night. Miss Kinrade has improved a great deal since going to Toronto. Care has been taken to keep her mind off the tragedy as much as possible. In order to ascertain if it would be wise to have her give evidence on Wednesday evening, an examination was made by two eminent physicians from the Mimico Asylum yesterday—men accustomed to dealing with mental troubles of all kinds—Dr. Clark and Smith. They examined Miss Kinrade in the presence of the nurse, Miss Walker, and Detective Miller, Provincial officer, who was in the Kinrade apartments at the Arlington. The physicians were quite satisfied with Miss Kinrade's condition, physically and mentally. The ordeal through which she has passed has been a terrible one, but rest, quietness and good care have benefited her greatly, and she will be here on Wednesday, unless something unforeseen happens. Mrs. Kinrade has been subpoenaed for the same night, but it is doubtful if her condition will permit of her being examined. She is in a bad state, physically, and any reference to the murder of her daughter completely prostrates her. Eleven days of constant mental and physical strain have told upon Mr. Kinrade also. From the very first he has tried to look upon the fearful tragedy as calmly as possible, and has given every assistance in his power to the police in an effort to get at the bottom of the tragedy. He has given his consent to every suggestion made by the detectives, even at times when the condition of Miss Florence might have furnished him good reason for refusing. But the strain is telling. An intimate Hamilton friend who saw him in Toronto yesterday says the lines on his face have deepened and he has aged quite a bit. No one is more anxious to have the mystery solved and the good name of his family vindicated.

EIGHT BULLETS. It is a fairly well established fact now that there were eight bullets in the murdered girl's body. This still further complicates the affair. If it is a fact that several shots were fired at Miss Florence Kinrade, which the police do not think is the case, it would mean that the murderer must have used two weapons. Even if no more than the eight were fired, there must have been two weapons or a modern automatic revolver. A statement that has been made that automatics are not made in 32 calibre is not correct. There are a number of 32-calibre automatics in town. They hold ten to twelve cartridges. The theory that 15 minutes elapsed between the firing of the first and last shots is also confirmed, it is said, by the medical examination. The doctors who made the autopsy will not discuss the subject, but they say there will be nothing of a sensational nature in the medical evidence at the inquest. Provincial Detective Miller is here (Continued on Page 10.)

Attacked Near Home

Man With Long Knife Set Upon Young Girl.

If any further proof of the fact that there are a lot of bad characters around the streets of Hamilton were wanted it was furnished last night by the attack made upon Miss Katie Burkholder, daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Burkholder, of H. M. Customs. Miss Burkholder, a girl of 17, was on her way home from James Street Baptist Church between 8.20 and 8.30 in the evening, and had almost reached her home, 87 Augusta street. She was passing a lane in rear of Mr. Adam Ballentine's stable when a man rushed out and grabbed her around the throat and, brandishing a long knife, exclaimed: "Don't scream or I'll stab you." The suddenness and force of the attack carried Miss Burkholder to her knees, but she screamed and the man ran. Then she ran to her home, less than 100 feet away. She was in a state of nervous collapse and Dr. Bingham was summoned. The collar and shoulder of her dress were torn and the marks of her assailant's fingers were clearly seen on her neck. She was prostrated for several hours, but was better again this morning. The police were at once notified, but could do little, for Miss Burkholder could give no description of the man at all. She did not see his face, as he attacked her from the back, but she saw a long knife, the blade about six inches in length, gleaming in the moonlight. The affair took place within 100 feet of an electric light, and the clear, full moon added its light, making the scene of the assault bright enough to have read a newspaper without difficulty.

NEGRO NEEDED THREE SHOCKS.

Murderer in the Electric Chair at Sing Sing This Morning.

Took Ten Minutes to Shock Him to Death.

Killed Man He Worked With in a Livery Stable.

Oswining, N. Y., March 8.—Wm. Jones, a negro, was put to death in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison this morning. He was brought into the death chamber shortly before six o'clock, attended by the Rev. S. E. Jones, the prison chaplain. The first contact, consisting of 1840 volts 8 1/2 amperes, was kept on a minute and five seconds. After a hasty examination the current was turned on and kept on for six seconds. An examination showed a third shock to be necessary. It lasted six seconds and at its close, ten minutes after the first shock was given, the man was declared dead.

William Jones killed Llewellyn Bunn in Hempstead, L. I., on September 1st, 1907. The two men were employed in a livery stable, and on the day of the murder they were drinking in a negro resort in Hempstead. They parted and Jones went to a baseball game, while Bunn returned to the stable. Jones returned at 6 o'clock that evening and the two men again quarrelled. Jones whipped out a revolver and shot and killed Bunn.

IDENTIFIED BY BROTHER.

Girl Who Jumped From Bridge Was Probably Insane.

Nicholas Koelanske, 32 Locke street south, was horrified on Saturday evening to be told that the woman who took the terrible drop to death from the high level bridge was his young sister. Budimir Protich carried him the sad information. The well-known interpreter viewed the body, and although he knew the face he did not know the name of the girl. He set out to hunt for foreigners with missing relatives or friends. At first sight of the girl Protich decided that the girl was Polish, and this narrowed down his investigation somewhat. He found Nicholas Koelanske, at last, and he was rather nervous at the absence of his sister, who had not shown up since she started to go to work at the Tuckett cigar factory this morning. He said she had been acting rather queerly for the past few weeks. She had been out here only one year. Protich got a description of the man's missing sister, and this assured him that it was she who had killed herself that morning. He had killed herself that morning. He took the man to the morgue, and he identified her. There was a most pathetic scene in the morgue when the man saw his bruised and battered sister laid out cold in death.

GOING BACK.

Mr. Samuel Dornan Left For Northwest To-day.

Mr. Samuel Dornan left by the 12.25 train to-day for Watrous, Sask., where he and his sons took up three quarter-sections of land, 480 acres, a couple of years ago. Mr. Dornan will look after the seeding and summer work, also the harvesting, and expects to be back home here for Christmas. Watrous is 400 miles or a little more beyond Winnipeg, and his land is fine rolling prairie, off which he has already taken two good crops. When he went up one year ago there was only one building at Watrous, and when he left in December there were 200. The G. T. P. has a station there.

BLAME WHISKEY FOR HIS INSANITY

Welland Man Who "Shot-Up" Hardware Store Received Bullet Himself.

Mr. J. W. Lamoreaux, Secretary-Treasurer of the Tuckett & Sons Company, and a member of the Board of Education of this city, had an experience on Saturday with a man with a gun, that was anything but pleasant, although Mr. Lamoreaux came through it without harm. He was in the hardware store of Blake & Booth, at Welland, when a young man entered and asked to be shown a revolver. Mr. Booth gave him one and he then asked for cartridges, which were also given him, and he proceeded to load the weapon. Having done this, the young man seemed to be seized with a reckless spirit, which alarmed Mr. Lamoreaux and the clerk. Mr. Lamoreaux asked him to remove the cartridges again, as he was acting in such a way as to cause alarm. The young fellow refused, and word was sent to a constable, who was close at hand, to come and arrest the man. Just then another man, George Boyd, arrived on the scene. The man with the revolver ordered all three to retire to the back of the store, and said he would shoot if they did not obey. Instead of doing so, however, they grabbed the man and endeavored to take the revolver from him. While they were doing so he pulled the trigger three times; but the three men held their hands so that he could not shoot any of them, and the three charges were discharged without doing any harm. The constable, who had arrived in a few minutes took the prisoner to the lock-up, and he was afterwards remanded to Welland jail for trial this morning. He proved to be Harvey Jones, a young man of the town, aged 19. What first made Mr. Lamoreaux and Mr. Booth suspicious was Jones' peculiar method of measuring the revolver, using a plug of tobacco to do it. One of the bullets passed close to Mr. Lamoreaux's leg and was embedded in the counter. INSANITY THE PLEA. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Welland, Ont., March 8.—Poster Jones, who tried to shoot up Booth's hardware store at 10.30 on Saturday night, appeared before Police Magistrate Burgar this morning at ten o'clock, and at the request of Crown Attorney Cowper, was remanded for a week. "I will not offer any evidence," said Mr. Cowper, "until this youth has been examined as to his sanity." Chief Jones made a remarkable announcement when he informed the court that Jones was carrying about a bullet in his thigh. When George Boyd sprang to grab him, Jones made a hurried move to get a revolver from his hip pocket. The weapon exploded just as it was drawn from the pocket. The bullet pierced his trousers in the back just below the band and entered the flesh. Had it gone through Boyd would have been hit in the stomach, for while he was standing directly in front, Jones has lived in Welland for six months and is nineteen years old. Cigarettes, whiskey and dime novels have deranged his mind.

IS CONSCIOUS NOW AND IMPROVING.

Harry Smith's Chances Good--His Assailant's Chances of Escape Good, Also.

Rumors about the serious condition of Constable Harry Smith were on every lip on Saturday and Sunday. He was reported to be sinking, and one rumor had it that his death was hourly expected. Encouraging bulletins from the City Hospital, however, continue, and to-day it was stated by the authorities there that the popular police officer was a little better. He is quite conscious and cheerful, but is not allowed to receive visitors. At times he suffers a good deal, but he has a good, strong constitution and that is a great deal in his favor. The police have as yet no trace of his assailant.

It is thought that with this fairly clear description the police may be able to do something towards clearing away the mystery surrounding the shooting. The local detectives have full charge. Detective Miller is working on the Kinrade case only. NOT THE MAN. E. G. Brown, a florist on Wentworth street north, thought he had a call from the man who did the shooting on Thursday night, but it has since been discovered that the man who visited him and walked off with a supply of tools was not the shooter. Thursday afternoon a man went into his yard and walked to the tool shed. He was seen coming out of the shed a few moments later by Mr. Brown's brother who held him up and questioned him. The man did not apparently have anything belonging to the establishment, so Mr. Brown let him go. A short time afterwards a chisel, a pair of pinners, a plane and a wrench were missed from the shed when they were wanted. The police were notified at once, and seeing that the list of missing articles contained a chisel, they asked Mr. Brown to call at the police office and have a look at the one which the burglar had left behind him, when he made his escape from the Kapelle yard. That chisel did not look at all like his, however. Mr. Brown's tools were later recovered in a second hand shop on John street south, where they had been sold for a trifling part of their value by a man answering the description of the person who visited the tool shed on Thursday. This man is thought to be one of the many tramps living on pilfering and sneak thieving of a small variety.

NO SHOOTING.

Exaggerated Report of the Dundas Italian Labor Case.

Dundas, March 8.—(Special)—"Sago" Aitchison was arraigned before Mayor Lawrason this morning on a charge of breaking into the residence of Miss Howell, in the west end, one day last week. He was committed for trial. Aitchison is a Dundas man, who has hung around the town for years, looked upon as his own worst enemy. This is the first crime charged against him. Mayor Lawrason and Chief Twiss are greatly annoyed over the report in the Globe of this morning of the trial of the two Italians from the Doolittle & Wilcox quarry. There was no shooting in connection with this case. It was simply disorderly conduct, the men being arrested more to prevent a demonstration than anything else.

MAD AS A HATTER.

Riot Growing Out of a Strike in a Hat Factory.

Woodbine, N. J., March 8.—Several persons were injured to-day in a riot growing out of a strike in the hat factory here, when a crowd of about 400 set upon a dozen workmen who had not left their jobs. Stones, bricks and other missiles were thrown. During the rioting a revolver was fired and Abraham Willert, one of the men attacked, was struck with a brick hurled by some one in the crowd of rioters and rendered unconscious. Several others were hit by missiles before they succeeded in getting clear of their assailants, but none were seriously injured. When the disturbance had been quelled the shop was closed down for the day.

RHODES SCHOLAR.

McMaster's First One a Woodstock Young Man.

Toronto, Ont., March 8.—Morden H. Long, B. A., a graduate of 1908, was announced to-day McMaster University's Rhodes scholar by direct appointment. Ralph Bellamy, B. A., a graduate of 1903, was appointed at Alberta's first Rhodes scholar, but Mr. Long is the first man to go direct from McMaster to Oxford. Mr. Long is a son of Mr. Ralph Long, confectioner, of Woodstock, and is but 22 years of age. He is at present attending the Provincial Normal College at Calgary, Alta.

VETERAN HURT.

Belleville, Ont., March 8.—News has been received here that Arthur Bolyea, the member of the First Canadian contingent who was court-martialed for capturing a Boer chicken, was run over by a motor car in Detroit and seriously hurt.

THE UNWRITTEN LAW.

Belleville, March 8.—There will be a murder trial at the Assizes which open here to-morrow. Thomas Smart, a young Mohawk Indian, is charged with killing his step-grandfather, James Sero, W. L. Herrington, of Napusne, will defend. It is said the "unwritten law" will play a part in the defence, the murdered man having been intimate, it is alleged, with the prisoner's sister.
