EXTRAORDINARY FACT .- The Cincinnati Enquirer gives the following account of a singularly romantic episode in life which occurred recently : About six years since, a lady named Mrs. Martha Wood, accompanied by her son, his wife, and a couple of children, arrived in this city from New Bodford; Mass. She stated that she was a widow of some twentyfour years' standing, her husband having lost been mate of a whaler which had been at sea. The family have resided for a great er portion of the time on Liberty Street, Mr. Wood, the son, working at his trade, which is that of a cooper.

Yesterday morning, a gray-headed and toil-worn man called at the residence of the family, and seeing Mr. Wood, inquired for the widow, who being called into the room, while gazing intently at the stranger, whose eyes were fixed mournfully upon her, requested to know his business. " Do you not know me, Martha?" said he, and as the sound of his voice, like the memory of an olden melody, met her ear, she gave vent to a hysterical cry and fainted in the arms which were opened to receive her.

New-Bedford was cast away in the South whispered to her, while tears of love succeeded, after thirty years' absence, in reaching his native land. From a brother of his wife, he learned their location, and arrived here to find her whom he had left a young and blooming bride far advanced in the evening of life, while the infant upon whose lips, when last he saw him, he had imprinted a father's kiss, and who could then scarcely 40,000 SUPERIOR GERMAN CIGARS received by the Subscriber on Consignment, and for sale at his Auction Mart, corner of Queen and Water Breets.

A TRIBUTE TO THE ST. LAWRENCE. -A correspondent of the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer pays the following eloquent tribute to the River St. Lawrence:-

A river where every mile of its shore is thronged with the wild or beautiful a river which begins in giant size and re tains it, augments it, till it goes out in the gloomy grandeur of the Northern Guifa river which now in broken waves leaves the gloaming granite edge of its islands and inlets, more numerous than were the legends by which the oriental story-teller beguiled the anger of the Sultan, and then breathes out in lakes, each one of breadth and volume sufficient to be a famous thing in itsown right—a river which woke the melody of Moore, and on which Wolfe floated to to his fight of victory-a river such as this will always be a chosen pathway for the tens of thousands of all lands who travel to see the bold and the

About six times the usual amount of winter wheat, it is said, has been sown in West 2n Mis; souri this year.

The best and most conclusive reason for an effect, that we ever remember to have heard, writes a western correspondent, was one given by a one-idea Dutchman, in reply to a friend who remarked, "Why, Hans, you have the most feminine cast of countenance I have ever seen." "Oh, well," was the reply; "I know de reason for dat; mine moder was a woman."

" A BOLD STROKE FOR A HUSBAND." —A new method is now adopted, by la-dies of a "certain age," to obtain life-partdies of a "certain age," to obtain life-part-ners. An intellectual, pleasant looking, prettily dressed female, just turned of thirty, invests twenty-five cents in a daguerrotype for her own sweet self, which she carefully drops on the sidewalk of a crowded street. Somebody picks it up; finds out the owner -and marries her of course!

Upon the conclusion of a marriage in a village church, the bridegroom signed the register with "his X mark.', The pretty young bride did the same, and The tale is soon told. The Great American Hair Tonic.

Bogle's celebrated Hyperion Fluid, for the growth and preservation of the Hair is well known to be with-out a rival on this continent. Hundreds of imitations have started into an ephemeral existence, since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair restorative, and have started into an ephomeral existence, since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair restorative, and their doom been sealed, whilst Bogle's Hyperion Hair Fluid, with a popularity never attained by any other article, goes on "conquering and to conquere." There is no malady, which can affect the Hair, but can be cured by this incomparable preparation. To ladies it is invaluable; and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of Hair. It is now partronized by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and commands an extensive sale throughout Europe. Bogle's Electric Hair Dye converts red or grey hair into a beautiful black or brown, the moment it is applied, literally dyeing the hair without staining the skin and leaves the Hair soft and glossy without injuring its texture in the least; a decided superiority over all other Hair dyes.

Bogle's Anole Shaving compound renders that usually unpleasant operation (shaving) a decided luxury.
