Imperial Conference.

The cable news to-day reports that the attempt of the British Government to form some central Imperial Organization of a permanent nature has failed. Mr. Harcourt, the Secretary for the Colonies, has withdrawn the Government scheme, as Canada and South Africa were not in sympathy with it. The membership proposed was the Secretary of the Colonies, some Colonial Office heads, and the High Commissioners of the Colonies. Their functions were to be purely advisory. The time is apparently not ripe for any such step, and it was withdrawn as it was not unanimously acceptable.

If a small step towards Imperial centralization, in the way of a permanent consulting body, is not acceptable, the establishment of any body with powers of control for purposes of providing defence for the whole Empire would be much less acceptable. At present the only course practicable appears to be periodical conference for exchange of views, and the strengthening of the sentiment of affection and loyalty for the King, which is at present the real tie which binds the Empire together. This sentiment will doubtless be further nurtured by the Coronation ceremonies and the visit of the King to parts of the Empire.

International Hyma.

(Tune, America; or God Save The King.)

Two empires by the sea,
Two nations great and free,
One anthem raise,
One race of ancient fame,
One tongue, one faith, we claim,
One God, whose glorious name
We love and praise.

What deeds our fathers wrought,
What battles we have fought,
Let fame record.

Now vengeful passion, cease,
Come, victories of peace;
Nor hate nor pride's caprice
Unsheath the sword.

Though deep the sea and wide
Twixt realm and realm, its tide
Binds strand to strand.
So be the gulf between
Grey coasts and islands green,
With bonds of peace serene
And friendship spanned.

Now, may the God above
Guard the dear lands we love,
Both East and West.
Let love more fervent glow,
As peaceful ages go,
And strength yet stronger grow,
Blessing and blest.
—GEORGE HUNTINGTON.

Senate a Place of Peril

The United States Senate is a practically a good thing for the doctors. Being a Senator is one of the most wearing jobs that a man could ever find. If the truth be told about it the reason so many senators have died in the last few months is that being a Senator is a deadly occupation.

During the last weeks of the tariff session a census of the Senate was made by two of its members, who reported that over half its members were regularly under the care of physicians. Bad nerves, bad stomachs, loss of sleep, overwork, close confinement in offices and ill-ventilated Senate chambers constituted the basis of the trouble. The average Senator rises to big responsibilities, important committee places, etc., at about the age when other men are laying down the most enormous demands on their time. The burdens grow heavier as the men become less able easily to bear them.

But there will continue to be plenty of comfortably fixed old gentlemen applying for the toga just the same.—Washington Times.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its forms can be Cured.
It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion, I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden."

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles can be obtained at

Items of Interest From Montreal.

A troupe of eighty men and officers of the North West Mounted Police stayed over here a couple of days last week on their way to take part in the Coronation. Mayor Guerin asked them to give an exhibition of their drill; this they did in Lafontaine Park on the afternoon of the 25th ult. They left for England the next day.

There was a record docket before Mr. Recorder Dupuis on the morning of the 29th. There were no fewer than 103 men, to say nothing of 24 boys, arraigned before the bar on that morning. This is the record for Montreal.

The first of over 5,000,000 passengers was killed on the scenic railway at Dominion Park, on Sunday, the 29th. A Mr. Underwood stepped off a moving train and was instantly killed.

Season's Most Popular Books

GERTRUDE PAGE'S GREAT NOVEL.

WINDING PATHS.—In it the author has made special studies of three women characters, with the same vivid and entertaining skill which has so graphically described the wild, fresh life of the Rhodesia Veldt.

THE KING OVER THE WATER.—J. H. MCCARTHY. A story that is full of stirring episodes; is also essentially a love story, the hero, a gallant Irish soldier, and heroine a wandering Princess.

MRS. THOMPSON.—W. B. MAXWELL. This is a purely realistic novel, in which the author traces step by step the life of a woman of strong character, temperament and emotions.

SOME HAPPENINGS OF GLEN-DALYNE.—D. CONYERS. The novel contains the fascinating mystery of a lost heir, who is found by the heroine, and her love story gives the book an additional interest.

MOLL O' THE TOLL BARD.—T. WILSON WILSON. A stirring tale of romance and adventure in Cumberland during the rough starvation days of the Napoleonic Wars, when law and order in country districts was as the people made it.

ALL THE WORLD WANDERED.—L. MERRICK. For those whose interest in theatrical life goes deeper than its "make up" the value of his new book is not limited to the fact that it tells a bright and highly unconventional tale.

BURNING DAYLIGHT.—J. LONDON. Mr. London's work is always excellent, the characters one and all, have the breath of life. No reader who loves a good story will be disappointed.

JANE OGLANDER.—MRS. B. LOUNGES. This is a story of exceptional power and exceptional charm. It deals in rich emotional material with a fine, artistic restraint.

THE VOW.—PAUL TRENT. Is the thrilling story of a man who made as rash a vow as "Jeppiah" and kept it, although it meant his exposure as a financier.

ed. On the day before two persons were killed by street cars. A little girl, Rhea Dessault, of the Immaculate Mary School, whilst going a message for her teacher tried to rush across the track, but was cut down and killed instantly. In the same way an unknown man was injured and died an hour later in the Hospital.

Keeping up to their reputation for endeavouring to make miserable the lives of students the Faculty of Applied Science have raised the Pass Mark from 40 per cent. to 50 per cent. The Summer School Exams in that Faculty are just over, and "gee whiz! I wish they hadn't marked so hard!" seems to be a bye word with 75 per cent. of the fellows.

McGill is sending out thirty-one new M.D.'s this year. This is the last of the four year men, hence the small number. Amongst the number are two Newfoundlanders—Dr. A. H. Canning, of St. John's, and Dr. M. C. Roberts, of Brigus. The latter is well known as the late lecturer of the A. P. C. He took honours in Obstetrics and Pathology. Success to both.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of the 27th ult. Francesco Grevola, an Italian, paid the penalty for taking the life of a fellow countryman in March last. During the night before he tried several times to dash his brains out by beating his head against the walls of the cell. When the time came he lost all nerve and was dragged to the scaffold crying and moaning; his shrieks for mercy were heartrending. The Governor of the prison and the hangman say it was the most affecting sight in their lifetime. Numbers witnessed the spectacle from roofs of neighbouring houses. This makes No. 189 for the hangman. June 3, 1911. S. C. M.
