

Florizel Here

With Biggest Cargo on Record—Many Newfoundland-Americans Return Home.

The Red Cross Liner Florizel, Capt. W. Martin, arrived here at 6 o'clock last evening from New York and Halifax, after a fine run, favourable weather being had all the way. She brought a full general cargo, every available space on the ship being occupied above as well as below decks.

New York was left on Tuesday last at 3 p.m. and reached Halifax at 9 p.m. Friday, leaving there again at 7 p.m. Saturday. The following passengers came in aboard—Mr. M. H. Barton, Mr. F. Ellis, Mr. F. T. Fearn, Miss A. March, Miss M. Morey, Miss Margaret Clouston, Mrs. H. Barnes, Mr. G. Butt, Miss C. S. Butt, Mr. J. W. Andrews, Mr. W. Oldford and 43 second class. Amongst the latter were three people fishermen and a number of people belonging to different outbursts who had been "making it out" in Boston, New York and other U. S. cities for the past half dozen years or so; also the wives of several Newfoundlanders, now in Canadian Regiments, came along.

The work of discharging the Florizel is being rushed in order to get her away as quickly as possible for Halifax where there is a considerable pile of freight awaiting shipment to this port.

Your Boys and Girls.

A little girl I know, has an allowance of twenty-five cents a week for spending money from an aunt. She has been provided with a small cheque book and bank deposit slips, and on receiving her allowance, makes out a deposit slip and deposits the money with her aunt, who has instructed herself "The Trust Company."

When Betty wishes to spend any amount, however small, she writes a cheque and her aunt cashes it. She keeps an account book and her bank book and balanced monthly.

She feels much interested in these business transactions, and in this way is learning to keep both bank and personal accounts. I think it is a valuable training for any child ten years, perhaps even younger.

Makes Hair Grow.

All drug stores sell SALVIA, and it is guaranteed to grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of. If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by first-class druggists under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" on every bottle.

GERARD OFF FOR GERMANY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. Ambassador Gerard had a final conference with Secretary Lansing today, preparatory to sailing for Germany on December 5th by way of Copenhagen. The Ambassador and Secretary of State were silent about what was discussed at their conference, which lasted an hour, but in official quarters the impression prevailed that the delicate nature of the submarine situation and deportation of Belgians to Germany were discussed. As to the submarine situation Gerard will be able to say the position of the American Government is unaltered and that it expects Germany to fulfill its pledge.

Wedding Bells.

At St. Finbar's Station, Harbour Island, Parish of Bar Haven, on Monday, November 20th, Miss Annie Connor, of Harbour Island, was married to Patrick Green, of the same place, the Rev. Francis Cardeola officiating. The pretty little Island was gaily decorated and volleys of musketry were fired on land and from the numerous boats going out to sea in commemoration of the event. The newly-wedded couple are universally popular along the whole coast line. On her nuptial day the bride wore a gown of blue cloth with bird of Paradise mount, and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her maid of honour was Miss Cecilia Green who was gowned in bright silver cloth of rare brilliancy and richness and wore a hat of white kid and blue plush trimmings. Mr. Walter Green supported the groom. Susan Green and Marie Williams were bridesmaids. The ushers were John Green, Berkeley Williams and Albert Warren; Master Johnny Green was ring bearer. Immediately after the marriage ceremony a reception was given to the invited guests. Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside at Harbour Island.—Com.

FOR CHAPPED HANDS.

With the crisp days that bring roses to the cheeks, heart glad with the rest of winter comes the old problem of keeping hands soft and white and presentable. In the summer time unless you worry about tan and freckles, manuring is the only hand treatment to think about, but in winter the danger of roughened and reddened skin returned.

If the hands have become rough and unsightly, a simple home remedy is the quickest way out of the difficulty. Soak half a pound of oatmeal in a half quart of water for twelve hours, strain off the water, add a teaspoonful of ammonia, a teaspoonful of olive oil and a few drops of glycerine. Rub this into the hands at night before they are thoroughly washed and rinsed. Then slip on an old pair of gloves, which have the finger tips cut off. It would be well to follow up this treatment for two or three weeks until the hands have regained their natural whiteness and softness. Be sure to keep them out of very hot water, and most important of all, is to dry them thoroughly whenever they have been washed.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."
"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap, and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."

OUR VOLUNTEERS. Yesterday afternoon the volunteers in training were inspected by His Excellency the Governor and Capt. Abraham. During the day the men were engaged at various indoor drills.

Charge of the Newfoundlanders.

JULY 1st, 1916.

Onward they swept in the flower of their manhood,
Our lads from Newfoundland far over the sea;
Onward they swept till the last man had fallen,
Had fallen for Britain, the land of the free.

With guns in front and rear,
With death and danger near,
To them unknown was fear,
Gallant Eight Hundred!

Oh, well might we love the fair land that bore us,
That can boast of such sons as loyal and true!
Who save of their all to keep the flag flying,
The Flag of our Empire, the Red, White and Blue.

Fighting for truth and right
Against those who worship might,
They knew their cause was right,
Loyal Eight Hundred!

For no braver deed hath e'er been recorded
Than their steady advance o'er the shell-torn soil,
The scene of long months of horror and anguish
Amid death and danger, privation and toil.

On swept that gallant band,
Falling on every hand,
Over dried No Man's Land
Swept that Eight Hundred.

Photography in Warfare

Another use for photography in war has been found by the Serbians in connection with their prisoners. The Bulgars, and the remembrance of their own cruelties to the Serbs, weighing on their minds, at first feared to surrender to the Serbian Army, their impression being that the Serbs would not take prisoners.

Such as did give themselves up were, of course, treated as well by the Serbians as by any other section of the Allied Army, and to show other Bulgarians that they incurred no danger by surrendering, the Serbs had a photograph taken of long files of Bulgarian prisoners drawing rations, each man holding a loaf of bread and a bowl of soup.

Two thousand copies of this photograph were printed, and the Bulgarians who had surrendered were invited to write messages on them to their comrades saying how they had been received. The 2,000 picture-post-cards were then dropped by aeroplanes into the Bulgarian lines.

Since then surrenders have been much more frequent, and the men who give themselves up always try to bring with them a copy of the photograph, which they regard as a sort of safe conduct. One man said that he had paid fifteen francs for his, and that he carried it always with him in case he should be captured.

Don't wait until that Cough or Cold develops into the Cough that you are not able to throw off. If you have contracted a Cough or Cold (which no doubt you have) don't keep on saying, "Oh, 'tis only a Cold; that will wear off after a few days!" This is where you are making one of the biggest mistakes in your life. Nine cases out of ten it doesn't wear off.

Try a bottle of STAFFORD'S Phoradone and Cold Cure and watch results. Price 25c; postage 5c. extra.
If you have an impression or tightness on your chest mix equal parts of Sulfurated Oil and Stafford's Linctament and apply to the chest on a piece of thick flannel.
In France, too, old boots and shoes are collected, and every part is used over again. The work is mostly done by convicts in prisons. They take the boots and shoes to pieces and soak them; then the uppers are cut up into children's shoes, or, if they are gone too far for that, a peculiar kind of pressed leather is made by some chemical action. The nails are saved and sold, and the scraps go to the farmers to fertilize the soil.

Who would have thought it possible to make anything out of old saws? Yet it is said that many of the finest surgical instruments, and some of those used by engineers, are manufactured from the steel that first did duty in saws. The steel of saws is of the very best quality and finest temper;

Billard Gets Two Years For Bigamy.

North Sydney Man Claimed He Was Drunk During the First Ceremony—Both Wives Present—Prisoner Sorry For First Spouse But Clings to Second.

Two years in Dorchester penitentiary was the sentence passed by Judge Finlayson upon Martin Billard, charged with bigamy, in the county court this morning.

"I could give you seven years, but I'll only give you two years and whether or not you serve that time depends on yourself," said Judge Finlayson.

The reason for the leniency was that the man stated in his evidence that when he married the first woman he was drunk and did not know anything about the ceremony.
