The True Gause of Many Ills

is Constipation, an Irregularity Which Is Corrected and Permanently Cured by Dr. Chase's Kid ney-Liver Pills.

Ask any reputable physician what is the cause of the most bodily derangements and the greatest suffering and he will undoubtedly tell you con-stipation or inactivity of the bowels. He will also add that this need not be the case if people would pay proper attention to this most important func-

Through ignorance, neglect, or a sense of false modesty, people allow the bowels to get into a state of chronic constipation, and there follow kidney disorders, torpid liver, indigestion, and a complete upsetting of Their custom of intermingling the digestive, filtering and excretory systems.

Appendicitis, inflammation of the bowels, Bright's disease, and all the dreadfully painful and ratal complications of these diseases are usually set up as a direct result of neglecting to keep the bowels healthy and regular.

Many people imagine that they can prescribe for constipation, and so dose themselves with salts and other strong, harmful, and weakening drugs, which effect an action of the bowels, but if taken repeatedly deaden and paralyze the system so that it is rendered unable to act for itself, and will not respond to the influence of curative to $574.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act paturally and pleasantly on the bowels and through their toning and invigorsting effects thoroughly and permanently cure constipation.

DIAMOND DYES ARE THE MOST PROFITABLE AGENTS USED IN THE HOME.

No other article used in the homes of the Dominion of Canada are as popular as the Diamond Dyes. These indispensable helps in economical housekeeping make new friends every day. This popularity is gained by quality, excellence of colors and ease and comfort in doing the work of dveing. Just think of it! One package of any of the Diamond Dyes will color from one to six pounds of goods, according to the shade desired. This is wonderful work when the small expense is

Your last year's jacket, cape, blouse, dress, skirt, and your husband's suits and children's clothes may be soiled, faded and unsightly; but with a ten cent package of Diamond Dyes you can work a mighty change, and make the old things like new for this season's wear. One effort in this work of true economy will convince you that Diamond Dyes are true money savers to the family.

NO CHANGE MADE

In the Present Regulations Relating to Doctors at Victoria Hospital-Col. Lewis Favors Abolition of Trust.

At the last meeting of the Hospital Trust, Mr. Gilmore gave notice of motion to revert to the old plan of excluding all but staff doctors from the public wards at Victoria Hospital. He did this because the nurses complained about the inconvenience of having outside doctors calling at all hours. The idea was opposed at yesterday's meeting by a deputation, consisting of Drs. Niven, MacLaren, Drake and J. D. Wilson, who said that many patients in the long wards preferred having their own doctor. The proposed change would injure the hospital's popularity. Mr. Purdom thought that the trust should not prevent patients having the doctor they desired. If the nurses were inconvenienced by the present system, they were only getting a share of what people in all classes in life experienced. The present system will remain unchanged.

Dr. Niven suggested that better isolation be secured for the nurses on duty in the contagious diseases wards. seriously dangerous and at other times had occasioned complaints.

Dr. Balfour said that to have nurse for each class of contagious pa-tients would be more expensive and dangerous than the present plan.

A remedy will be effected along the lines mentioned by Dr. Niven. The reports of Medical Superintendent Balfour showed that 83 patients were now under treatment at hospital, 19 of them being children under 12 years of age. There were 35 admissions since the last meeting, while 50 patients have been discharged. The receipts for September amounted Improbability of Any Sweeping Change Being Made-A Shakeup in Ireland-Theatricals.

[Special Cable Letter.] London, Oct. 6 .- As a Conservative majority daily becomes more and more of the next cabinet, grows rife, and all | water." sorts of guesses are published. None of these, however, seem inspired. All take it for granted that sweeping changes will be made. This conclusion, however, the Associated Press, learns is unjustified. The facts are that Lord Salisbury, always uncommunicative, has not broken the half of his life for the benefit of close friends or even fellow-cabinet members; but from a Associated Press learns that the makelar to that of its predecessor that it will come as a startling surprise.

THE ADMIRALTY. Probably the only really important change made will be in the admiralty, for which the Right Hon. Robert Wm. Hanbury is being favorably considered; though Lord George Hamilton, who formerly was the head of the admiralty, could have the portfolio again, but he prefers to remain at the head of the India office. The Earl of Selborne, at present Mr. Chamberlain's assistant, has been selected for preferment. He is regarded as one of the strongest a seat in the cabinet in place of the Right Hon. Walter Long, president of the board of agriculture. If he does, he will add one more to the long list of Lord Salisbury's relatives controlling England's destinies, as he married the premier's daughter.

WAR OFFICE PORTFOLIO. The Marquis of Lansdowne, who, mext to Mr. Chamberlain, is the object of more attacks than any other cabiprobably will accept it, as he has implicit belief in Lord Roberts, and is anxious to co-operate with him in reforms which he has been contemplating for some time, but would not com-mence with Lord Wolseley, the late commander-in-chief, and Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, adjutant-general, with whom his relations are greatly strain-

It is untrue that either Lord Lans downe or the Duke of Marlborough has been offered the lord lieutenancy of Ireland; and it is quite improbable that either will have such an offer, though Earl Cadogan does not intend to retire, much to the relief of the leading Conservatives in Ireland, who are bitterly opposed to Mr. Gerald Bal-four's (the chief secretary) and Earl Cadogan's attempt at non-partisan government.

Lord Salisbury will resume the premiership and the foreign office portfolio-at least, everything he has said to his fellow-members of the cabinet points to his doing so.

ATTACKS ON CHAMBERLAIN. The vigorous personal attacks upon Mr. Chamberlain continue, and seem to gather bitterness as the reality of defeat dawns upon the Liberals. The Hon. P. J. Stanhope's reverse at Burnley is construed by the Conservatives as a direct rebuke for his bitter denunciations of Mr. Chamberlain, but buried under the name of Mrs. M. A. Mr. Stanhope adheres to his attitude, reiterating that he is ready to prove in story are still matters of mystery. the courts that Mr. Chamberlain only "whitewashed" Cecil Rhodes in the House of Commons because another members had letters in his pocket incriminating Mr. Chamberlain with the ed by Mr. Stanhope, the Associated Press learns, is Mr. Abel Thomas, a Liberal, who represented East Carmarthenshire in the last parliament. In the meanwhile Mr. Chamberlain is apparently unmoved, and is certainly sending messages to the nation and stumping the country, putting all his vigor and strong personality into the campaign, in marked contrast with the other cabinet ministers.

IRISH ISSUES.

While Mr. Chamberlain is practically the only interesting figure in the struggle in England, there are in Ireland issues stirring up the country into such a chaotic condition of party lines as has never occurred before, and it would excite the greatest interest were it not for the fact that England is so occupied with her own local con-find nothing that will offer so much to satisfy his passion as a life of mining and prospecting. The prospector is the adventurer par excellence of the ing behind him the collection of colorevery turn. As he picks his way through a wilderness of rocks and fallen trees, having left the meager trail far behind, ever on the lookout for a faint sign of the outcroppings of the precious metal, his passage is almost sure to be disputed by wild beasts. But what an excitement there is in seeking for gold. It is stronger and more intense than that of the gambler at the green table staking his last dollar on the turn of a card. The pros-pector may be penniless, he may have put his last cent into the "grub" that is now fastened onto the back of his burro; yet one stroke of his pick is likely to uncover treasure that will transform him into a millionaire. He sits down to a meager meal, cooked over a rude fire between a few stones but all the time feels about him the presence of gold. Perhaps his fire is built on the end of a ledge that is "chockful" of gold; perhaps he is sit-ting on a rich out-cropping that is simply covered with small stones; perhaps there is gold beneath the big tree just across the ravine. Gold may be everywhere, if he can only find it. must find it. Surely his luck is not less than other men's.

And so he goes on, scaling the loftlest peaks, where snow lies all the year around, and even his heavy blankets are not sufficient to keep him warm at

Stanstead Junction, P. Q., Aug. 12, 1900. Messrs. C. C. Richards & Co.:

Gentlemen,-I fell from a bridge leading from a platform to a loaded car while assisting my men in unloading a load of grain. The bridge went down as well as the load on my back, and I struck on the ends of the sleepers, causing a serious injury to my a prospecting dish of fine dirt taken leg. Only for its being very fleshy, from the bag panned out twenty-five would have broken it. In an hour could not walk a step. Commenced using MINARD'S LINIMENT, and the third day went to Montreal on business and got about well by the aid of a cane. In ten days was nearly well. I can sincerely recommend it as the best liniment that I know of in use. Yours truly, night, diving into all sorts of caverns and rifts in the rock, exploring caves, only perhaps to be chased out by wild beast occupants, braving a thousand dangers that he may find the means of passing the rest of his days in ease.

And how does it all end? In most cases the daring prospector who sets out alone meets his death miles and miles away from any human being. How, nobody ever knows. His bones may never be found. He disappears as completely as last winter's snow. But should the prospector strike it rich, his adventures will go on as long as he remains in the Rocky Mountains. If his find is worth anything as a "poor man's claim," he will put up a rude cabin and go to digging concealing what gold he takes out in a place secret to himself. But he will have to guard it all the time, for covetous miners who are not so fortunate would not hesitate to take his life if they could get pos-session of his little pile of yellow metal. His rifle must be his constant companion, and he must be ready to use it at the first sign. At night he must sleep with one eye open. If a stranger aproaches the cabin he must be ready to dispute his right to be there. The kind of life are most wearing, and, should the prospector conquer all risk and get back to his native town with "pile," his friends will look upon him as an old man, though he is still under forty. Only the unknowing oncs vill envy his fortune.

The man who works in the developed mines is also having adventurous ex-periences all the time. The tunnels, shafts and drifts are liable at any moment to cave in and bury the worker under tons of rock. Or perhaps he may be imprisoned without food or water, olden days. We think Great Britain and pass many days of horrible sufferdid wondrous things in so quickly raising in darkness and silence.
