

Virgie's Inheritance.

But she had never touched his heart; she was bright, beautiful and accomplished, yet there was something lacking in her nature which his own demanded, and which he recognized at once in the lovely mountain maiden the moment that he met her that night when he came a stranger to her new home.

But Sadie was so heart-broken over the blighting of all her fond hopes, and grieved so sorely that her health began to suffer in consequence, and when Sir William's return began to be talked of, Mrs. Farnum decided to take her daughter traveling and thus avoid an unpleasant meeting and fresh grief when the young Lady Heath should come to take possession of her new home.

Accordingly they sailed for America, and went directly to the Pacific coast about a fortnight previous to Sir William's return to Heathdale.

The letter which Lady Linton sent her friend was written, as we know, the morning following her brother's return, and five weeks later, upon the very day of little Virgie May Heath's birth, there came to her an exceedingly gratifying reply.

A portion of it read thus: "Regarding the important questions which you have asked about the— I will not write the name for fear that this letter might sometime meet other eyes. I find that such a family residing here a number of years ago. They occupied a high position in society, appeared in the most tasteful and elegantly dressed, every article of her apparel denoting wealth and a careful regard for fashion.

The other was a young lady, perhaps a year or two older than Virgie, a perfect beauty, with a daily, beautifully-developed form, and with a face such as poets and artists read about. It was a pale oval, fastidious in feature and coloring, and yet withal, if closely studied, there was a suspicion of shallowness and insincerity in the full, sapphire eyes, and the perfectly formed but rather weak mouth.

Still Virgie, as she lifted her own lovely eyes and beheld this young lady, thought she had never seen any one more beautiful, while she colored slightly, and wondered why the strangers should observe her so closely and with such evident interest.

It was a very warm day, and she was clad in a fine white robe, richly embroidered and garnished with pale lavender ribbon. If she had but realized it, she was exquisitely beautiful herself, with her glossy, brown hair carefully yet gracefully coiled at the back of her head, the color beginning to show her cheeks, that smile of happiness upon her sweet lips, and the holy mother-light shining in her violet eyes.

"Mamma, that must be she; that must be Lady Heath," whispered the younger of the two, when they had passed beyond hearing.

"Lady Heath?" was the scornful repetition, accompanied by a flash of anger from the dark eyes of the older woman.

(To be Continued.)

After the examination of the portfolio which she had found in her brother's trunk, Lady Linton's curiosity had been insatiable, and simulating an air of friendliness and resignation which she was far from feeling, she had encouraged him to talk of his wife, hoping thus to learn more of her history, and trap him into acknowledging something of the mystery which surrounded her.

But though Sir William was never so talkative of his darling, and always spoke of her in the fondest terms, he would never commit himself regarding her past; that was to be sealed book in England, and not even to his mother and sister would he ever breathe a word of that sad story that Mr. Abbott had told him when he pleaded for his daughter's hand, or sought that wild east a shadow upon any member of his family.

"She was the daughter of a once wealthy Californian, whom reverses had impoverished," he invariably told them. "She was finely educated and fitted by nature and culture, to shine in any circle."

"By whom were you married, William?" his mother asked, having at last designed to show some interest in the circumstances.

"By the Rev. Dr. Thornton, an Episcopal clergyman."

"No, of Virginia City," and Sir William smiled that she was not familiar enough with the geographical location of the place to think that it was not in California at all.

"Oh, then, you were not married in San Francisco?" interposed Lady Linton, looking up eagerly, and hoping now to get something definite regarding that outlandish place in Nevada.

"No," he replied, not thinking it necessary to enter into particulars, and leaving them to infer what they chose.

Her ladyship was baffled again, not daring to press him further lest he should suspect that she had been tampering with his papers.

But she tried to console herself with the thought that she would soon know all there was to be known, then, what she might make of her knowledge remained to be seen.

Lady Heath was improving, but still far from being out of danger, and could not endure the least confusion.

Sir William was very restless, and anxious to get back to his dear ones in America; but Sir Herbert Randall was opposed to his going.

"It would be fatal, my dear sir," he asserted; "the excitement of your departure and the separation would undoubtedly bring on another shock from which her ladyship could not possibly rally, even if it did not kill her outright. Haven't you done enough yet?" the physician concluded, regarding the young man with some surprise.

"But I've left—" Sir William began, when he was interrupted by a startled cry from Lady Linton, who was in the room, as she carelessly upset a vase of flowers on the table beside her.

"How awkward of me!" she exclaimed, flushing a deep crimson; "won't you please ring the bell, William, for some one to come and clean up this mess?"

He went to the opposite side of the room to her bidding, and she took the occasion to inform Sir Herbert in a low tone, that her brother had left some unfinished business in America, which he was anxious to have settled.

"I'm sorry," replied the physician, "but it will have to remain unsettled for a while longer, if he has a proper regard for his mother's health."

Of course the great doctor's verdict was decisive, and Sir William was forced to curb his impatience as best he could. He would not allow himself to do anything that would endanger his mother's life, and yet his heart was yearning for his wife and for the little one whom he had never seen.

"Have patience a little longer, my darling," he wrote Virgie that evening; "I will come just as soon as it will do for me to leave home. My heart longs for you every hour in the day; life seems almost a blank without you, and I find it difficult to employ myself about anything. If you were strong, and our little one was older, I would send some trustworthy messenger for you, and another eight days would find you in our beautiful home. But I fear such a proceeding would be hardly wise at present.

"Write me to my often, my Virgie, and be very careful in directing your letters; I am afraid that I have missed one or two of your long ones, and though there will be no longer any need to communicate with each other, I still desire to hear from you."

Sir William had indeed missed his wife's last letters, and this was the only one that she ever received from him after that date.

How was it?

Ask Lady Linton, or posek in the brazier which stood at night in the dressing-room of her mother for the purpose of heating the nouthment she was accustomed to take at twelve for the ashes of the loving epistles which the fond husband and wife believed no other save themselves would peruse.

CHAPTER XIII.
BECOMING ACQUAINTED.

Little Virginia May Heath was just 6 weeks old, and becoming most interesting to her fond mamma, who was getting stronger every day, and able to take a little exercise in the corridor, outside her rooms, when one morning as she was pacing slowly back and forth, thinking of her absent husband, and wishing, oh, so yearningly, that he could come to her, she encountered two ladies who had just ascended the stairs, and passed on to their apartments, which were just beyond hers.

One was a finely-formed, majestic woman, evidently somewhat over 50 years of age, having the air and bearing of one accustomed to society and the ways of the world. She was tastefully and elegantly dressed, every article of her apparel denoting wealth and a careful regard for fashion.

The other was a young lady, perhaps a year or two older than Virgie, a perfect beauty, with a daily, beautifully-developed form, and with a face such as poets and artists read about. It was a pale oval, fastidious in feature and coloring, and yet withal, if closely studied, there was a suspicion of shallowness and insincerity in the full, sapphire eyes, and the perfectly formed but rather weak mouth.

Still Virgie, as she lifted her own lovely eyes and beheld this young lady, thought she had never seen any one more beautiful, while she colored slightly, and wondered why the strangers should observe her so closely and with such evident interest.

It was a very warm day, and she was clad in a fine white robe, richly embroidered and garnished with pale lavender ribbon. If she had but realized it, she was exquisitely beautiful herself, with her glossy, brown hair carefully yet gracefully coiled at the back of her head, the color beginning to show her cheeks, that smile of happiness upon her sweet lips, and the holy mother-light shining in her violet eyes.

"Mamma, that must be she; that must be Lady Heath," whispered the younger of the two, when they had passed beyond hearing.

"Lady Heath?" was the scornful repetition, accompanied by a flash of anger from the dark eyes of the older woman.

(To be Continued.)

EPHES COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Ephes has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage, which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape with a fatal shaft, by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.

(Civil Service Gazette.) Made simply with purest Cocoa, and water or milk. Sold only in packets, labeled "JAMES EPHES & CO., Homoeopathic Chemists, London, Eng."

WILLIE—I didn't see anything funny last night about that fellow's mustache. Mrs. McBean—What are you talking about? Willie—I heard sister tell him that it tickled her half to death.

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. About a year ago I took a very severe cold, had a violent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the dose showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done I had about disappeared, and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using three bottles of the Vegetable Discovery the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years of age. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

"Are you the master of this house?" asked a stranger, addressing the young married man. "No," said the young man with a deep sigh, "my wife has just put the master in the cradle."

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, is ear ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are peculiarly subject.

Mrs. Billus—John, the doctor says I need a change of climate. Mr. Billus (absorbed in his paper)—That's all right, Ma. It's going to be twenty degrees colder to-morrow.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, they are extremely gentle and in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Ignorance of the law excuses no man—not even an attorney.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

The proper hair-cut for footballists is—bangs.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It may be used without the slightest consequences. Coughs, other than salutory consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Have been in great demand all this season and our business has been very satisfactory. We take stock in three weeks.

Every Boy's Overcoat will be sold at straight cost price. All marked in plain figures.

If you want a genuine bargain you will see these coats at once. The saving is to your advantage.

They have in Turkey a drink called Coffee. This drink comforteth the brain and heart and helpeth digestion. (Bacon.)

THE EXODUS.

What Premier Taillon, of Quebec, Says About It.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Premier Taillon, on the occasion of his election Saturday, spoke at some length, outlining his programme, but beyond his promises of economy said nothing absolutely new, except to lay stress upon the unfortunate condition of the farmers of the Province. He declared that it was impossible to adopt here the principle of making all the people pay their share of taxation, for of late years agriculture here had been most unprofitable. The country was becoming rapidly depopulated by the steady exodus of thousands of families to the States, and any additional taxation would only augment the depopulation and increase the distress of the agricultural classes. He promised that the session should begin on Jan. 12, but it would be short, and an early autumn session would be held. Addresses were made by Hon. Louis Stassen and Hon. J. A. Nantel, both of whom also laid stress upon the need of helping the farmers. Altogether these speeches of Conservative Ministers were striking denunciations of the policy of the Federal Cabinet.

In a Perilous Position.

PORT HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

FOUR HURON, Jan. 3.—On Sunday evening a message was received here from St. Clair stating that five young men of that city, who had been over to Stagg Island hunting, became fast in the ice with their skiff when about half way over on their return. They were helpless, being unable to get the craft out of the ice, and it being likewise dangerous to attempt to reach the shore on the ice. The ferry farmer was sent to their aid, and succeeded in rescuing the young men in a badly frozen condition and took them to St. Clair.

ALWAYS TRUE.

RHEUMATISM.—Col. DAVID WYLLIE, Brockville, Ont., says: "I suffered intensely with rheumatism in my ankles. Could not stand, rubbed them with ST. JACOBS OIL. In the morning I walked without pain."

NEURALGIA.—Mr. JAMES BONNER, 158 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "St. Jacobs Oil is the only remedy that relieved me of neuralgia, and it is 'truly cured me.'"

IT IS THE BEST.

WHY DO WE ALL WEAR

Granby Rubbers?

BECAUSE THEY ARE HONESTLY MADE.

Latest Styles. Beautifully Finished.
Perfect Fit. Everybody Wears Them

ALL DEALERS SELL THEM!

Granby Rubbers

Wear Like Iron.

WANTED

1,000 Names and Addresses

To THE GLOBE, Toronto, for copy of their valuable PRIZE LIST FOR 1893

THE BEST PREMIUM LIST EVER OFFERED BY A CANADIAN PUBLISHER.

Handsome and Useful Presents
: : ALMOST GIVEN AWAY : :
: : APPLY EARLY : :
THE GLOBE, Toronto.

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

SPANISH NERVE

The great nerve and brain restorer to cure all nervous diseases, such as Weak Memory, Loss of Brain Power, Pains and Neuralgia, Hysteria, Distress, Convulsions, Wakefulness, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Lassitude and all drains or loss of power of the generative organs in either sex. Involuntary Emissions, the excessive use of tobacco or opium, stimulants which ultimately lead to consumption and insanity. With every $5.00 order we give a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Price $5.00 per bottle. Send to any address. Ask your druggist for it. He offers you a substitute of imitation which pays him a larger profit, leave his dishonest store, and mail your order to A. A. BROWN & CO., Windsor, Ont., Agents for Can., Spanish Nerve, Co., Madrid.

Put in London by C. McCallum.

MARSHALL BROS.

Wholesale Importers of

TEAS and COFFEES

67 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

WM. MALLOCH & CO., MACHINISTS

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

ELEVATORS,

PULLEYS, SHAFING, HANGERS AND SPECIAL MACHINERY

Repairing a Specialty.

154 Fullerton Street, London

SNAPS FOR SANTA CLAUS.

Japanese Silk Hdkfs., Initialed - 25c | Japanese Silk Hdkfs., Initialed - 75c

Japanese Silk Hdkfs., Initialed - 50c | Scarfs and Ties

Silk Finished Braces, 25c.

Fancy and Plain Night Shirts of Every Description.

PETHICK & McDONALD,

383 Richmond Street, London, Ont.

Visit Toronto at our Personal Expense

WE PAY RAILWAY FARES BOTH WAYS, ALSO FREIGHT CHARGES PREPAID TO YOUR STATION ON : : : :

We not only claim that our immense stock (occupying five floors), consisting of Parlor Suites, Lounges, Sofas, Leather, Silk and Plush Upholstered Goods, also Sideboards, Cabinets, Fancy Chairs, Tables, Bed Suites in great variety, is the newest and best assorted, but that our prices are the lowest in this city.

Furniture

NEXT THE MAIL BUILDING

Visit Toronto at our Personal Expense

WE PAY RAILWAY FARES BOTH WAYS, ALSO FREIGHT CHARGES PREPAID TO YOUR STATION ON : : : :

We not only claim that our immense stock (occupying five floors), consisting of Parlor Suites, Lounges, Sofas, Leather, Silk and Plush Upholstered Goods, also Sideboards, Cabinets, Fancy Chairs, Tables, Bed Suites in great variety, is the newest and best assorted, but that our prices are the lowest in this city.

Furniture

NEXT THE MAIL BUILDING

Visit Toronto at our Personal Expense

WE PAY RAILWAY FARES BOTH WAYS, ALSO FREIGHT CHARGES PREPAID TO YOUR STATION ON : : : :

We not only claim that our immense stock (occupying five floors), consisting of Parlor Suites, Loung