Mr. Spence told the delegates to have the petitions in separate sheets, recalling an incident in Toronto when a number of these lists were pasted together, all the heads being cut off except the one at the top, and the list was thrown out.

His desk was beautified by a profusion of flowers.

In response to questions from the Liberal leader. Hon, Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, stated that while no general survey had been made a decimal response to public works.

In advocacy of this he told how 2.500 names had been struck off the voters' list in Toronto, that the anti-license reductionists had endeavored to have placed on the voters' lists. This had won the election, he said, as the majority has only been 846. A change over of 3,800 had been effected.

Can a minister who lives in a parsonage vote in a local option contest?"

This question was asked Mr. Coburn, and he said yes, because the free use of house was included in his salary and actually is part of his salary.
