

CHIEF STANDING FOR TRAFFIC SQUAD

Would Have White-Gloved
Officers on Many Corners.

IMPOSSIBLE JUST NOW

Messy Jobs, Such as "Pinching" Drunks, Would Not Go Well With Cotton
Mitts.

Chief of Police W. T. Williams is in favor of a white-gloved traffic squad for London.

If the head of the constables had his way he would have traffic officers stationed at least three other corners where traffic is heavy. The corners are King and Richmond, Clarence and Dundas and Dundas and Talbot.

"With the present number of officers it is impossible to handle traffic with any degree of efficiency," said the chief today. "Certainly a regular traffic squad would be beneficial to the city."

No Other Way Possible. "There are some of the men who are more proficient than others in handling street traffic. But under present conditions there is no other method possible than the one now in effect."

Just now the men are sent out on all kinds of missions. For this reason the white-gloved policeman in London is almost an impossibility. One moment a policeman may be called upon to gather in a drunk the next he may have some other equally messy task to perform. White-gloves for that reason on the officers would be a nuisance.

Accidents Liable to Happen.

"If we had sufficient men on the force I would station officers at several other corners where traffic is heavy. For instance in some respects King and Richmond street crossing is more dangerous than Dundas and Talbot. There are many farmers coming in over King street. Some are not accustomed to traffic regulations. In consequence accidents are more liable to occur."

"The same might be said of Talbot and Dundas corner. Then there is Clarence and Dundas, where traffic is unusually heavy at times. A spick and span traffic squad may make a difference in time when we have more men at our disposal."

LABOR THRILLS

(Continued From Page One.)

Labour, her advocate, in a private waiting room.

Under a Strain.

After Judge Albanel and his associates had taken their places on the bench, Mme. Caillaux entered the prisoner's enclosure without hesitation and with an air of making herself at home. She was dressed precisely as she had been on the first day of her trial. She took off and folded her jacket, and looked quickly around at the crowded court, dark circles under her eyes and her quick, nervous gestures, however, seemed to betray the strain she was undergoing.

Joseph Caillaux, the prisoner's husband, then entered the court and took his place among the witnesses. He was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of bystanders had hooted him and shouted insults at him as he left the prison after his talk with his wife.

Two other boys from the Figue were the first witnesses today. They described the arrival at the office of Mrs. Caillaux. They told how she waited and gave details of her entrance into the room occupied by General Caillaux and of their hearing shots.

One of the boys, Adrien Nicot, crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of low cries to show how he found M. Caillaux sheltering himself behind his desk.

Bourget a Witness.

Paul Bourget, the "immortal," who was with Caillaux in his office when Mme. Caillaux's card was brought in, told the jury of the incident.

"I cannot refuse to receive a woman," he replied.

Maitre Laboulet then thrilled the overcrowded court room by reading a dialogue from Bourget's novel "The Demon of the Mid," in which the characters discuss and condemn the publication of the heroine's love letters. Coming immediately after Bourget's eulogy of Caillaux, with which he had closed his testimony, the reading of the dialogue by Maitre Laboulet was regarded by observing lawyers as a masterly stroke.

Maitre Laboulet's voice was musical and full of dramatic feeling. When he had concluded, Paul Bourget remarked: "Literature is not life."

He agreed, however, that private letters ought not to be published, and said he did not believe Caillaux had intended to publish the Caillaux letters.

The scene of the shooting was then reconstructed by a succession of employees of the Figue.

Charles Giraudoux, a reporter, Henri Rousseau, a messenger, and Jean Cerde, a telephone operator, then related portions of their experiences. They said Louis Voisin, of the advertising department, was conversing with Henri Honore, an artist, and Edouard Masson, in the rotunda, when Mme. Caillaux was seeing M. Chalmette.

"We never mentioned Caillaux," said Voisin. "As she said yesterday."

Mme. Caillaux here interposed, saying, "I wish to ask M. Voisin whether one of his friends did not say, 'Is the sheet ready,' and whether Voisin did not answer, 'We have a great paper on Caillaux tomorrow'."

"That is absolutely false," said Voisin.

Mme. Caillaux then heard Voisin say to his friends it costs dear, but we are letting loose the hunting dogs on all sides."

Honore was then called and denied that Caillaux had been mentioned when Masson's deposition was read to the same effect.

CHICAGO GRAIN OPTIONS.
(Special to J. M. Young, Broker.)
Chicago, July 21.

Open. High. Low. Close. July 21.

Wheat— 79 1/2 80 1/4 79 3/4 79 3/4

HOTELKEEPER SAYS HE IS NO STOCKHOLDER

J. H. Cook, of King Edward,
Claims a Mistake Has Been Made.

A published list of the names of those who hold stock in the Elizabeth Gold Mines, Limited, of which R. R. Ganev is the president and which has been the subject of a scandal in Toronto recently, discloses the fact that more than 25 per cent of them are, or were at the time the list was filed on February 7, 1914, hotelkeepers or shop license holders.

Included in the list are the names of five hotelkeepers of this city—W. L. Cook, of the Richmond House; J. H. Cook, of the King Edward; John J. Evans, of the Grigg House; John R. Menhinick, of the C. P. R. Hotel, and George H. McKinnell, of the Tecumseh Hotel.

Mr. O'Neill, asked this morning how he came to buy Elizabeth mine stock, said: "I just looked good to me. I know Ganev well, and the fact that I am a holder of a provincial license did not influence me in subscribing to his company at all."

J. H. Cook declared that his name must have been placed on the list by mistake.

"What kind of a mine is the Elizabeth?" he asked, and on being told that it was a gold mine, laughed and said, "Gee whiz! You couldn't get me to put money in a hole in the ground."

Messrs. Evans and Menhinick also could not be located today.

GHOULS OPEN WOMAN'S GRAVE

Carry Off Arms, Legs and Head of Remains of Emmeline Barnes at Allan-burg.

Welland, Ont., July 20.—The surprise of a few weeks ago that the grave of the late Emmeline Barnes in the private cemetery on the Walter Upper farm near Allanburg, had been tampered with and the body removed, was put to the test under the direction of Dr. Park, medical officer of health, when the grave was excavated and the casket opened. Nothing but the trunk was found remaining. The head, both arms at the shoulder joint and both legs at the hip joint had been removed. A mystery is the most puzzling one in my experience," said Dr. Park. "The rumor goes that medical students are responsible, but that is an absurdity. For various reasons which I could state to you. The deceased woman had not an enemy in the community, nor have any of her relatives." The discovery that the grave had been tampered with was made by Mr. Upper on the first day of June. He saw an excavation had been made. The grave had not been refilled again to within a foot and a half of the top.

Dr. Park, on being informed of the discovery, ordered the grave to be refilled without opening the casket. The finding of a skull in an adjoining field on July 5, however, brought the matter to head again, but it was not until the other day that the grave was opened. The penalty for offering indignity to human remains is a very severe one, and the attention of the county attorney has been drawn to the case.

LABOUR THRILLS

(Continued From Page One.)

Labour, her advocate, in a private waiting room.

Under a Strain.

After Judge Albanel and his associates had taken their places on the bench, Mme. Caillaux entered the prisoner's enclosure without hesitation and with an air of making herself at home. She was dressed precisely as she had been on the first day of her trial. She took off and folded her jacket, and looked quickly around at the crowded court, dark circles under her eyes and her quick, nervous gestures, however, seemed to betray the strain she was undergoing.

Joseph Caillaux, the prisoner's husband, then entered the court and took his place among the witnesses. He was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of bystanders had hooted him and shouted insults at him as he left the prison after his talk with his wife.

Two other boys from the Figue were the first witnesses today. They described the arrival at the office of Mrs. Caillaux. They told how she waited and gave details of her entrance into the room occupied by General Caillaux and of their hearing shots.

One of the boys, Adrien Nicot, crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of low cries to show how he found M. Caillaux sheltering himself behind his desk.

Bourget a Witness.

Paul Bourget, the "immortal," who was with Caillaux in his office when Mme. Caillaux's card was brought in, told the jury of the incident.

"I cannot refuse to receive a woman," he replied.

Maitre Laboulet then thrilled the overcrowded court room by reading a dialogue from Bourget's novel "The Demon of the Mid," in which the characters discuss and condemn the publication of the heroine's love letters. Coming immediately after Bourget's eulogy of Caillaux, with which he had closed his testimony, the reading of the dialogue by Maitre Laboulet was regarded by observing lawyers as a masterly stroke.

Maitre Laboulet's voice was musical and full of dramatic feeling. When he had concluded, Paul Bourget remarked: "Literature is not life."

He agreed, however, that private letters ought not to be published, and said he did not believe Caillaux had intended to publish the Caillaux letters.

The scene of the shooting was then reconstructed by a succession of employees of the Figue.

Charles Giraudoux, a reporter, Henri Rousseau, a messenger, and Jean Cerde, a telephone operator, then related portions of their experiences. They said Louis Voisin, of the advertising department, was conversing with Henri Honore, an artist, and Edouard Masson, in the rotunda, when Mme. Caillaux was seeing M. Chalmette.

"We never mentioned Caillaux," said Voisin. "As she said yesterday."

Mme. Caillaux here interposed, saying, "I wish to ask M. Voisin whether one of his friends did not say, 'Is the sheet ready,' and whether Voisin did not answer, 'We have a great paper on Caillaux tomorrow'."

"That is absolutely false," said Voisin.

Mme. Caillaux then heard Voisin say to his friends it costs dear, but we are letting loose the hunting dogs on all sides."

Honore was then called and denied that Caillaux had been mentioned when Masson's deposition was read to the same effect.

CHICAGO GRAIN OPTIONS.
(Special to J. M. Young, Broker.)
Chicago, July 21.

Open. High. Low. Close. July 21.

Wheat— 79 1/2 80 1/4 79 3/4 79 3/4

GREAT FIRE AT PORT STANLEY BEACH

Part of Wrecked Tug Discovered Today—Many Hungarians at White's.

[Canadian Press.]

Port Stanley, July 21.—Part of the wreck of the Scotch wrecking tug that went ashore two years ago, was found this morning on the east shore of Orchard Beach.

Mr. Nicholson and family arrived here this morning on board the S. S. State of Ohio. Mr. Nicholson is the contractor for the Eglinton street extension and construction in the State of Ohio yesterday in the trip from Cleveland to Put-in-Bay was more than 1,000 persons.

Mr. Taylor, of the Commercial House, is suffering from the effects of a paralytic stroke and is seriously ill.

Wh. a station here has been transformed into a camping grounds by about 100 Hungarians employed in the construction of the electrified L. & P. S. R.

A hoodoo is said to hover over the steamer James McKee, unloading at the docks here. First the engine, which has been taken eight days, while, according to old-timers in the port, it should have taken but three days. Johnny Flynn is minus a toe as a result of an accident on board, and another employee is seriously at his home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson and family are staying the rest of the season at Orchard Beach.

Miss Mabel Grant and Miss Bowman are spending a week with Miss Douglas, "Inververie Heights."

Miss Barry, of Port Stanley who cut her hand very badly last week is improving. He is now able to be around and took an active part in searching for the bodies of the two London men who were drowned on Sunday.

Miss Margaret of St. Mary's Falls is summing at Sunrise Bungalow, Port Stanley.

Allen M. Towe left this morning for the ladies of Summerhome on Friday evening, July 24th, on the grounds of S. J. Cox, Orchard Beach. A good friend of Mr. Towe's, Mr. S. J. Cox, a large farmer, Thomas J. Drummond, of Sault Ste. Marie, arrived in Port last night loaded with steel for the electrified L. & P. S. R. Road.

TECUMSEH CUP

(Continued From Page Eight.)

The scores up to 2 o'clock this afternoon were as follows:

LABATT TROPHY.

First Round.

Thistles, 13; Thistles, 13.

J. Bell, sk. 16; 2 Menhinick, 10.

TECUMSEH TROPHY.

Preliminary.

L. Dampier, Strathroy, won by default from J. J. Nolan, Toronto.

R. Diamond, Brantford, won by default from John Knowles, Sarnia.

Paris, London Thistles, 13; E. Haire, sk. 16; W. Gillespie, 8.

Woodstock, Galt.

G. Mahon, sk. 19; E. B. Fawcett, 11.

Elmwood, 13; 13; 13; 13.

Dr. Silcox, sk. 19; C. Monteith, 17.

Aylmer, Strathroy.

N. Booker, sk. 20; R. E. Crane, 10.

Toronto Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

L. E. Tillson, sk. 13; F. Brown, 10.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

GREAT FIRE AT PORT STANLEY BEACH

Part of Wrecked Tug Discovered Today—Many Hungarians at White's.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Port Stanley, July 21.—Part of the wreck of the Scotch wrecking tug that went ashore two years ago, was found this morning on the east shore of Orchard Beach.

Mr. Nicholson and family arrived here this morning on board the S. S. State of Ohio. Mr. Nicholson is the contractor for the Eglinton street extension and construction in the State of Ohio yesterday in the trip from Cleveland to Put-in-Bay was more than 1,000 persons.

Mr. Taylor, of the Commercial House, is suffering from the effects of a paralytic stroke and is seriously ill.

Wh. a station here has been transformed into a camping grounds by about 100 Hungarians employed in the construction of the electrified L. & P. S. R.

A hoodoo is said to hover over the steamer James McKee, unloading at the docks here. First the engine, which has been taken eight days, while, according to old-timers in the port, it should have taken but three days. Johnny Flynn is minus a toe as a result of an accident on board, and another employee is seriously at his home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson and family are staying the rest of the season at Orchard Beach.

Miss Mabel Grant and Miss Bowman are spending a week with Miss Douglas, "Inververie Heights."

Miss Barry, of Port Stanley who cut her hand very badly last week is improving. He is now able to be around and took an active part in searching for the bodies of the two London men who were drowned on Sunday.

Miss Margaret of St. Mary's Falls is summing at Sunrise Bungalow, Port Stanley.

Allen M. Towe left this morning for the ladies of Summerhome on Friday evening, July 24th, on the grounds of S. J. Cox, Orchard Beach. A good friend of Mr. Towe's, Mr. S. J. Cox, a large farmer, Thomas J. Drummond, of Sault Ste. Marie, arrived in Port last night loaded with steel for the electrified L. & P. S. R. Road.

TECUMSEH CUP

(Continued From Page Eight.)

The scores up to 2 o'clock this afternoon were as follows:

LABATT TROPHY.

First Round.

Thistles, 13; Thistles, 13.

J. Bell, sk. 16; 2 Menhinick, 10.

TECUMSEH TROPHY.

Preliminary.

L. Dampier, Strathroy, won by default from J. J. Nolan, Toronto.

R. Diamond, Brantford, won by default from John Knowles, Sarnia.

Paris, London Thistles, 13; E. Haire, sk. 16; W. Gillespie, 8.

Woodstock, Galt.

G. Mahon, sk. 19; E. B. Fawcett, 11.

Elmwood, 13; 13; 13; 13.

Dr. Silcox, sk. 19; C. Monteith, 17.

Aylmer, Strathroy.

N. Booker, sk. 20; R. E. Crane, 10.

Toronto Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

L. E. Tillson, sk. 13; F. Brown, 10.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

London Thistles, 13; 13; 13; 13.

RICH MINERAL FIND REPORTED

Strike in Seseekinko Lake
District of Northern Ontario
Is Causing Excitement.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, July 21.—Findings of a new mineral strike in Northern Ontario which bids fair to open up an important mining district have been brought to Montreal by John A. Smith, a mining man of this city. This latest centre of excitement is in the Seseekinko Lake district, on the T. & N. O. Railway, some forty miles southeast of Porcupine. It was stated by Mr. Smith that the real importance of the discovery lay in the fact that for the first time in Ontario tellurides carrying gold and silver values have been discovered. The quartz formation with the telluride veins running through is similar to those found at the Cripple Creek mines.

Rich Samples. Mr. Smith brought back with him fifty pounds of samples, taken from various veins, and not specially selected. These showed that on the pieces taken from the pay streaks the values ran around forty dollars per ton, in gold, with about twenty ounces of silver. The various samples running around fifty dollars a ton, which is considered exceptionally rich ore for a milling proposition.

"So far as I could see," said Mr. Smith, "the prospects extend over a wide area. While the veins are not excessively large, averaging about sixteen inches in width, new finds are constantly being reported and it is impossible to say what may develop there especially in view of the richness of the ore which so far has been obtained."

Mr. Smith said that the veins were perfectly free and easily traced along the surface. The whole question, as at Central was as to whether the veins would continue down to any extent. "From what I saw," said Mr. Smith, "there is indication that the veins will continue down and it looks like the real thing. This, however, will be proved before long, as engineers and mining men are now in and a lot of development work is bound to be done during the present summer, when shafts and cross-cutting will reveal what the various veins amount to."

No Smallpox For Week.—It has been a week since any new cases of smallpox have been reported in London and only six cases are now at the Cope Hospital, Chairman Burdett, of the Health Board, said today. He thought the situation was pretty well in hand and with the co-operation of physicians the board would like to stamp it out entirely by July.

Pleased With New Lights.—Officials