In places with not more than a population of 20,000 a guardian should be appointed by the sheriff and in other places by the boards of trade. The bill was read a first time.

On the third reading of the bill to incorporate the reverend oblate fathers of the North West, Mr. Blake proposed an amend nent that ten years after the corporation should have acquired any property, they should not be permitted to hold any more than was required for their own use. The motion was carried and the amendment was inserted in the bill, which then passed the third reading.

An amendment was moved in the Credit Foncier Franco Canadien bill, that the corporation be not permitted to charge a higher rate of interest than 8-per cent., including the cost of administration. A division took place on Mr. Auger's motion for the six months' hoist, but instead of the measure being elevated the motion stself was floored by a vote of 35 for and
