

TORTURED FROM BABYHOOD

"Fruit-a-lives" Cures Constipation

Miss E. A. GOODALL
BRIMSTON, ALTA., Nov. 20th, 1911

"I have been a sufferer since babyhood from that terrible complaint, Constipation. I have been treated by physicians, and have taken every medicine I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I finally concluded that there was no remedy in the world that could cure Constipation."

"About this time, I heard about 'Fruit-a-lives' and decided to try them. The effect was marvellous. The first box gave me great relief, and after I had used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well."

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine that ever did me any good and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—"Try this fruit medicine and you will find—as I did—a perfect cure!"

(Mrs.) E. A. GOODALL
"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit and the only one that will positively and completely cure you of Constipation.

Sec. a box, 6 for $1.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

IRON ORE SHIPMENTS.

W. F. C. Parsons, chief engineer of the Canadian Iron Corporation, whose works are at Nictaux, N.S., says that the industry has progressed so well that by the coming season they will ship 100,000 tons of hematite ore, a good market being found in the United States, Germany, in Scotland, and elsewhere. They employ about 150 men, and ship at Port Wade, a very well sheltered harbor on the Bay of Fundy, where there is twenty-six feet of water, at low tide and where a steamer took a full cargo late as the 25th of December. In fact the Government spent $125,000 on a fine wharf at this point, and the Canadian Iron Corporation have erected thereon ore receivers, holding 8,000 tons, and they can load 1,000 tons of ore an hour into the steamers. The shipping is done over the Halifax and South Western, Port Wade, named after an able representative of Annapolis County in the House of Commons, being their shipping port. The Dominion Atlantic also runs near the deposits, and Mr. Parsons says that the big company is spending a lot of money getting their fine property into shape for carrying traffic in a much more efficient manner than under the old regime.

Funeral of the Late John Howe Savary

His Remains Arrived in Digby Tuesday Morning, 11th inst.—Interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

The remains of the late John Howe Savary, a notice of whose death appeared in our last issue, arrived here Tuesday morning, says the Digby Courier, via St. John, and were conveyed to J. F. Rice's undertaking rooms, First Avenue, and from there to Forest Hill cemetery, the services at the grave being conducted by Rev. Wm. Driffield, rector of Holy Trinity Church, Digby. The pall bearers were Mayor H. B. Short, F. W. Nichols, T. E. G. Lynch and O. S. Dunham.

Accompanying the father, Judge Savary, and brother, Rev. Thomas Savary, (rector at Kingston, Ont.), from Annapolis were Rev. Mr. How, Rev. Mr. Muir, Judge Owen, George E. Corbett, Esq., and other prominent citizens of that town and Grandville Ferry. The floral tributes were beautiful, among which were a splendid floral wreath from the citizens of Virden, Manitoba, forwarded by Rev. Mr. Robertson; a beautiful wreath from the Bank of Ottawa staff at Regina, and many others, a complete list of which was difficult to obtain.

Before removing to Saskatchewan, Mr. Savary spent several years at Virden, Manitoba, where he was a great favorite in the social life of the place. He was a vestryman and auditor of the church, prominent in the Tennis Club and Athletic Club, and manager of an amateur dramatic club. When he left that place for a post further west, he and a colleague who left with him were given a public dinner by the citizens.

In a letter from Regina, in which much is said in regard to his efficiency as a banker, the following paragraph gives an account of his death as far as it is known:

"How the poor boy came to his end does not seem altogether clear. He had been at the theatre in the evening with some of the boys from the bank and came home with them, apparently in the best of spirits, went to his room, got partly ready for bed and was apparently sitting on his bed when the pistol was discharged. He had in his room several fire arms, most of them of very unique pattern, which he kept as curios. Everything points to an accident, for his correspondence and business arrangements, even up to the last day, showed him to have well defined plans for the future."

There were no money difficulties or the slightest hint of any trouble with the bank. Not only in the West where he has resided of late, but also in Nova Scotia he was well and favorably known, and the news of his untimely death was heard with regret by a large circle of friends, who extend their sympathy to the bereaved father, stepmother, to whom he was deeply attached, and to the other members of the family.

Sores From Elbow to Fingers.

ZAM-BUK WORKED A MIRACLE OF HEALING.

REVEREND GENTLEMEN FULLY CORROBORATES.

Miss Kate L. Dolliver, of Caledonia, Queens Co., N. S., says: "I must add my testimony to the value of Zam-Buk. Ulcers and sores broke out on my arm, and although I tried to heal them by using various preparations, nothing seemed to do me any good. The sores spread until from fingers to elbow was one mass of ulceration."

"I had five different doctors, and faithfully carried out their instructions. I drank pint after pint of blood medicines, tried salve after salve, and lotion after lotion; but it was of no avail."

"My father then took me thirty miles to see a well-known doctor. He photographed the arm and hand. This photograph was sent to a New York hospital for the specialist; but they sent word they could do nothing further for me, and I was in despair."

"One day a friend asked me if I had tried Zam-Buk. I said I had not, but I got a box right away. That first box did me more good than all the medicine I had tried up to that time, so I continued the treatment. Every box healed the sores more and more until, to make a long story short, Zam-Buk healed all the sores completely. Everybody in this place knows my case, and that it is Zam-Buk alone which cured me."

Minister corroborates.—The Rev. W. B. M. Parker, of Caledonia, Miss Dolliver's minister, writes: "This is to certify that the testimonial of Miss Dolliver is correct as far as my knowledge goes. I have known her for a year and a half, and her cure effected by Zam-Buk is remarkable."

Wherever there is ulceration, blood-poison, sores, cold cracks, abscesses, cuts, burns, bruises, or any skin injury or disease, there Zam-Buk should be applied. It is also a sure cure for piles. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse cheap and harmful imitations and substitutes.

Experiments to Find Origin of Cancer

Berlin, Feb. 15.—The results of experiments to find the origin of cancer are published by Prof. Johannes Fibiger, director of the Pathological Institute at Copenhagen, in the clinical weekly. These show cancerous growths in the esophagus and stomachs of rodents due to the presence of worms in the alimentary tract, an indeterminate number of which are from the common kitchen cockroach. Prof. Fibiger succeeded in producing cancer by feeding the parasite eggs of cockroaches to rats.

The experiments are considered as being of great importance to seekers for a cure of cancer as they form the first experimental production of the disease.

The success of civilization depends on the success of the mutual understanding between class and class, and the workings together of these in sympathy.

Joker's Corner.

MISLEADING.

Bill Smith, a country shopkeeper, went to the city to buy goods. They were sent immediately, and reached home before he did. When the boxes were delivered, Mrs. Smith, who was keeping the shop, uttered a scream, seized a hatchet and began frantically to open the largest one.

"What's the matter, Sarah?" said one of the bystanders who had watched her in amazement.

Pale and faint, Mrs. Smith pointed to an inscription on the box. It read: "Bill inside."

BET THEY WERE READ.

One day little Willie's mother missed him for some time, and when he reappeared she asked: "Where have you been, my pet?"

"Playing postman," replied the "pet." "I gave letters to all the houses in our road. Real letters, too."

"Where on earth did you get them?" questioned his mother in amusement, which changed to horror when he answered: "They were those old ones in your wardrobe drawer tied up with ribbon."

UNNECESSARY INSTRUCTIONS.

"Now, Tommy," said his mother, giving her final instructions before he left for the Christmas party, "remember, if you're asked to have something you want, you must say 'Yes, thank you,' and if you don't want it—"

Tommy raised his hand. "That's all right, ma," he said, "you needn't bother about that part of it."

THE MINISTER'S SLIP.

A man returning to his native town after a long absence met his former pastor. After mentioning various friends the man asked: "Oh, by the way, when do you expect to see Deacon Smith again?"

"Never," said the minister, solemnly; "the Deacon is in Heaven."

"Hoo is it Jermes, that ye mak' sic an enormous profit aff yer potatoes? Yer price is lower than any ither in the toon and ye mak' extra reductions fer yer friends."

"Weel, ye see, I knock aff twa shillins a ton because a customer is a friend o' mine, an' then I jist tak' two hundrethweight aff the ton because I'm a friend o' his."

SURE IT WAS SAFE.

"You say that your airship is absolutely safe," said the investigator. "Now, how can you make that statement?"

"We haven't been able to get it to leave the ground," replied the inventor.

Sharp—"What in the world are you doing?"

Mrs. Sharp—"What am I doing? I'm sowing the seeds of enlightenment to poor down-trodden women."

Sharp—"Well, instead of sowing any more seeds you'd better go home and sew some buttons on my shirts"

Editor—"Did you get this idea out of your own head?"

Artist (eagerly)—"Yes, sir."

Editor—"Do you feel any better?"

W. J. KELLY, OF KELLY VILLA, AYLESFORD, DEAD.

We have received a few lines from Mrs. W. J. Kelly conveying the sad news of the death on Jan. 29th, at Brooklyn, N. Y., of Mr. Kelly at the age of seventy-four years.

For several years Mr. Kelly spent his summers at his beautiful residence, Kelly Villa, at Aylesford, N.S. He had been in poor health the past year, and last summer was unable to make his annual visit to Nova Scotia.

In his younger days Mr. Kelly followed the printing business, attaining a high position in the craft. A dozen years ago he was sent to St. Petersburg to install the first color printing press in that city.

During his visits to Nova Scotia, Mr. Kelly made warm friends who will hear with regret of his death.—Outlook.

When we have reached a time when the unkindness of others hurt us less for its being the cause of unhappiness to ourselves, than because it is a wrong done to themselves and to God, we are not far from the charity which "rejoices not in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth." And when this universal charity has even to some small extent become ours, then we can be as sunshine to the lives of others, a fire by which the worn and weary can rest and warm themselves.

The Golden Crested Wren.
The golden crested wren is the smallest not only of British but of all European birds. Its average weight is only about eight grains troy. The length of the feathers is about three and a half inches and the stretch of the wings about five inches, but when the feathers are taken off the length of the body does not exceed one inch.

The Scilly Isles.
Only five of the Scilly Isles are inhabited.

Margaret Brent.
The first woman to claim the right to vote in a legislative body in America was Margaret Brent, in 1647, in Maryland. She was a relative of Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore, and the representative of Leonard Calvert, the governor, who told her to "take all and pay all." She claimed the right and was granted the right of acting as the lord proprietor's attorney.
