It seems that, in addition to New York's regular mock-auction swindles, a new device to rob the unwary has just been brought to notice, the noble horse being the "fresh line of goods" offered for sale by hogus auctioners, who advertise the sale of fast trotters, belonging to some of our most prominent entry me: when, in fact, the horses thus sold are broken-down backs, declared for the occasion, while the names of the prominent canon, while the names of the prominent officens are used without their knowledge. Alllough these begus sales have been going on for some time, their fraudulont character has not been made public until now. A STREAK OF LUCK-A well known under taker of New York was at Jerome Park, Tuesday, when a little colored lad, attracted by his pleasant countenance—undertakors always have pleasant countenances—approached him, and sail, "Boss, I done got but $2.50, and I want somebody to go in with me on a tecket." "What horse do you with me on a ticket." "What horse do you want to bet on ?" inquired the builder of our last houses. "Janet Norton," said the picaninny, "she's shore to win." "All right," said the undertaker, and, thinking there might be something in the point, he took the young coony's $2.50, added $12.50 of his own, and bought three tickets. They yielded $765. OCCIDENT.—This famous California pet was exhibited at the late California State was exhibited at the late California State Fair, held at Sacramento, when he was given a mile trial for the benefit of an admiring auditory. As James Tennant drove the little trotter from the score, the pecule applauded loudly. Tennant put Occident easily about the track once and then to the half-smile pole, from which he began to get him under headway, and as he came to the score he was in good motion, trotting with that fong, powerful, and yet quick and precise stop which excites the admiration of the fancier. He left the score, going nicely, but not pushed for speed, passed the quarter in St, the half in 1:10 or 1:11, as watches differed, and came to the score in 2:26, making no skips and not being at all worried by his spin. The exhibition seemed to afford much pleasure to the spectators. pleasure to the spectators.

A MAGNIFICENT PRESENT I The proprietors of the Sporting Times.

have much pleasure in announcing to their patrons that they have made arrangements patrons that they have made arrangements to present a magnificent horse picture to their advance paying subscribers for the year 1878-7. Realizing the importance of this undertaking, and being determined to offer our subscribers a picture that should in itself be worthy of the paper it represents, and which should be treasured as a work of art; after culling over the finest productions of the American press, we selected the beautiful chromo of GOLDEMITH MAID, printed in nine colors and innumerable shades, size 181 by 24 inches, believing, as our friends wilk when they see it, that it is the finest horse picture ever published in America. It is not to be confounded with the miserable pictures when they see it, that it is the finest herse picture ever published in America. It is not to be confounded with the miserable pictures hawked around the country by some journals, but is really a work of high art and intrinsically of more value than we receive for our yearly subscription. She is represented standing in a box stall stripped, and in this position the picture, from which the chromo is reproduced, was painted by one of the first artists in the profession in America. When va mished and mounted it is impossible to distinguish between the chromo and a very fine oil-painting. It is a work of art worthy of a place in the finest collections in the country, and what adds to its value it is the only correct likeness of Goldostant Mado ever published. As a memento of the most remarkable trotting equine inthe world, shortly to be relegated from the turf, it will be treasured by every horseman in the country, more especially by those who have seen the little mare in any of her races. This picture was sold by subscription only a few months ago for $5 a picce, and copies of it were in great demand. We expect in this liberal gift to more than double our subscription list in the next three months, and if our friends who receive the picture will only show it to their acquaintances and inform them how they may get a copy, we are sure our anticipations will be realized. The picture how they may get a copy, we are sure our anticipations will be realized. The picture can be procured in no other way, we do not sell it; and only give it to those who remit
