

OUR MONTHLY.

SOMETHING NEW IN LIFE INSURANCE LITERATURE.

The Insurance Press

Will soon publish a pamphlet of unique character and interest, devoted to the subject of

Life Insurance FOR Women

~ ~ AS regarded by twenty women of national prominence—authors, educators, physicians, etc.

The opinions of these ladies are accompanied by their portraits and autographs, and embody the first instance of the collection and publication of opinions from representative women on this subject.

In size the pamphlet is to be about 4x5 inches, of between forty and fifty pages, printed and illustrated in the best style, in every way worthy of its subject.

Now that most companies insure women on the same terms as men, and are making efforts to secure such business, it is confidently expected by T. I. P. that this new publication will fulfill its mission by strengthening the hands of the women agents of our country, and largely increase the number of their sex who are policy-holders.

Price for 1,000, 5,000, or 10,000 copies, will be quoted on application.

Send 15 Cents for Specimen Copy.

The Insurance Press,

Franklin Webster,

Editor and Publisher,

Room 1101, 101 Cedar Street, New York City.