Tar Fier Jackson leads in wall-pape.

The man who talks the most about this being "a free country," is doing the least to keep it free.

In a tagging contest engaged in on Dominion Day by the McGregor Kilty Club, the winner brought in $28.70. However, License Inspector Stone is the champion tagger in these parts. He recently "tagged" three w.k. citizens for infractions of article 17 of the Ontario Temperance Act, and the net result to the Commonwealth was $627.30. Some "tagger" say we.

No word has yet been received regarding Flt. Lieut. Robert Bennie who has been missing on the Western front since June 5th.

Allan Wemp, late of the 4th C. M. R., was in town last week renewing old acquaintances. Allan was blown off of a stretcher by shrapnel while being carried to the dressing station. He looks fine and is very optimistic regarding the war.

Pte. Verne White, who lost a leg on the Somme, arrived in Leamington on Monday evening, July 23rd, and was given a rousing reception. The town turned out in full force and the Citizens' Band played "When My Boy Comes Back to Me.'

Geo. Reid, now attached to the flying corps at Kingston, in company with another birdman, started for Leamington ten days ago. George got as far as Chatham, while his companion reached Leamington and after circling over the town at an altitude of 8,000 feet, returned to Kingston. The trip here occupied three and one haif hours. Come again boys, and next time light and stay a minute, a minute and a half, or two minutes any way.

Captain Hindsman, C.R.O. of this district, and Major Balfour, were in town recently. While here they called upon several young men and found many well defined cases of "frigidty of the pedal extremities." Major Burgess told the "Whizz-Bang" that this was a medical term for "cold feet." Burgess told the "Whizz-

AT PETROGRAD AND OTTAWA

Rioting in Petrograd is just as useful to the Allied cause, in the present crisis, as electioneering at Ottawa. HAVE YOU WRITTEN worth), Wright.

TO MOTHER?

Pray may I ask you, worthy lad, Whose smile no care can smother: Though busy life throbs round about, Have you written home to mother?

You are fast forgetting, aren't you, quite.

How fast the weeks went flying; And that a little, blotted sheet, Unanswered, still is lying?

Den't you remember how she stood. With wistful glance at parting? Don't you remember how the tears Were in her soft eyes starting?

Have you forgotten how her arm Stole round you to caress you? Have you forgotten those low words; "Good-by, my son, God bless you?

Oh, do not wrong her patient love, Save God's there is no other So faithful through all mists of sin; Fear not to write to mother.

Tell her how hard it is to walk, As walked the Master, lowly; Tell her how hard it is to keep A man's life pure and holy.

Tell her to keep the lamp of prayer A light, a beacon burning; Whose beams shall reach you far Shall lure your soul returning.

Tell her you love her dearly still, For fear some sad to-morrow Shall bear away the listening soul, And leave you lost in sorrow.

And then through bitter, falling tears, And sighs you may not smother, You will remember when too late You did not write to mother.

A Yankee clinched his heated argument with an Englishman as to the relative size of the Thames and Mississippi by saying:

"Why, look here, mister, there ain't enough water in the whole of the Thames to make a gargle for the mouth of the Mississippi."
