

History in the Queen's University, Belfast, 1909-19, and has been Professor of Mediaeval History in the University of Manchester since 1919. He married the daughter of Dr. Lindsay, the historian of the Reformation, and has a very nice family. His age is 43. He is Hon. Litt.D. of Liverpool. His address is the University, Manchester. I have not the least idea whether he would be willing to move, but you may be glad to have his name, in confidence, for consideration when you come over.

3. I am afraid I cannot help you about the chair of Classics. I asked Rhys Roberts whether he knew anyone, but drew blank.

Yours very truly,

 e. Sadder.
