

CONTENTS.

v

PAGE		PAGE
. 22
. 23	Reasons inducing Cromwell to this act . . . . .	70
. 25	Jamaica during the Commonwealth . . . . .	74
. 26	The character of Fortescue . . . . .	75
. 27	And of D'Oyley . . . . .	77
. 28	His kindness towards the Quakers . . . . .	78
. 29	Guiana. Harcourt again attempts to colonize it . . . . .	79
. 31	The noble objects proposed to himself therein . . . . .	80
. 32	A like spirit evinced in the Pamphlet of J. D., in aid of Lord Berkshire's settlement . . . . .	82
	Surinam . . . . .	85
	Puritan influences . . . . .	86
	Leverton and Oxenbridge . . . . .	87

E TIME

II.

CHAPTER XII.

AFRICA, INDIA, AND THE LEVANT, IN THE TIME OF
CHARLES I. AND THE COMMONWEALTH.

A.D. 1625—1660.

by	SLAVERY . . . . .	90
	The opinions of Las Casas . . . . .	91
	And of Dominic Soto . . . . .	92
	The growth of Slavery in the English Colonies . . . . .	94
	AFRICA . . . . .	95
	The English sometimes enslaved by the Moors. Remedial measures . . . . .	96
	Fitz-Geffry's Sermons on this subject . . . . .	97
	The second African Company, 1631 . . . . .	101
	INDIA . . . . .	102
	Progress of the English . . . . .	103
er-	Failure of the second East India Company, 1637. St. Helena acquired, 1651 . . . . .	104
	Conflicting claims of the English and Dutch in India recon- ciled, 1654 . . . . .	105
	Causes why no systematic effort was then made to evangelize India . . . . .	106