SAYS CANADIAN BOOTS WERE GOOD

But the Men Dried Them Before Roaring Fires After Wet Days.

NOT GIVEN FAIR CHANCE

Sergeant Bayliss of Mount Dennis Returns Home on Sick List.

Bitterly disappointed, but determined to have another try for the front, is the case of Sergeant Joe Bayliss, who has just arrived at Mount Dennis, having been invalided home after a severe attack of pneumonia.

Sergeant Bayliss left last fall with the 9th Mississauga Horse Infantry Company for Valcartier after spending about two days at Long Branch, when he acted as orderly-room sergeant. At Bustard Camp, said to have been the worst point on the plains in regard to rain and mud, the company became "B" Company of the 2nd Battalion, one of the Ontario regiments, and later was drafted into the 9th Battalion. This battalion continued to be billeted in tents until the departure for France, and for some time far from well, Sergeant Bayliss remained with the company till, breaking down before reaching the firing line, he, to his great disappointment, was sent to the base at Shorncliffe, thence to Tidwell, and finally sailed from Liverpool for the hospital at Halifax with other invalided soldiers.

Including some of the wounded of the Princess Patricia's Regiment. Some little while ago, Sergeant Bayliss was thrust of a bayonet, to tell of experience at the front, established the latter as in a class by themselves, to which, to their deep chagrin, they were merely sick could not aspire.

Submarine Sunk. Three days out from Liverpool the Misanable was conveyed by a British destroyer, which, one day out, reported the sinking of a German submarine. During these days all men in uniform were kept below decks.

Sergeant Bayliss expresses himself enthusiastically regarding the qualities of the Canadian soldier. While zeal tempered at first to exertion, and the breaking of records in marching, at the end of the marching and discipline were splendid. When it came to the final review before the King, the men compared favorably, says Sergeant Bayliss, with the best of the British army could produce.

Great activity prevailed even when the Canadian contingent left for France in providing quarters for soldiers all over the Plains and in other parts. Buildings, each for the accommodation of about 50 soldiers, were being erected in all directions, and the short journey from London to the port of embarkation for France, no less than four camps, with railways in connection, were passed.

Had Good Boots. Sergeant Bayliss has a good word for the boots issued to the contingent at Valcartier. He himself has brought back the two pairs issued to him worn through by him. With one pair, the soles have only now shown signs of being worn thru. In many cases by a being worn thru. In many cases by a being worn thru. In many cases by a being worn thru.

TODMORDEN Several matters of local interest will be discussed at a meeting of the Todmorden Ratepayers' Association, to be held in St. Andrew's Parish Hall on Monday night. Some action in this regard will probably be taken by the association. The sewer and police protection questions being discussed.

JUST TWENTY CENTS FOR BRICKLAYERS

Charge That Union Rates Are Not Being Paid on School Building.

At the last meeting of the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association, devoted largely to the discussion of educational matters and attended by Chairman Hodgson and William Houston, the charge was made that workmen employed on the high and public schools of the city, more particularly in the north end, were not receiving the union rate of wages. It was also charged that a number of foreigners were being employed on the completion of the Daviville Public and North Toronto High Schools.

The chairman of the board stated that if any case of this kind came before the members and charges were proven, an investigation would follow and the contractor dealt with.

It is now stated that bricklayers on the Daviville Public School are working for 20 cents an hour, while the foreman receives 25 cents; concrete mixers, 25 cents an hour, and the foreman, 20 cents. Carpenters on the North Toronto High School are working for 25 cents an hour, and a fact that is arousing a good deal of resentment is that the foreman on the Daviville School comes from Kentucky.

It is proposed to go at once to the city hall, place the matter before the proper authorities, and demand not only an increase in the rate paid, but the payment of back wages.

Real Estate Brighter. Goddard and Marshall report an opening up of the real estate market in the real estate business of Mount Dennis, many enquiries for land having been received within the last few days, although no actual purchases have been made. Some of these enquiries refer to land of an acre or more in extent, to be used for garden purposes.

About one hundred men are now employed on the Kodak factory building, and it is anticipated that more help will be required next week.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been spoiled. Besides, it takes off dandruff, keeps itching and falling hair, and you just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wych's Sage and Sulphur is the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

DUTY FALLS UPON EVERY CANADIAN

Sick and Wounded Must Be Cared For and Will Be.

FURTHER CALL MADE

Red Cross Society Needs Assistance to Cope With Situation.

The list of casualties that appear regularly in the Canadian newspapers cannot fail to bring home the grim realities and tragedy of war and the duty that falls upon each citizen of this country to take his or her share in the burden that all must bear in order that the cause may triumph in the end. The soldiers have not only borne their baptism of fire but have taken a prominent part in the greatest single engagement since the battle of the Marne. The casualties are heavy; but not too heavy for the splendid results that were gained, and the bravery and steadiness of the brave soldiers from the Dominion have won the admiration of the hitherto British soldiers, from the commander-in-chief down to the humble Tommy.

The appeal of the Red Cross Society never went out to the people of Canada with greater fervor or encouragement than today, and it is impossible to sufficiently impress upon the men and women of the country the great need for further assistance and encouragement. The hospitals that the people of Canada have equipped by their generosity have now within their walls to health in order that they may be able once more to take their places in the battle line. Their thoughts are turning to their loved ones across the broad expanse of water that separates them from the homes they left, and they are looking to the men and women of Canada to do their share and do it in a larger measure than ever before.

The Canadian Red Cross Society believes that the money will be forthcoming, however large may be the sum required. The war presses upon all classes, but all classes cheerfully acknowledge their debt to the wounded. It is a debt of honor and a debt of duty. It is a debt, besides, of gratitude and love. These men have given their life blood for the sake of Canada and the Empire. Canada will not weary of tending them in their homes, but if this country is to do its part, it must be according to their abilities, and the remotest parts of the Dominion have contributed to the Red Cross.

The generosity with which the people of Canada have given to the needs of the Red Cross Society has made the pleasure they take in it, and their satisfaction with the work they are doing, their money has been applied, and they are asked once more to continue their contributions to this best of all causes, until the Red Cross has nursed and soothed the very last who bleed for Canada in this war.
