To Drain Street Crossings.

The board of health yesterday aftermoon adopted the recommendation of the works committee that the street crossings along the radial line at Keith and Dalhousie streets be drained, and a recommendation to the effect was forwarded to the provincial board. Dr. Shain reported that the Canadian Northern Railway Co. had started to make sewer connections with its houses in the northern portion of the city, as ordered, and it was decided that steps should not be taken in the matter for another week.

Hamilton's contribution to the British Red Cross fund is now over $52,000, according to an announcement made yes-

Subsistance Grant Cut.

Major Robertson, chief recruiting officer for Hamilton, has received official motification that a change will be made in the subsistance allowance for recruits. Heretofore the allowance has been 75c per day, but after Nov. 1 single men will be paid 50c and married men 75c per day, but separation allowances will not be granted until the men are drafted for overseas service.

Little attention is being paid to the report that "D" company of the 86th Machine Gun Battalion is to be drafted for overseas service immediately. Officers recently arrived from Niagara camp state that nothing has been heard there of the order, and state that there is little likelihood of this company being drafted, as there are several other battalions that have been in training much longer than the 86th, and it is expected that draft in the control of the company being drafted. have been in training much longer than the 86th, and it is expected that drafts will be taken from these first. As this company was recruited from Welland the battailon will be composed solely of Hamilton men if it is to be drafted.

Sir Sam's Address.

"Canada's Duty in the War" was the subject of Sir Sam's address. He was delighted with the magnificent turnout and expressed appreciation of of humanity the wide world over.
"I want to say that I appreciate the honor conferred on me in England, because of the soldier boys of Canada, on whose account I feel it was manufacture of war material in Ger-many. Humanity of all lands for the adians could hold a regiment of Germany. Humanity of all lands for the past generation has been kept in semidread by the autocratic German sovereign, and it is not to be wondered at that this depression was felt in Can-ada one year and a quarter ago."

Made in Canada. At that time Sir Sam received instructions from the imperial govern-ment to place contracts for 200,000 shells in the United States for the British Government. "I knew that Canada had many splendid plants standing idle, skilled workmen idle, and mouths in want of bread. We were making shells in Quebec, and I felt that if shells could be manufactured."

"Oh, those fellows can't / hit anything."

"Toronto has done well in recruiting, and I am proud of you," the speaker said. "But you must remember that many other centres have done well, too. No one municipality has a that if shells could be manufactured in Quebec the same work could be carin Quebec the same work could be carried on thruout Canada. But capital "I am not in favor of conscription," said the minister of militia, at which "I found that a firm in Nova Scotia manufactured steel suitable for shells. Hamilton followed suit, as did Sydney and Toronto, and since the war broke out 360,355,000 pounds of steel have been manufactured into shells; 329 factories are making war material; 250 more are ready to go on with the work, and I have heard from ten thousand young men who are ready system, which has been in force only

United States was 40 cents per pound. So much for the bread and butter aspect of the war to the Canadian peo-

Sir Sam then turned his remarks toward the fighting end of the great struggle that is now going on. He explained how the Canadian Government had, under the leadership of Sir Robert Borden, a little over a year ago offered to the British Government a corps, placing the number at about 7,000 men. "It wa sthought by many that we could not send a division and maintain it in the field. Incidentally, when talking over the matter with Sir John French at the front, I assured him that I could place 30,000 men in the field if necessary. We called for the division, and let me say, it has been said that the British Government asked for troops; he such recent here. asked for troops; no such request has been made, nor will such be made during this war. The Canadian Gov-ernment offered the troops; the call went forth; Valcartier was selected and in the short space of two weeks not seventeen but thirty-five thousand men from all parts of Canada assem-bled on that magnificent plain to de their share for King and country and the priceless gem of liberty."

Causes of the War. Sir Sam went back to the causes of the war and explained that Germany and Austria, supreme on land, aspired to become supreme on sea and impose the autocracy of the Hohenzollern race upon the people of the world. Of the Canadian Cadets, the speake said 20,000 out of 60,000 were already under arms across the sea. Sir Sam reviewed briefly the work of the militia department in organizing the first contingent. In less than three weeks, he said, 35,000 soldiers were equipped and armed at Valcartier and trained as men were never trained before. Every day they received extensive target practice, and finally some of the regiments showed as high as 721/ per cent, marksmanship, rapid firing, "shooting that never was surpassed in the history of the world," according to the minister of militia Best Shots in World.

"They crossed the sea in 33 ships, each ship carrying on an average of about 1,000 of the finest boys that ever sailed from any country."

Sir Sam praised the Belgian nation which made it possible for Britain and France to get small armies into the field in time to tide the rush of German troops. The speaker eulogized the masterful retreat of the British army. Speaking of the grand work of the British cavalry, he said. "General Bridges himself told me that in that retreat he has seen the cavalry wheel and go thru the German ranks three and four times, and always return victorious."

"On the evening of April 22 last our boys held the left of the British line for several thousand yards. On their left were the French colonials. The Germans for the first time in the history of civilized warfare used poison broke, leaving the Canadian line in the air, as it were. Our boys threw their left flank back a little and met the onslaught. Must Have Equipment. According to Sir Sam, Canada now had 160,000 men under arms and 15,000 ada, on whose account I feel it was conferred.

"When war broke out a period of depression was over the whole civilized world, and the great cause of the depression was the uncertainty existing in the great business minds of the world, brought about by the rattle of the kaiser's sabre, and the constant manufacture of war material in Germann and 160,000 men under arms and 15,000 in training, for whom there were no arms or equipment. The minister said the great difficulty was not to get the men, but to equip and train them fast enough. "By spring we will have more men than we are able to equip," he said. The speaker said untrained men were useless and declared that it was proven at St. Julien that 10 or 20 Canmans in check.

He told of walking along the front line trenches in Flanders and seeing a Canadian soldier calmly leaning out of his trench parapet and gazing over at the German trenches 85 yards distant. "I asked him why he so needlessly ex-posed himself," Sir Sam said, and he replied:

Mayor Waugh of Winnipeg challenged the statement lenged the statement of Mayor Church that Toronto was the recruiting centre of Canada. "I am going to tell that statement at our next recruiting meeting, and I offer the challenge to Toronto to recruit ten per cent. of her population before Winnipeg which has now six per cent, under arms," he

"Providence evidently has blessed us with a bountiful crop because we needed it As soon as our young men come back from harvesting that crop they will be ready to flock to the colors, and I know that Winniper's recruiting will take a big jump then."

The speaker, who has one son wounded in France, said he thanked God that when the news of his son's injury reached him, a second son was already on the way to France to take his place.
"And he didn't need any recruiting meeting to make him go, either," he

Davenports and Easy Chairs That Speak of Ease and Comfort in Every Line and Curve

No. 1500-Davenport 7 ft. Long, with Deep Spring Seat, Murray-Kay's Own Upholstery. Price in Denim, $50.00.

Murray-Kay Davenports and Easy Chairs are as different from ordinary factory productions as a ready-to-wear house dress is from a gown by Paquin or Cheruit.

Each of our Chairs and Davenports is an individual production. From the webbing of the seat frame upon which the springs rest, up through the various processes by which the springs, curled horsehair, canvas, webbing, etc., are combined together so as to give the utmost in softness and resiliency, the work is done by an expert upholsterer, and will stand the hard test of long years of usage in the family living-rooms or the club lounge.

For the designs we went to England, where the making of luxuriously comfortable upholstery has been practised for generations, and has been carried to perfection. A selection of Sofas and Easy Chairs of various sizes was imported and carefully studied, with the result that we are able to show a collection of upholstered furniture, made by expert upholsterers in our own workrooms, that will stand the closest comparison in every point of style, quality and comfort with the best imported productions.

The Davenport illustrated is a representative piece from the great collection of this furniture displayed on our Fourth Floor.

The way to judge of Easy Chairs and Davenports is to sit in them, and we cordially invite you to visit the Store and try out in this way any of the pieces that take your fancy.

Murray-Kay upholstery does not require months of use to make it soft and springy. It is comfortable to start with, and will stay so through years of
