e par-

rtunes

then

er the

which

h the

thern

peace

place,

ts the

LIN's

ions I

en he

dread-

is first

being

-how

world

ty im-

ith an ne na-

refig-

n, the

were

Soon

coun-

f men

bjects.

afures

men;

der-

it, en-

sposed

ent of

the

The

he colonial legislatures;—and as was natural to xpect, ran like wild fire from one end to the ther of this vast Northern Continent, and roused he peaceable, loyal, but spirited Americans, who s one man, felt indignant on this open violation f their liberties. If my memory does not fail ne, the omnipotence of the British Parliament vas first called in question in the house of Bureses in that highly favored spot of heaven, Virginia -But as I would not wish to descend too far into articulars, on a prefumption that the history of he times are in the hands of most of the citizens; t it suffice when I say that previous to the reeal of that detestable Stampt /1ct, that in full arliament they declared that they had, and ever ad a right to tax the unrepresented colonies of America, in all cases whatever.—I appeal to your andor and good judgment to determine whether t was not in the supreme sense of the word, a fatal' ab into the very vitals of our then liberties; s for my own individual part, I construe this nemorable epoch to be a fulfillment of the second ne in the first section.

2d.

" When the Cock shall woo the Dove,

" The Mother the Child shall cease to love."

After passing of the declaratory act, in conseuence of the universal abhorrence with which he stampt Act was held at the hands of the then olonists—and at the hands of the majesty of the eople, the stampt agents were not permitted to ct. It was vainly imagined by some, the British dministration would have let the matter have ested there, as the injuries and grievances of the olonists were warmly espoused by the genuine friends