STRAWBERRIES TO COST MORE

Price Will Be Twelve Cents Per Crate Higher Than Last Year.

"The price of berries in Toronto will be 12 cents per crate higher than last year," was the announcement made by P. W. Hodgets, secretary of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, yesterday. "Owing to the hot weather of the past few weeks, the output has not been so much as last year," said Mr. Hodgets, "and consequently the marketing factors have raised their prices half a cent per box, which will amount to 12 cents per crate more than last year."

"The worst part of it is that next season will be more affected than the present," continued Mr. Hodgets, "as next year's berries were planted during the dry spell, and undoubtedly will have a good chance. The berries now on sale in Toronto are coming from the Niagara district, but several carloads a day may be expected from Clarkson's by next week."

"We'll have lots of berries from now on," added Mr. Hodgets. "The crop is earlier than usual, but it won't last so long as last year. The drought of the past month is accountable for the altered conditions."

12,000 VOLTS THRU HIS BODY.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 12.—(Special).—William Wright, assistant to switchboard operator at Toronto Electrical Development Co.'s plant, was killed instantly to-day by coming in contact with a short-circuited cable at the works.

It is said that 12,000 volts passed thru the man's body. Deceased was 30 years old. He left a wife and two children.

CORNER STONE OF CHURCH LAID BY BISHOP FALLON

Bishop Delivered an Address in French—Ceremony Witnessed by Thousands.

CHATHAM, June 12.—(Special).—His Lordship Bishop Fallon of London at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon laid and blessed the corner stone of the magnificent new church in process of construction at Pain Court, to be known as the Church of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin. The function was carried out with all the solemnity of the beautiful ritual of the Roman Catholic Church, and was witnessed by thousands of people, including members of Pain Court Church and other parishes round about.

The bishop was attended by the following priests: Rev. Frs. James of Chatham, Robert of Windsor, Nicholas of Chatham, Brady of Wallacuburg, Doe of Big Point, Hogan of Merlin, Martin of St. Peter, Ford of Bothwell, and Rev. Father Emery, pastor of the Pain Court Church.

After the ceremony had been completed the bishop delivered an address in French, followed by a few brief remarks in English.

PORCUPINE MERGER TO DEVELOP FIFTY CLAIMS

It is also understood that he advised that there was no need to rush in the inception of development, as favorable opportunities would no doubt present themselves as the development of the camp progressed. The people who sent out Engineer Loring, were Messrs. Bewick-Moreing & Co. The principal business of this firm is that of managing mines. They manage mines in West Australia, Queensland, Russia, India and in other quarters of the globe. Operating in so many fields, they meet with many problems in mining, metallurgy and geology, and having the highest skill at their command, many of these problems are successfully overcome and dividend paying mines are developed. They have developed and put on the London market many of the best mines that are now quoted there.

Paid $250,000 Cash. This firm, having secured initial information about Porcupine, kept close watch on developments, and about a year after the first visit of Engineer Loring, Mr. Moreing, together with Mr. Loring, visited the camp. They had expected that the Hollinger would be a success, but what they saw after examining the Hollinger, staggered them. They saw at once that the Hollinger was one of the great mines of the world and negotiations were opened at once with the Timmins, McMartin & Dunlop people looking to a purchase of an interest in the property. They bought fifty thousand shares at $5 per share and planked down $250,000 cash. This stock yesterday's quotations was worth $750,000.

Messrs. Bewick-Moreing after purchasing the Hollinger stock, negotiated with the Timmins-McMartin-Dunlop Syndicate for a half interest in fifty other claims in Porcupine, owned by that syndicate, and after a good deal of negotiation purchased a half interest. The two groups then merged their interests in a new company called the Ontario Porcupine Goldfields Development Company, and provided $425,000 cash for development purposes. The same judgment that guided the Bewick-Moreing interests in the purchase of the Hollinger, has been effective here. Having satisfied themselves that the claims owned by the Timmins-McMartin-Dunlop Syndicate were very valuable, they are going forward with active development.

In Charge of Field Work. Mr. Gerrard Lovell, formerly of the great Burmah silver mine, was brought here from India to take charge of the field work. Mr. Lovell was also formerly manager of the great Fingal gold mine of West Australia, who has a record of producing $300,000 gold a month. He is assisted in the field by Mr. Ernest Williams, who has had over 20 years' experience as a mining engineer, and metallurgist in South Africa and West Australia. The judgment of the Bewick-Moreing interests as to the merits of these claims is already proving good, as reports have just reached here that a rich strike has been made on the Miller claim, owned by the company. This claim is situated between the Platt Vein, and the Armstrong-Booth, both rich properties, situated in the Hollinger district. The vein uncovered is a strong one and carries very high grade ore.

The development of this property is now being pushed with vigor, with six machine drills in commission.

It is usual for English companies to have low capitalization, and this company is no exception to the rule. It has only $2,000,000 of capital and it owns outright 50 claims or the same capitalization as the Hollinger which owns one claim.

It is understood that the Bewick-Moreing interests have made arrangements with Messrs. Platt-Vein & Co. of this city to introduce the stock of the Ontario Porcupine Goldfields Development Co. here.

The animal rolled over and put out the blaze, while the incendiary escaped.

CHATHAM CARRIAGE MANUFACTURER DEAD

End Came Suddenly—Had His Grips Packed and Ticket Purchased for Trip to England.

CHATHAM, June 12.—(Special).—Jas. Scott Gray, secretary-treasurer of the firm of Wm. Gray & Sons, carriage manufacturers, passed away suddenly yesterday Sunday afternoon, aged 47 years and 10 months. He had not been in good health for some years, but the end came with a suddenness that was a shock to his wide circle of friends.

The late James Scott Gray was born in Chatham, a son of the late William Gray, founder of the Gray Carriage Works. He is survived by his brother and partner, Robert Gray, president of the company. He was educated here in the public and high school, and after two years' college course, went into the factory, where he has been secretary-treasurer ever since the inception of the present firm. He was a practical carriage manufacturer, having taken up and learned the trimming trade before he took up office work.

The deceased was contemplating a trip to the old country when the last summons came. He had even packed his grips, and purchased his ticket for London. The ill for some time, he apparently did not think anything serious. On Saturday morning he took a turn for the worse and gradually passed away. The funeral will take place from the residence of his brother, Robert Gray, William-st., Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

After the ceremony had been completed the bishop delivered an address in French, followed by a few brief remarks in English.

TIMEKEEPER AT INTAKE FINDS ROAD TO WEALTH

But I can say that they were a mighty good lot of men we had working here. "All but Winters," said the judge, "he should have thawed out in the spring."

"No, Winters is a good man," defended Mr. Randall.

Pipe Broken Long Ago? In the morning and early afternoon Diver Margerson gave his opinion, some of which went to back up Mr. Drayton's theory that the pipe was broken a month before Dec. 13, the first day the chok was noticeable. He said that on Nov. 13 he descended at the intake.

"Did you notice any current there?" asked Mr. Drayton.

"No," replied Margerson.

"Then that would seem to indicate that the city was not getting its supply of water from the mouth of the intake," said the city council.

Margerson was told of the break discovered in the pipe. He declared that the pipe was in line, the bolts on the inside were sheared clean off, and that some of the rivet plates had disappeared. This seemed to impress the corporation counsel that the pipe must be in bad shape thruout.

Margerson said he had lately gone into the intake mouth some 230 feet, and had found no sand except in extreme southern end, where some six inches of drift sand lay for a distance of 20 feet.

Diver Scores Pipe Laying. The diver deprecated the methods used in laying the pipe. "They only used nails to secure the benches and supports," he said, "and the benches are fastened with bolts with nuts and screw; that would make them positively secure; the eight-inch nails are not enough."

"How do you think the third break could have occurred when the pipe was buried in the sand?" asked Mr. Drayton of Mr. Randall.

"It looks as if there was tremendous strain upon it," replied Mr. Randall, but his answer didn't seem to satisfy the council.

Capt. Warding Mud Hole. Capt. William Ward gave evidence in the morning, telling of a sandbar and "mud hole" directly to the east of the intake. He said the latter was the dumping ground for all the water's refuse.

Several witnesses were called, who appeared to have no knowledge of the pipe whatsoever. Mr. Drayton expressed wonder that so many of these useless witnesses had been subpoenaed.

Charles Bishop, engineer of the city's driller scow, had a very black face, and wanted to know if he would have to wash it. Judge Ulphester quickly rolled him from all worries on that score.

PERJURY, SAYS MAGISTRATE

Conflicting Stories Told of Fistic Altercation. There was gross perjury at the trial of Charles Watkins for assault upon Harold Kingsford. That's what Magistrate Kingsford said in public court yesterday morning. Two men swore that Watkins struck Harold and three swore he did not. The two were Levely.

Ed. B. Simms, George Browning and John Glenn were the trio who failed to gain evidence, while the stalwarts who upheld the truth against odds were Barred and Charles Taylor, who was with him when the trouble took place in Smith's hotel. Watkins went to jail for 60 days.

TORONTO TO HAVE NEW MISSIONARY COLLEGE

Rev. T. E. E. Shore Reports Important Result From Conference Held in New York.

Rev. T. E. Egerton Shore, general secretary of foreign missions of the Methodist Church, spent three days in New York last week attending various international conferences of which he is a member. One of these is the committee of reference and counsel, which is composed of twelve members representing all the mission boards of North America. This committee deals in an advisory capacity with all questions of missionary policy of an interdenominational character. It was decided at this meeting to hold a conference of the representatives of the mission boards of North America which are carrying on work in Japan. This conference will be held in New York some time in December, with a view to bringing about a united missionary policy in Japan and especially with the hope of establishing a Christian university, representing all the Protestant denominations in Japan.

A very important step was taken in the organization of a board for missionary studies for North America. This board is composed of thirty-six members, including mission board secretaries, prominent theologians, representatives of theological colleges, and authorities on special missionary subjects. This board will aim to cooperate with the mission boards in providing a more adequate preparation for prospective missionaries. In this connection, it is expected that a missionary college will be established in Toronto, in affiliation with the five denominational colleges situated here.

Mr. Shore also attended the meeting of the executive committee of the board of governors of the West China Union University, of which he is the secretary. This university is controlled by four missionary societies, including the Canadian Methodist, the Methodist Episcopal in the United States, the American Baptists and the English Friends. It will be the only Christian

POSED AS CIRCUS MAN

J. B. King Caused Flutter at Oakville Till Bubbled Burst.

J. B. King, alias John A. Ringling, the man who purchased a farm and three autos on airy assurance and nothing else last week, was remanded for sentence in the police court yesterday.

The man came to Toronto last week, and posing as Ringling, of the circus fame, soon had auto and real estate agents buzzing round him. He declared that the frequency of blizzards in the south had made the Ringling Circus management decide to winter in Canada, and that he was looking for a suitable place. Altho he had no money, he decided to purchase 500 acres near Oakville, from Z. A. Ross, agreeing to put thru a $25,000 draft on one of his many brothers.

Then he went to Heslop's garage and purchased three machines, also with nothing altho he gave the salesman a false cheque on the Metropolitan Bank for $1400. Then the salesman obligingly cashed another $25 cheque for him. After this interesting detail he went for a drive to Hamilton in one of the machines, his gay career being cut short when detectives arrested him on his return on Saturday evening.

A Well Deserved Sentence. Having deserted his wife and six children, Charles Wilder, who says he has a business in Peterboro, has been living in Toronto upon the earnings of a young girl's prostitution. He was sent to the Central Prison for six months from police court yesterday morning.

Fine Vaudeville Program at Scarborough Beach. Maybelle Barnum in her act, "The Globe of Death" at Scarborough Beach, is quite as sensational as her advance notices led the public to believe. Enclosed in a hollow ball 28 inches in diameter, she speeds down a sixty-foot runway and loops a thirty-foot gap at the bottom. It was figured by a mathematician on the grounds last night that Mme. Barnum made more than a hundred somersaults before completing her thrilling trip. Deozzo and Ladue do a remarkable comedy acrobatic act, and Leona Laford is a very pretty and graceful contortionist. The Sixty-Fifth Regimental Band of Buffalo played yesterday afternoon and evening, and will be here for the remainder of the week. This band was in Toronto at the last exhibition, and played against what was probably the hardest opposition ever encountered by an American band, namely, the British Grenadier Guards. Without making any invidious comparisons, it may be said that the Buffalo Band will delight music lovers no matter what organization it is called upon to follow or precede. It has an excellently balanced program of classical and popular music, and ought not to be missed by those who are fond of good music.
