FINED AND REMANDED

Stephen Thompson, Holland Landing, appeared before Magistrate Brunton yesterday to answer a charge of manufacturing liquor. A barrel of "wort" was found on his premises, containing 15,52 per cent, proof spirits. Thompson in his defence stated that the liquid in the barrel was used for pig-feeding, and was composed of apples, potatoes, shorts and barley chop. It was the first time he had made up this pig feed, and he did not know it would ferment. He was found guilty, fined $200 and costs, and, in addition, was remanded for sentence.

Melville Thompson of King County was fined the same amount for a similar offence.
