"HE'S A DAISY"

Famous Comedian Impresses Necessity for Complete Soldier Settlement.

Cosmopolitan to the core was the gathering of campaigners in the Salvation Army drive that took place at noon yesterday at the King Edward. Rotarians, members of the Kiwanis Club, Knights of Columbus, soldier and civilian, cleric and layman, Salvationists and city councillors—all were present. Men of the various teams filled the Pompelian room and to overflowing merged into hundreds of seats in the big room opposite. Enthusiasm ran high, the combination of crowd, spirited speakers, distinguished guests and the inspiration of the workers tending to have a telling effect on the campaign.

Among those at the head table were the guest of honor. Harry Lauder, civilian, cleric and layman, Salvawelfare work in the old land. During his activities with the administration of the poor law and kindred work he had met old soldiers wearing shabby clothing, but this will not take place after this war, said the speaker. If any section of the British Government wants a revolution they'll get it is they don't give the men a fair dea! declared Mr. Adam. The state cannot deal with social disability; this must be left to the Christian community, and that the Salvation Army can do this better than any other organization was the opinion of the speaker. Giving Toronto credit for what it had done, Mr. Adam told his listeners that they could not let up until the last broken man is taken care of and set-

Dr. Cody, minister of education, addressed the teachers in the interest of the campaign in the schools on Monday. The Hon. W. D. McPherson also organized for a collection among the civil servants at the parliament buildings. The city hall will be canvassed in the same way. Today a band of pipers will take possession of the sidewalks of the city and play their en-livening airs to remind the public of the work in hand.

Proceedings were introduced by an auction of a one dollor bill, bearing the signature of Harry Lauder. The auctioneer was Brigadier-General Gunn, and the dollar had been given in payment of a fine which was the penalty imposed on "We Harry" for smoking his pipe before the toast of the King had been honored. Harry had not been warned, so it was scarcely fair, but he obeyed the law and submitted to the fine. The chairman, W. H. Alderson, president of the Rotary Club, shared in the indictment because he gave Harry a match to light his pipe, and he also was melcted to the extent of a dollar. The bill was knocked down to E. R. Wood for $125.
