the Imperial Service-All Per-fect Thinking Machines. A. C. F. Boulton, in The Pall Mall Gazette: If the war in South Africa has Court, consisting of Chief Justice Meredith brought its disappointments, it has also and Justices Rose and MacMahon. The brought with it a realization of Empire. former decision will therefore be reversed We have had Indian troops fighting for us and the action dismissed with costs. The in wars that have passed into history, Chief Justice in the course of a lengthy but now for the first time Britain, Canada written judgment, finds that the words and Australia are fighting side by side in "Nor shall any company levy or collect any the common Imperial cause. Much has been made of the colonial contingents, and the man in the street is proud of the Empire's sons who have come from afar to fight shoulder to shoulder with the English, Scotch, and Irish against the enemies of the Union Jack. Canada's first contingent has already undergone its baptism of fire, and a second contingent is on its way. But these colonial troops which the Dominion is sending out are not the only contribution she has made to the Empires fighting force. Amid the enthusiasm which greets the new-found fact that the pulse of the Empire beats with a single throb, it is all but forgotten that for many years the Dominion has been feeding the Imperial army with her best and brightest, mainly thru the medium of the Royal Military Coltege of Kingston, Ontario, over one hundred of whose graduates are at present commissioned officers in its ranks. Britain could not to-day be at war in any quarter of the civilized or uncivilized world without its horrors pressing hard on some Canadian homes. Scattered over the the common Imperial cause Much has been money for services as a common carrier, of fire, and a second contingent is on the test system of the saw by simply of the system of the sys

Engineer, who was wounded at the Modder.

Small wonder that this, Great Britain's latest war, has stirred the Canadian nation as it has never been stirred before. There is to-day in Canada no abstract glow of enthusiasm or abstract thrill of sympathy, but the living glow and thrill of mother for son and sister for brother, and the yet keener throb of a relationship still dearer. From every corner of the wide Dominion a prayer goes up for the welfare of her sons who may be asked at any moment to yield their lives for the cause of the Empire.

Right loyally and willingly has Canada sent her sons to the front: men in whose veins flows the blood of the old regime, side by side with men whose stock is purely British, but all true Canadians, one in their eagerness, to serve under the Union Jack.

Orange Trees Injured by Frost. Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 19.—It is feared the cold weather Saturday and Sunday injured orange and other fruit trees. At Mitton there was a fail of snow with the thermometer at 25, while thousands of fires have been kept burning since Saturday night in groves all over Florida to save trees. The effect of the cold cannot be fully ascertained until warm weather
