THE CASE IS POLITICAL AS WELL

AS JUDICIAL.

The Globe yesterday took the view that the failure of a franchise corporation to fulfill its obligations to the public was purely a judicial matter. In a previous issue it admitted that the City of Toronto issue it had to the enforcement of the proposed new law.

The people would get their rights if the company decided to "play fair"; otherwise, not. The Globe now wishes to go back on what it said. The people can get their rights by appealing to the courts whether the company plays fair or not. Perhaps they can if they live long enough. The citizens of Toronto have been trying to get their rights through the courts for years, but they have not yet succeeded in getting them. The World's view of the matter is that it is better to take the chances of finally receiving a favorable judgment from the courts than to accept the proposed compromise.

But we claim that the proposed compromise would drop the issue from the jurisdiction of the courts and place it in the hands of the Legislature. The Citizens' Gas Company is a political and not a judicial matter. The act of 1887 is defective in judicial. The act of 1887 is defective in judicial. The act of 1887 is defective in judicial.

Doctors

Consult your doctor. If he says, "Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your cough," then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are waiting. Physicians have been our friends for 60 years.

"For five years I suffered with bronchitis. A few weeks ago I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and only two bottles entirely cured me."

AS REPORTED IN THE LONDON PAPERS, present unanswerable arguments in justification of the government's policy, and prove that any recession is impossible if the honor and dignity of the British Empire is to be maintained.

It is not more explicit; you know what I mean; and if possibly you do not, I need not ask to keep your eyes open as you walk your street; keep them open night or day, and you will know.

The Rev. Mr. Ewing is of old Scotch aristocratic stock, and he knows what he is talking about.

"Ethiopia" thinks the negroes are not particularly anxious to sit at the white man's table, or associate with his family. While there is no doubt that the negroes are doing more for themselves, and are becoming more educated and cultured, and are showing more independence and pride, which gives promise of better results than can be attained by waiting until they are ready to join the white man's table.

Their ambition now is to acquire wealth, education and all those things which make up the modern standard of living. They are vindictive, their rights and capacity to exercise and defend them, and are showing more independence and pride, which gives promise of better results than can be attained by waiting until they are ready to join the white man's table.
