Reports of the international battle on New Year's Day would indicate that the Englishman had somewhat of a margin, tho he only received a draw. Battling Nelson, and all of the puglists on the coast, had picked Attell to win. He was called not only the cleverest boxer in the ring, but also a much heavier puncher than the little Englishman. Moran was said to be inclined to go up in the air when taking part in a fast mixup—a weakness that Attell was expected to take advantage of.

The following are the teams and summary:

The score was 2 to 1 in favor of the winners.

One would hardly recognize the Park-dale team of last year, only one man, Henders, being eligible this year. Brooks of the L.A.A. is at rover for the paddlers, while the rest are strangers to Mutual-street followers. The team is not as treet followers, also a good account of them. Corticelli are new-comers in the O.H.A., but they gave a good account of them the men got down to playing their positions.

Considering that the teams have had very little practice, the game was a good exhibition, the players not being afraid to check, altho at times it got as far as slashing. Both goalkeepers did good work. Only a few men were penalized.

The match started off at a fast pace. The Wanderers had, of course, the advantage, having played a number of games together this season, while the Stars, which was made up of members of different clubs, had not played together previously. The first game was scored by Patrick for the Ali-Stars in the first half being scored by the Wanderers. Score at half time: Ali-Stars 1, Wanderers 7. The only penalties in the first half were Glass and Patrick, five minutes each.

The All-Star team took a decided brace in the second half and scored five consecutive games. The play was much faster than in the previous half and was somewhat rough. Marshall of the Ali-Stars was carried off the ice unconscious, but returned and continued play and finished the half. There were 20 penalties in the second half. Fully 5000 attended the game, which was a great success. Final score: Wanderers 10, All-Stars 7.

whatever. Dr. Dwyer attended in consultation.

Jake Gaudaur, on first receiving news in his paper at Atherly, Ont., telegraphed enquiring the condition of his old-time friend and rival.

Richard Dissette, the former backer of Jake Gaudaur, saw Hanlan row a great number of races, including those at the Philadelphia Centensial, at Newcastle, Eng., at Pittsburg, at Toronto, and at St. John, N.B.

James Douglas, the well-known amateur carsman and skiff sailor, was one of the prime movers in the Hanlan Club, and saw almost every race Ned Hanlan rowed on this continent. Old-timers remember the time Courtney is said to have sawed his boat. The match was made with Courtney at Lake Chautauqua, for the $6000 Hop Bitters Stakes, and Courtney didn't show any signs of wanting to race Hanlan unless the $6000 was split with him. Courtney, however, stuck it out, and Hanlan beat him, and won the $6000.

Gun.

The championship season opened last evening. Several of the teams failed to register their players and will likely have their games defaulted.

Two rattling good games are scheduled for this evening, G Company, 48th, lining up against C Company, Q.O.R., and H g Company, 48th, meeting G Company, Grenadiers. These four teams fought it out last year for the championship and Currie Cup and considerable rivalry exists between the four. This is the first of the series of weekly nights at which an admission will be charged.

Are Coming by Special Train.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Mount Forest despatch to yesterday's World stated that the Berlin team had been defeated there the previous night. Diligent search for this team made to-day failed to reveal their identity. Berlin's O.H.A. Seniors were busy giving Preston a drubbing and the professionals were spectators. It's up to that Mount Forest scribe to elucidate. Berlin rooters will travel by special train to Toronto Saturday evening for the opening game in the professional league.

morrow night. While the locals have had no chance to get together for procitice, owing to the rink not being open, they have been keeping in good condition individually by running each evening. To right's first practice brought out a big bunch of candidates, mingled with many Federal League possibilities, and a splendid work-out was effected. Indications point to Brockville not being lacking this season for home-made material.
