ST. PETERSBURG PANIC STRICKEN

Popular Outbreak Feared On Saturday Night Next--Many Are Hurrying Away From the City to Be Out of Danger--Even the Police Suspected of Complicity.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 27--A feeling akin to consternation has been caused by the publication in this morning's papers of renewed rumors of an impending popular outbreak. It is feared that the slightest incident, accidental or malicious, among the vast congregations which will attend the churches on Saturday night may cause a panic with appalling consequences.

The mayor is being urged to convene the municipal council and take special measures to cope with the situation, and it is expected that the prefect of police will issue a reassuring proclamation, but the alarm is so great that it would have little effect.

The streets at Easter will be unprecedented. All the accommodation at the neighboring resorts has already been engaged. Reports from the provinces indicate similar fears. There is a somewhat widespread impression that the police are ignoring the masses against the intellectual classes.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 27--Kozloff's appointment as governor general of Moscow on Easter (April 30) and May Day (May 14) although accompanied by a report in which Emperor Nicholas speaks of the "great interior reforms" contemplated by him, leaves no doubt of his majesty's purpose, first to create tranquility with a firm hand.

Kozloff distinguished himself during the nihilist conspiracies 25 years ago by hunting down conspirators, which resulted in an attempt on his life. The powers generally interpret his summons from retirement at the age of 68 as being an indication that the harsh measures of repression the government takes the position that the execution of the reforms is impossible until the present agitation and excitement are quieted.

With General Trepoif in St. Petersburg and Kozloff in Moscow it is considered that public safety in the two capitals is assured. The Liberals consider the appointment to be another reactionary step. A prominent Liberal said: "We expected the proclamation of general amnesty for political prisoners as a Easter gift. Instead the Emperor gives us Kozloff."

Kozloff's entire career has been spent in the police and gendarmerie, beginning as assistant chief of police at Riga in 1861 and later during the exciting nihilist days, alternating as chief of police of Moscow and St. Petersburg.

The police have ordered that all householders in Warsaw engage extra doorkeepers the next few days. The Warsaw garrison has been recently augmented by four regiments of infantry and two of Cossacks, bringing the total garrison up to 57,000.

GENEROSITY OF THE IRON-MASTER

Andrew Carnegie Gives $10,000,000 to Found a Pension Fund for Aged College Professors in Canada, the U. S. and Newfoundland.

NEW YORK, April 27--A gift of $10,000,000 by Andrew Carnegie to provide annuities for college professors who are not able to continue in active service, was introduced today by Frank V. Vandervip, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York.

Professors in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland will share in the distribution of the income of the fund. United States Steel Corporation five per cent. first mortgage bonds for $10,000,000 have been transferred to a board of trustees, and steps will be taken at once to organize a corporation to receive the donation.

Dr. Pritchett, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Mr. Vandervip, have been selected by Mr. Carnegie to obtain data on the subject to be presented at the first meeting of trustees, which will take place on November 15. Mr. Vandervip today sent the following letter to the trustees:

"Mr. Andrew Carnegie has transferred to a board of trustees, consisting of the main presidents of the most important colleges in the United States and Canada, $10,000,000 first mortgage five per cent. Steel Corporation bonds.

For a Dignified Pension "The purpose of the trust fund which creates the pension system for aged college professors in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland, who from old age or other physical disability are no longer in a position to render the most efficient service.

"It is Mr. Carnegie's belief that the fund will not only provide a dignified pension system for a body of most worthy, self-sacrificing and poorly paid men, but that it will be of distinct value to the cause of education in offering an opportunity to the trustees of a college to retire young, vigorous and efficient professors.

"I am taking the liberty of enclosing herewith Mr. Carnegie's letter outlining the plan of his bequest. This letter was written to the members of the board of trustees. The list of trustees is also enclosed. All have accepted. Steps will at once be taken to organize a corporation to formally receive the bequest. The first meeting of the board of trustees has been called for November 15. In the meantime it is Mr. Carnegie's desire that Dr. Pritchett, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and myself proceed to obtain data from all the institutions concerned, for the meeting of the trustees. The bonds which Mr. Carnegie has so generously donated have a market value of $11,000,000 and will produce an annual income of $500,000. The corporation which is being formed will be styled "The Carnegie Foundation." Yours very truly, "A. VANDERLIP."

Mr. Carnegie's Letter "Mr. Carnegie's letter to the trustees is dated April 18 and is as follows: "I have reached the conclusion that the least rewarded of any of the professions is that of the teachers in our higher educational institutions. New York city, generously, and very wisely, provides retiring pensions for teachers in her public schools and also for her policemen. Very few indeed of our colleges are able to do so. The consequences are grievous. Able men hesitate to accept teaching as a career, and many old professors whose places should be occupied by younger men cannot be retained.

"I have, therefore, transferred to you and your successors as trustees, $10,000,000 five per cent. first mortgage bonds of the United States Steel Corporation, the revenue from which is to provide retiring pensions for the teachers of universities, colleges and technical schools in our country, Canada and Newfoundland, under such conditions as you may adopt from time to time. Every calculation shows that the revenue will be ample for the purpose.

"The fund applies to the three classes of institutions named, without regard to race, sex, creed or color. We have, however, to recognize that state and colonial governments which have established or mainly support universities, colleges or schools may prefer that their relations shall remain exclusively with the state. I cannot, therefore, presume to include them.

"There is another class which should not aid, their constitutions in some cases even forbidding it, viz., sectarian institutions. Many of these established long ago, were truly sectarian, but today are free to all men of all creeds or of none such are to be considered sectarian now. Only such as are under control of a sect or require trustees for a majority thereof, officers, faculty or students, to belong to any specified sect, or which impose any theological test are to be excluded.

"The list follows a statement concerning the trust and the names of the trustees. These include twenty-six universities, presidential and other, among whom are President Peterson of McGill, and the presidents of Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Chicago, and all the leading U. S. universities.

Grimes: "When people have any faith to find with me, I wish they'd come to me and tell me what it is instead of talking about it to others."

Hicks: "That would never do. Don't you see, it might cause you to quit doing the things found fault with, and then people wouldn't have that pleasure of finding fault."

Fuddy: "Can you tell me what the difference is between a hat and a bonnet?" Duddy: "It varies from five dollars to twenty."

KAISER AS A HUMORIST

He Says the Whole World is in Trouble When He Travels--He Scatters Keepsakes With a Lavish Hand.

NEW YORK, April 27--The Hanbury American steamer, Hanbury, which arrived here last night, came direct from Italy, after landing Emperor William and his party at Naples. She had been painted pure white before starting on the cruise to Portugal and the Mediterranean with the royal party, and still retains her holiday appearance.

Every officer and man on the ship has some memento of the cruise, which was personally presented to him by the Emperor. The keepsakes include jewels, watches and trinkets. The officers say the Emperor apparently enjoyed every moment of his trip.

When the ship reached Tangier, and a heavy sea prevented the royal party from landing a large quantity of correspondence for the Emperor was brought on board. In it were several telegrams which referred to the Emperor at the French capital on his trip. As he read them the Emperor remarked: "The whole world is in trouble when I travel."
