CHAMPION'S FALL

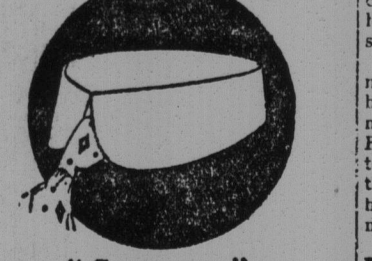

PROVES TENNIS A STRENUOUS GAME

New York, Sept. 27.—Maurice E. McLoughlin, who twice won the tennis singles championship of America, and is admitted to have been the greatest tennis player this country ever produced, stands as a living proof of the oft made and seldom believed statement that tennis is the most strenuous game played in America.

After his failure to list in the national championship finished September 27, McLoughlin declared that he was unable to sustain his game and put him out of the running. He had his fierce work of two years ago when he performed the feat of defeating Brooks and Wilding, the Australian players, had simply taken everything he had.

"I have tried hard to come back," McLoughlin declared, "but I simply wasn't able to play the game in the same old way. The strength in service and return drives no longer was there. I have tried to develop a different sort

BOSS IN QUEBEC

Quebec, Sept. 30.—Red Allen of Brooklyn, whose headquarters have been in Quebec for some months, earned a good shade over Johnny (Max) Lustig of New York, before the Irish Canadian Club here last night. Lustig opened up strongly but Allen dropped him in the second round with a hard right to the head which slowed the latter up for the balance of the ten rounds. Allen weighed several pounds more than Lustig and had the advantage in reach.

BASEBALL

Canadians Win

A baseball game was played on last Saturday at Queens Club, West Kensington, London, between a paced Canadian nine, selected from the clubs in the Military Baseball League, and the London American team. It attracted 2,000 people.

The Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, Earl Grey, A. Balfour and Lady Drummond were among the spectators. The proceeds of the contest will be given to the fund organized by the last named to assist orphans and widows of Canadian soldiers who have fallen in the war.

It was the first important ball game here since the Giants and Chicago Americans played their exhibition game in February, 1914, on the grounds of the Chelsea Football Club at Stamford Bridge. Great enthusiasm was shown by the spectators.

The first ball was thrown by Gen. Sir Sam Hughes. The Canadians easily won a one-sided game by a score of 9 to 1.

White Sox May Play Giants

Chicago, Sept. 27.—A post-season series between the New York Nationals and the Chicago Americans, to take the place of a city championship, was discussed today among followers of the game. On account of the uncertainty of the pennant race in both leagues no negotiations for such a contest have been started, but Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the local American League team apparently looked on the proposed series with some favor.

Watch "Bean Ball," Says Tinker

Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Cubs, says: If the Superiors meet the Boston Red Sox in the World's Series, it will be well for them to have an understanding with Red Sox about how the pitching is to be done. The Boston club has a bunch of pitchers who keep the ball mighty close to the heads of opposing batters, and have a great knack of sitting them down. In a World's Series that little trick would be in full bloom. The only way for the Superiors to counter is to adopt the same tactics. If this big Pfeffer fellow is known that every time a Brooklyn man has to hit the dirt to save his skin, the Boston pitcher will have to jump into a sewer to escape the same fate, the series should go along nice and smooth.

Before the series of 1915 Grover Alexander sent word to the Red Sox that he would do exactly what Pfeffer should do. He told them flatfooted that he was as dangerous as any man on their staff, and that every "Phillie" he pitched down would be followed by two Red Sox. That seemed to make quite an impression on the Boston athletes, and the Phillies were able to stand up there and pick out the balls they wanted to hit with a reasonable assurance that they were not endangering their lives.

One-armed Player Stars

New York, Sept. 29.—An all-star team of the Catholic Baseball League defeated the St. Catherine's in an exhibition game at the Polo grounds yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. In a World's Series spectators watched some sperry playing by the youngsters, Benny Kauff, the Giant outfielder, acted as umpire.

Joe Murphy, a one-armed youth, playing centre field for the defeated side, was the star of the game. Besides making two catches, he was responsible for his team's only run when he hit sharply to the opposing pitcher, who fumbled, permitting a runner on third to reach home. Two runs were tallied by the picked combination in the first inning, while another run came in the fourth.

Notes of Interest

Jack Twin Sullivan will meet K. O. Brennan in Buffalo on next Monday night.

Tex Richard and his partner who staged the Willard and Moran bout offered $225,000 for the boxing concessions at Madison Square Garden. The offer was turned down.

Gumbert Smith and Tom Cowler got $320.50 each for their scrap in New York the other night.

Benny Leonard will meet Ever Hammer in Kansas City on Oct. 18.

Willie Ritchie and Ad Wolgast shook hands in San Francisco the other day for the first time since Ritchie took the lightweight title away from Wolgast four years ago.
