LAW RECEIVES CONSIDERATION

Mayor Thinks Inspector Under Act Will Need to be Super-Man

HIS WORSHIP ALSO COMMENTS ON SOO

Frink Criticizes Permission Granted Officials to Deviate From Law

That the framers of the new building by-law evidently expected the building inspector to be a man of sound common sense, an active personality and a super-man, was the comment of Mayor White this morning while various sections of the proposed by-law were under discussion. The by-law was the only matter taken up this morning, the time from 11 o'clock until 1 o'clock being taken up going over chapter I, dealing with the general provisions.

These general provisions provide the building inspector shall be responsible for the carrying out of the Act and by-law, that the by-law shall, except in special cases, apply only to buildings to be erected or altered after it has passed. It provides for a committee of five to deal with disputes between the building inspector and the owner or architect of any proposed building; that the inspector may refuse to grant a permit when the particulars supplied do not seem to him to be sufficient to enable him to decide whether the building would be safe.

GIVES WIDE POWER
It also provides that the building inspector may require a land surveyor to be on the land on which the building is to be erected and that the inspector shall have the power to deviate from the requirements of the by-law, provided such deviation does not affect the safe construction or fire hazard of the building. The inspector is given power to require any permit if the provisions of the by-law are not carried out to his satisfaction.

The last section of Chapter I provides that no steam engine shall be located with wood, or any fuel except coal, unless the chimney is covered with a wire netting or cap sufficient to prevent the escape of sparks or fire therefrom.

In connection with the clause His Worship said there was another thing which should be watched in connection with steam boilers and the emission of soot into the air. He understood the only remedy for this nuisance was proper stoking.

In connection with the provision for the board of arbitration Commissioner Wigmore asked who was to pay the cost and suggested that the expenses be divided between the party asking for the board and the city.

SECTION SUGGESTED
It was suggested that an additional section be added providing that no permit be issued unless water and sewerage were already available and the grade of the street had been established.

Commissioner Frink questioned the wisdom of the clause giving the inspector power to permit deviation from the by-law, as in his opinion it placed that official above the common council, which was decided to secure the opinion of the city solicitor on that point.

At the time of adjournment the Mayor remarked that he thought the council had quite a holiday before them in going over the whole by-law section by section.

When one of the three men shown above dies, the other two will drink the wine that they're exhibiting. These are the only remaining members of the Last Man Club, formed in 1888 by 34 Civil War veterans, who bought a bottle of wine and agreed that the last man should drink it. Now, with only three men left, they all. Left to right they are John S. Goff, Peter Hall and Charles Lockwood. They held their annual banquet July 21 at Stillwater, Minn.

SIR R. BORDEN DENIES REPORT OF CANDIDATURE

Former Premier Passes Through City Unannounced; On Way to N. S.

The Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, former Premier of Canada, passed through the city on the noon train. He was looking particularly well and said he was enjoying excellent health. The former Premier was unaccompanied and stated he was going to Grand Pre, N. S., to sojourn a while in his native haunts, the homestead property.

Sir Robert smilingly confessed he had given no serious thought to the present political situation. He said this with the benign air of one who was happy to be out of the turmoil. Asked if he supposed along what line the fight would be waged in advance of Premier Melgren's keynote speech tomorrow—he said he had not.

The former Premier also denied the report that he was to be a candidate in the coming elections. "No, sir, I am not," he said with that well-known emphasis of his deep bass voice.

Only the reporters recognized Sir Robert at the depot. He slipped into town, bought new tickets and boarded the C. N. R. diner without any political friends being aware of his presence in town.

WATCHMAN KILLED BY ELECTROCUTION

SHERBROOK, Q., July 18.—Irving Hopp, night watchman at the Bobbin Shops of the Dominion Textile Company Ltd., in Magoy, was instantly killed by electrocution at about 7 o'clock Sunday morning when attempting to move a live wire outside the factory. Hopp, who was about 80 years of age, was informed while on night duty at the bobbin shop of the Dominion Textile's industrial plant, there was a live wire blown down outside by the storm of night. He immediately went out and saw it and attempted to remove it from the danger of other people. He took a wooden board, not realizing that it was wet from the heavy rain and began to shove the wire with this. The electricity ran through the water and the wire jumped and coiled several times around Hopp's body.
