Pirates, 13; Braves, 1.
n the St. Louis League series, last night, the Pirates won easily from Braves in the deciding game of their season series. The score totaled 13 to 1, and is a fair indication of the quality of play. Miller pitched great for the winners and received a distance from Clark as "receiver."

Johnson and Gossnell were hit freely, most offenders being Kierstead and Gowan, each of whom got three hits of the same number of trips to the plate. The former had a round trip from one of his hits and the latter one good for two stations. The day played errorless ball. The losers their one and only in the final inning, narrowly escaping a shut-out.

Attack on Johnson Fails.
New York, Sept. 4.—Efforts to ascertain whether Ban Johnson, president of the American League, knew that Pitcher Carl Mays had been traded by the Boston Club to New York when he ordered his suspension as "disciplinary action," failed at today's hearing before trial of the New York suit against Johnson for damages alleged to have been suffered because of the Mays order.

Claim Baseball Record.
What is believed to constitute a record for major leagues has been established by the Washington Club in the matter of interrupted playing. The calling off of the final game in the recent Cleveland series because of rain was the first postponement the Senators had encountered since May 28. After that date, which was just one month after the season opened, the Griffiths participated in very scheduled games and numbers of games postponed prior to that date as well, including two tie games at the Polo Grounds. In eighty-three days Washington averaged one game a day, exceeding half of the schedule of 140 games by thirteen.

Fulton Wins By Knockout.
London, Eng., Sept. 2.—(Associated Press)—Fred Fulton, American heavyweight, knocked out Arthur Townley of Southampton in the first round at the Olympia tonight.

A few punches in which Fulton placed his single weight were sufficient to decide the fate of the British rival. Townley was completely outclassed. When the bell rang for the start of the bout Fulton feinted the plasterer into a knot and promptly began a series of wallops that had his opponent gasping. Townley tried clinching, but it availed him nothing. Fulton shook him off and finished his easy job with a violent left hook to the jaw. Townley reeled against the ropes for a moment and then fell to the floor, completely finished. This bout was a preliminary to the twenty round fray between Beckett and McGooty.

Fred Fulton was at one time an aspirant for the crown worn by Jack Dempsey. His last important battle before his departure for Europe, was at the Newmarket baseball park in Harrison, N. J., when Dempsey knocked him out. Among Fulton's most notable knockouts have been victories over Sam Langford, who retired after seven rounds, Gus Smith (seven rounds), Frank Moran (three rounds), Percy Ryan (four rounds), Carl Morris (twice), and Arthur Pecky. Most of these victories have been secured with a knock-out blow. Fulton has himself been knocked out by Al Paer and the present champion of the world, Jack Dempsey.

Townley did not bring a very heavy reputation to the match just decided in London. He has been looked upon on the other side as a coming man, but he fought a very disappointing match not long ago with the Australian Hardwick. Fulton had the advantage over his opponent in height, weight and reach, and is a much cleverer boxer.

Joe Beckett's Victory.
It was announced yesterday that Joe Beckett, British heavyweight champion, had defeated Eddie McGooty of the United States in the seventeenth round in London. Further details show that the English heavyweight, after administering a severe beating to this American rival in the previous rounds, worked McGooty into a position of sparring in the seventeenth round, and whipped over his damaging right to the jaw, toppling the American over unconscious. There was no question as to Beckett's superiority for he held the upper hand over the greater part of the bout.

By his victory Beckett redeemed some of the pleasant things his British admirers have been saying about him, since he had been called "England's heavy-weight titleholder." The size of the crowd which witnessed the bout reflected the support Beckett has earned. Seldom in modern times has a boxing bout in England excited such great interest as was manifested in this one. Regarded as the best heavyweight England has produced in years, Beckett entered the ring a decided favorite in the betting, and with the workmanlike manner in which he boxed against McGooty, showed that the belief of his admirers was not misplaced. In the wagers about the ring immediately preceding the start of the Exciting Finishes at Presque Isle.

Presque Isle, Sept. 4.—The largest crowd over on the grounds, estimated at over 30,000 people, attended the Northern Maine Fair today. The races were fast and exciting with several accidents. P. Doherty, of Houlton as veteran driver, was badly hurt in a spill in the second heat of the free-for-all when Ona Fino fell and Doherty, driving Thomas Earl over him, Doherty's leg being fractured in two places. John Willard, one of the oldest drivers in Maine was struck by an automobile while jogging a horse before a race and several ribs broken and otherwise injured.

The time was one or two seconds slow by heavy winds. It was a bad day for Aroostook horses as all four races were taken by invading speed.

BASKETBALL.
Rainbows Win Again.
The score in the basketball game on the South End League grounds last evening was 4-2, again in favor of the Rainbows and against the Pats.

JOHNSTON TENNIS CHAMPION OF 1919

California Best Man in the Game
in Any Part of World This Year

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 4.—California is again supreme in the home of the world's greatest tennis player for the season of 1919. On the court of the West Side Club here this afternoon, Wilfred Johnston of San Francisco, defeated William T. Tilden 2nd, of Philadelphia, in straight sets in the final match for the national trophy singles championship.

In eliminating the towering Philadelphia by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, Johnston placed himself upon a tennis pedestal seldom reached by racket players. With Tilden he was the sole survivor of 128 players who began the struggle for the title on August 25. This field contained the famous Australian team, winners of the English championship at Wimbledon, as well as American players, including the A. E. F. tournament abroad. Thus Johnston's victory this afternoon stamps him unquestionably as the best tennis player in competition in the game in any part of the world this year.

The point score and stroke analysis, while not indicating with their cold figures the brilliancy of the tennis battle, gives an illuminating insight into the effectiveness of the rival racket work. Johnston won three sets to none, eighteen games to eleven and 190 points to eighty-two. Johnston was guilty of twenty-six faults to Tilden's thirty; thirty nets to Tilden's thirty-eight; while the loser was charged with five double faults to Johnston's one. The new title holder scored almost twice as many placements as his loser, the score being Johnston thirty-three placements, Tilden, seventeen, while on the other hand, Tilden drove through eight clean service aces to three for Johnston.

Sockalexis.

The death of Andy Sockalexis, a Penobscot Indian, at his home in Old Town, Me., marked the passing of one of the best marathon runners known to the classic distance event several years ago. Participating in the Boston marathon for several successive seasons and competition in the Olympic games in Sweden in 1912 gave Sockalexis a prestige in the distance running world second to no other during his prime.

He came from a family of famous Indian athletes, and was a direct descendant of the Micmac tribe of Maine Redskins. His father was one of the best five-hour champions in Maine forty years ago, and his cousin, Louis, was well known to the sporting world several

Wellington

THE UNIVERSAL PIPE

It's the "well" in the Wellington that makes it a universal favorite. Pipe smokers always appreciate the way the well keeps the moisture and stray tobacco from the mouth. A Wellington draws clean and dry and the top opening bit sends the smoke up—away from the tongue. Be sure and look for the W D C triangle trademark. That's proof you are getting a genuine French Briar, guaranteed against cracking or burning through. All good-dealers sell W D C Wellingtons in all shapes and sizes at $1.00 and up.
