Will Develop Ore Areas at St. George's, Nfld.

Titanium Taken from Mineral by Electric Smelting Processes.

A new iron industry is to be opened up in the district of St. George's, Newfoundland, an industry which has long been kept back on account of the unsuccessful way of handling the ore. The ore contains titanium and cannot be smelted by the ordinary blast furnace methods, except in very small quantities, say about 10 per cent. mixed in with other ores. Scientists who have been at work now for some years, have at last solved the problem, and the ore can now be smelted successfully by the electric smelting process which eliminates all the impurities.

One of the inventors of this process is Mr. J. L. Evans of Belleville, Ont., and Dr. Stanfield of McGill University, Montreal, who are now turning out the best carbon tool steel, and high speed steels, which is considered superior to any other steel, being free entirely from sulphur and phosphorus.

"This property is situated near a fine harbor and being in close proximity to Sydney makes this one of the most suitable properties on the Atlantic seaboard. Mr. C. M. Bishop, a native of King's Co., Nova Scotia, is the owner of the property, being in former years a big shareholder in the Montague and Waverly Gold Mines of Nova Scotia.
