square, where a procession was formed and marched to Queens park, where over five thousand people, many of whom were ladies, had assembled. Speeches were delivered by Sir John Lubbock and Hon. Mr. Chaplain, both meeting with an enthusiastic reception. Sir John received a perfect ovation. When he was fairly started a violent thunder storm set in and he deferred his speech till the evening. The following day was presented with an address from the Indian Association of America. A meeting in the evening was held in the roller rink, which was packed. Sir John was the first speaker and was accorded a magnificent ovation.

He dealt in a pleasant way with the various causes of the day, such as the income tax, the national policy and of the Chinese in the Pacific railway policy. Speaking with reference to he stated amidst cheers that the Canadian fisheries were to be reserved, so long as there was no treaty, for the exclusive use of the Canadians. Before sitting down he stated that he was much obliged to the conservative press for the independent support it gave the government. That press differed from the reform press in that it was not under the thumb of party. The Globe for example was a mere mouthpiece of the reform party. Mr. Edgar was its director and manager. He controlled its opinions and he implied the con-support of that church. But if it was a bad system and the people did not like it they were to change it. They were to change it by themselves and not by the Government. It was not a question with which this province had anything to do.

HON. MR. THOMPSON

Followed. He referred briefly to the Kiel case and repudiated the statement of those who said that because he was a member of a majority party he was a traitor to his church. Kiel was really the persecutor of the church and he could not be a martyr. He described the reform policy of the Liberal party in Canada as a matter of Ontario, revenge in Quebec and recession in Nova Scotia. These were the evil influences with which he set out to invite public confidence. He said that the Government was by all means loyal men. He dwelt at considerable length upon the factory act, which is causing a good deal of discontent amongst the working classes pronounced a brilliant peroration and retired amidst loud cheers.

HON. MR. CHAPMAN.

In the course of a brief but eloquent address, the member defined his position on the Riel question. He recreated quite a stir by reading the exposures of Maxime Lepine and Parenteau, which they swore that Riel had told them. Five hundred volunteers were coming to restrain the families and destroy the rebels. He closed his speech with a splendid peroration, which he declared that that great meeting could inspire him with a greater desire than ever to devote his duty to his party, his country and his sovereign.

Speeches were also delivered by Hon. Mr. Irving and Meredith, M. P., E., and the magnificent demonstration closed at midnight in the usual patriotic manner.

MORE RIOTING

Belfast, and an Outbreak at Liverpool:

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—There was desperate fighting on Liverpool street today. Policemen arrested two drunken men for fighting with a mob immediately gathered and threatened the officers with violence. It was with the greatest difficulty that the prisoners were rescued. Soon after the riot the barrack doors were closed behind the prisoners. A further attack was made upon the building by the mob outside. Shutters were torn down and stones were thrown with bricks and paving stones. Only four constables were left in the barracks. They fired eleven rounds, killing one man and wounding several others. It is reported that a woman was wounded and since died. The mob was dispersed by the police.

LIVERPOOL, Sep. 19.—Two serious riots occurred here today. One resulted from an encounter between Orangemen and nationalists. The other had its origin both in inflammatory speeches made at a socialist meeting. Many tears were arrested.

BELFAST, Sep. 20.—All was quiet in this city this morning. At noon, however, the Island of Rathfriland, off Oranmore, marched out of the city and proceeded to march occasionally through the city streets, and from dinner as if to provoke a fight at Strick Hill. They were attacked with stones by a separate fight ensued, which is still in progress. The police are outnumbered and useless. Reinforcements are hurrying to
