ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 20, 1902.

THE UNPAID AND THE HALF PAID

The latest to demand higher pay are the jurors. They get one dollar per day and are not satisfied. When this rate of pay was fixed it was more than the wages of an unskilled laborer, and approximately the pay of a mechanic. Now it is lower than the lowest wage of a common laborer. Moreover, the juror has not the workman's privilege of throwing up his job. He does not seek this particular employment. He does not even consent to engage in it. His service is compulsory, and it sometimes takes him away from profitable employment. In view of these considerations it has occurred to the St. John jurors in attendance on the circuit court that they and others who perform like service have a right to demand a somewhat higher allowance or indemnity.

As against this demand it may perhaps be urged that petit jurors are performing one of the great duties which a free man may render to the state and that his position is the more dignified and impressive from the fact that he is giving a gratuitous service. It is not wrong to call it gratuitous, since the allowance is not more than sufficient to maintain the juror in the most modest of inns.

The grand jury, which has not yet been heard from, does not receive even an indemnity to cover living expenses. The distinction in the favor of grand jurors may be due to the fact that they are not usually detained so long. Or, perhaps, the adjective describing them may be worth a dollar a day more.

Now it is Mr. Cleveland who has suffered from the inventive and inaccurate interviewer. The ex-president was made to say that he would not be a candidate in the next presidential election, that he was against third terms, and that he was sorry his friends had mentioned him in that connection. It is plain that Mr. Cleveland will neither seek nomination nor refuse it.

Mr. Gamey has not been suppressed, nor has he lost the confidence of the opposition in the legislature. He showed in yesterday's debate that he was quite capable of taking care of himself. It will not be safe for Premier Ross or Mr. Stratton to attempt to expell him from the house. Mr. Whitney has declared his belief that Mr. Gamey's story is true, and this statement was applauded by nearly half the house. If Mr. Gamey's story is true Mr. Stratton is not only a criminal briber but a perjurer.

Several valued contemporaries are speculating about Dr. Weldon's political object in buying a property at Mosherville, Hants county. It will probably be found on fuller enquiry that Dr. Weldon bought the place so that he would have a summer home. But if on closer acquaintance the people of Hants should elect the dean of Dalhousie law school to the house of commons it would be an honor to the county and a good thing for the house of commons.

King's College has some reason to expect an increase in its environments. The report of Rev. S. Weston Jones states that "a Nova Scotian of advanced age" has made a bequest of $50,000 to the institution, and other bequests are known which will bring the whole amount up to $100,000. There is a conditional promise of $2,000 from Mrs. Wiggins and of $1,000 in yearly instalments from Sir Frederick Borden.

Mr. Marconi has not as yet been able to accomplish much in the way of wireless telegraphy. His system is still a scientific experiment. Canada has about $100,000 of public money invested in the prospect of its commercial success, and the chance is still worth the stake.

Three former viceroys of Canada have discussed Mr. Chamberlain's preferential trade proposition. Lord Lansdowne, by far the ablest of the three, is cautiously sympathetic. The Duke of Argyll is enthusiastically favorable. Lord Aberdeen is mildly hostile.

Even if Judge Armour should survive his present severe illness it is hardly likely that he will be able to go on with his work as an international arbitrator. His place will be taken by another Canadian. This time the appointee should be a younger man.

The Editor of the Halifax Echo, observes with the air of one who has had a new experience and made a discovery that "there is nothing so refreshing as a good wash."

Editor MacLean, of the Wesleyan, sang Auld Lang Syne in Blackfoot, and three reporters out of four thought it was Gaelic. It is so difficult for a genuine Scot to get clear of his native accent.

The hope of capturing the America cup springs eternal in the British breast. But this year it does not quite amount to confidence.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

LONDON, June 19.—Lord Camperdown in the house of lords today drew the attention of the house to the recent statement of Foreign Minister Lansdowne, to the effect that Germany had intimated that if the other British colonies follow the example of Canada by giving preference to British imports, Great Britain would probably not be allowed to continue in receipt of the most favored nation terms. Lord Camperdown asked that the papers on the subject be laid on the table. Lord Lansdowne replied that he desired to deprecate the assumption that the conduct of Germany was actuated by deliberate hostility to Great Britain. He considered that Germany's course was not unnatural, considering the way in which Great Britain had hitherto dealt with these questions concerning the colonies. If Great Britain made her position perfectly clear and intelligible, as she ought to do, it would, he thought, be possible to accomplish a settlement of these questions in a manner satisfactory to Great Britain and to her colonies.

KINGSTON, J. A., June 19.—A public meeting of commercial men, held here this afternoon, passed a resolution in favor of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's proposal for preferential tariffs within the British Empire. There was a small minority against the resolution.

LONDON, June 19.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain delivered a speech tonight at a banquet given by the Corona Club, in which, while throwing no fresh light on the government's intentions, he left no doubt regarding his own conviction of the ultimate triumph of his colonial and imperial programme. Mr. Chamberlain dealt in a jesting spirit with the now frequently printed and spoken prophecies of his being crushed into oblivion beneath the sollevermill millstone, and said that threatened men lived long. Whatever might be his personal fate, he would look back with pride and satisfaction on the great imperial policy with which he had been permitted to be associated in some degree, in common with many members of the club. He said he was sorry that he had not been able to visit all the colonies while in office, but he hoped that his successors would be able to complete the whole round, and they could not take a more educative journey.

SABLE ISLAND SHRUBS.

Lack of Nourishment and the Fierce Gales are Fast Killing Them Off.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 18.—Two years ago the Canadian department of marine imported eighty thousand shrubs from France which were set out on Sable Island. This was done in the hope of preventing the depredations of drifting and from being washed away by the wind and sea currents which were causing constant changes in the place. These shrubs have proved a failure, according to men who have just returned from the island. The plants are fast dying out for lack of nourishment and the fierce gales tear them up from their feeble roots. Foxes are multiplying fast on the island and are causing damage.

SHOT TRYING TO BREAK INTO HIS OWN HOUSE.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 18.—Automobile Constable Johnson of Middletown, who won public notice by arresting Rudolph Vanderbilt the day before his wedding for oversteering his machine in that town, is in the hospital suffering from a bullet wound in his leg in consequence of trying to break into his own house upon returning home early in the morning. Having failed to secure entrance through the doors, he tried the window and his wife repelled the attempted invasion by firing a revolver at his leg, which was hurt over the window sill. He is reported at the hospital as comfortable.

BOSTON, June 19.—The Boston Evening Traveller tonight announces that it has found a New Brunswick man who is a claimant to millions said to be in an Australian town named Rattle-snake Bar awaiting an heir. The Traveller says that the claimant is George Howard McDonald, formerly of Queens Co. He was born in 1888.

Six Doctors Failed to Cure Him.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM WAS THE TROUBLE.

Burdock Blood Bitters

DID MORE THAN SIX DOCTORS COULD DO.

Mrs. Theo. Newell, Argyle Sound, N.S., expresses her opinion of this wonderful blood remedy in the following letter: "It is with the greatest gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bitters. For years my husband suffered terribly with Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. He was so bad at times that he could not sleep on account of the itching and burning. He had been under the care of six different doctors, but they failed to do him any good. I had read different times of the wonderful cures being made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so advised him to give it a trial. He did so, and after taking five bottles was cured without a doubt. I would strongly advise any person troubled with blood disorders to give B.B.B. a fair trial for I am sure it will cure them."

MORNING'S NEWS

The Italian bark which arrived here yesterday afternoon reported having sighted in the bay a ship and a bark inward bound. There was no sign of either of these vessels at Partridge Island last night.

The Furness liner Loyalist sailed from this port yesterday for London with a lot of general goods. She appropriated 200 standards of dead weight, and then proceeded to Halifax to complete her outward cargo.

A social meeting will be held in Zion church this evening in connection with the celebration of the 50th year of the ministerial career of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson. Also a platform service Sunday evening addressed by several of the brethren.

The meeting which was to have been held in Berryman's hall last night and addressed by Rev. J. G. Shearer, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, has been postponed until next Tuesday. Mr. Shearer was present, but there were only four or five others to make up an audience.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE.

"Great thoughts, like great deeds, need no trump."

There are some things which are not easily concealed for any length of time. A light is one of these, for light penetrates even the tiniest chinks, and betrays its presence by the shining through of its brightness. As still more is it observed when placed where all can see it by merely looking in that direction. No one needs to be told that it is there, for it soon makes itself seen and felt by its own power.

Like light, in this respect are many other things: remarkable traits of character; talent or genius; greatness and goodness of any kind. He who has the wisest thoughts and can best express them in language that is fitting and appropriate, whether spoken or written; who has the silver tongue of the orator; who can with his brush clothe the canvas with the beauty of life and nature; who has the power to tell his story in uplift their hearts with music; who, with his nobility of nature and goodness of heart helps to make the world better needs not to call the attention of others to what he can do. For these there is no necessity of publishing or advertising their individual gifts and characteristics, for they speak for themselves with a voice louder and more compelling than any other could be. If they are genuine people must see them plainly, cannot help seeing them whether they will or not, and there is always suspicion that there is something not quite as it should be when virtues and cleverness must be trumpeted in order to be recognized and acknowledged.

Whatever bears upon it the stamp of truth forces admiration from lovers of the genuine. True worth usually gets due appreciation, and while the world is not slow to recognize the really great thinkers and workers, and the men of noble character who have done much to help their fellows to a higher plane of living, it is useless to try to force applause for what is false and insincere.

FRENCHMAN VS. YANKEE.

PARIS, June 20.—The Petit Journal reports the misadventure of an American named Charles Dixon, of Boston, Mass., who yesterday was victimized by sharper whose acquaintance he made in the bank on the boulevards. The swindler succeeded in getting $2,500 on the faith of his story of a suit to secure the inheritance of a millionaire uncle, and a bag which was supposed to contain diamonds was given to Dixon as security for his wallet containing the stolen money. The bag contained pearls and the sharper is now hunting for the sharper.

TO WELCOME AMERICAN SHIP.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 19.—Preparations are being made to give a most hearty welcome to the American squadron on its arrival here from Kiel. King Edward is taking the liveliest interest in the event and will invite the officers to be his guests in London. He will entertain them at Buckingham Palace at a state ball July 8 and at a party July 9. On the latter day the petty officers and seamen on the American ships will be given a dinner on board the depot ship Duke of Wellington in Portsmouth harbor.

At Centenary church at 11 a. m. the ex-president of the conference, Rev. Mr. Harrison, will preach and at 7 p. m. Rev. Dr. Chown. Special music by the choir. Sunday school addresses at 2.30 p. m. by Rev. Dr. Read and Rev. G. M. Young.

THE TERRIBLE VENDETTA.

Murdered Brother Avenged After Thirty Years—Relentless Pursuit of Murderer.

BERLIN, June 18.—An extraordinary case of a long delayed vendetta has been brought to light by the murder of an Armenian named Hadel Ibrahim, at Askabad, on the Trans-Caucasian Railway. Thirty years ago Ibrahim killed an Armenian named Dahalool, at Van, in Asia Minor, when he was a youth of 18.

Dahalool's two brothers swore an oath to avenge his murder, and devoted the rest of their lives to the search for the slayer. One of them died, but the other continued the hunt, journeying all through Asiatic and European Turkey, Persia, the Caucasus, and parts of Arabia and Central Asia. Finally, after more than a quarter of a century, he found Ibrahim at Askabad, and killed him promptly, hacking his body to pieces.

He has been arrested, but the influential Armenians of the district are trying to save him, averring that it was his duty to fulfil the oath he swore over the dead body of his murdered brother.

WE NEVER TIRE OF LOAF BREAD.

Of all the things which most people eat, there is none which has the permanent popularity of loaf bread. Say what you will, there is nothing to be compared to a slice of good, fresh bread—made from Oplivie's Flour—and nicely covered with good, fresh butter. For a time one may toy with fancy dishes and sweets, but eventually he comes back to the old reliable loaf bread which is always delicious if made of Oplivie's Flour, the kind used by the Prince of Wales.

BIG FIGHT FOR CANADA.

Great interest is evinced in the coming battle between Jack Root and Geo. Gardner for the light heavyweight championship of the world, July 4. The fight will take place at Fort Erie, Ont., where many of the leading battles are now held without any interference. The Canadian law forbids fights "with fists or hands," but makes no mention of gloves.
