G. F. GANG REDUCED.
Only Nine in Procession Now — No Plans for the Winter.

The jail gang has been reduced to nine, and a sorry looking lot they are. At present they are at work at the park, but what will be done with them this winter has not as yet been decided on. Last winter they broke stone in a shed at Victoria square and considerable difficulty was met with in keeping the men warm.

The winter was a particularly severe one and on several occasions the men could not be taken out to work in consequence of the lightness of their wearing apparel. At present they are comfortably clad.

Each man is provided with a heavy pair of boots, thick socks and a suit of overalls, as well as a pair of mitts. Yesterday five prisoners were discharged from the jail.

SUGAR MARKET MUDDLED.

Importers 'Won't Buy Until Tariff is Settled and Price is Bound to Go Up.

Local sugar dealers, as well as others throughout Canada, are in a quandary as to what to do about the purchase of sugar and all in consequence of the failure of the government to take a decided stand one way or the other. As the situation is at present there is not a dealer in Canada who will buy one pound of sugar, as they do not know what duty they will have to pay, and as a result the price is bound to increase as the supply diminishes and the consumer must pay the increase.

Under the general tariff the duty is fixed at a certain figure, but the dumping clause provides that an additional charge shall be made when any goods, sugar included, manufactured in a foreign country are imported at a less cost than offered to the consumer in the country where they are manufactured. Toward the end of October the collector of customs received an order from Ottawa dated October 18th, advising him that the duty on all refined sugars was advanced 50 per cent.

On the same day he received an order dated October 24th saying that all refined sugars other than those manufactured from raw material that came from countries included in the tariff, the duty on refined sugar would not be subject to this charge, but could be admitted provided the importer in making the entry agreed to pay what duty the government should later decide on. On Oct. 31 a further order came to the effect that all refined sugars might be admitted on the general tariff rate upon condition that the importer in making entry agreed to pay the duty on any extra charge that may be decided later.

There is a big kick over the whole matter and all dealers strongly condemn the government for their inaction in the matter. There is a feeling that certain pressure was brought to bear on the ministers and that the order of Oct. 31st was issued in consequence of the elections.

MARGARET ANGLIN PRAISED.
Her Debut as Star in "The Eternal Feminine" Causes Enthusiasm in New Haven.

A despatch in Tuesday's New York Herald, from New Haven, Conn., says: "Margaret Anglin made her debut as a star tonight in 'The Eternal Feminine' at the Hyperion. Her performance was a masterpiece, and caused a postponement of the premiere, in no degree detracted from her success this evening. A large audience, in which society was well represented, gave fervent indications of approval. The play, which is an idyllic comedy, whose scenes are in the mythical island Halcione, in the Aegean, time 400 B. C., was adapted into English by Augustus Paget, from the German of Robert Misch.

An incident of especial local interest tonight lay in the fact that all the incidental music was written by Prof. Horatio W. Parker, head of the department of music in Yale. Faculty, students and alumni were enthusiastic and appreciative members of the first night audience. It is Dr. Parker's first contribution to dramatic music.

As Antiope, Miss Anglin was a charming Amazonian queen. In the play, she and the comedy situations which satirize society she was especially good. The scenery and costumes were very artistic. Robert Dronet shared honors with Miss Anglin. The support was excellent.

$2,500 MORE FOR CHAMPLAIN MONUMENT

Local Government May Assist Historical Society With a Grant of That Amount.

The members of the provincial cabinet met this morning in the local government rooms.

The grant of $2,500 asked by the New Brunswick Historical Society toward the erection of the Champlain monument was first considered. A delegation from the Historical Society, consisting of Rev. W. C. Gaynor, W. M. Jarvis and D. R. Jack was present and explained to the government the financial status of the society with regard to the erection of the monument. It was pointed out that the cost of the monument would exceed $10,000, and that the Dominion government and the city each promised a $5,000 grant. A $2,500 grant from the provincial government would probably place the society in a position to go ahead with the task in hand without delay.

Premier Tweedie informed the delegation that the matter would be given immediate consideration. The remainder of the morning was taken up with a consideration of the tenders for supplies for the Provincial Hospital for the Treatment of Nervous Diseases. The tenders were opened and the checking of them over will not take some time.

The government is again meeting this afternoon.

LONGSHOREMEN WILL PROSPER.

This Will Be a Busy Winter—May Be Employment for Sixteen Hundred Men.

The coming winter promises to be a busy and prosperous one for the shipyard task. So promising, indeed, is the outlook for steady and increased employment that the Longshoremen's Association, in order to fulfill its contract with the steamship lines, will probably be compelled to engage the services of at least 600 more men. The membership of the association is slightly over 1,000. Last winter all these men were employed, or, to be more precise, the maximum employment for any period was 1,012. The employment available this winter will be between 1,500 and 1,600 men.

The indications are that the volume of freight over the C. P. R. from the west will exceed any previous winter.

SCOTT ACT IN NORTHUMBERLAND

At the monthly meeting of the town council held at Chatham yesterday evening, some strong statements were made of the manner in which the Scott Act of Northumberland county was enforced. The statements of the aldermen have caused quite a sensation in the county.
