A great musical treat is promised and an enjoyable evening assured.

FELL THROUGH SHAFT,
WAS PAINFULLY BRUISED

Mr. R. W. Folkins, a teamster, residing at 59 Simonds street, was badly shaken up this morning. He does the teaming for J. and A. McMillan, and while in their Prince William street establishment slipped and fell through the elevator shaft, from the ground floor to the basement, striking his head. Dr. Bentley was summoned, and found that while Mr. Folkins was painfully bruised and shaken up, he was not seriously hurt. Mr. Folkins was taken to his home in the ambulance, and unless unexpected complications arise will be at work again in a day or two.

SLIGHT FIRE THIS MORNING IN INDIANTOWN

About half past five o'clock this morning an alarm was rung in from box 122 for a fire in the building at 22 Main street, owned by Mrs. David Corkery. The fire originated in the apartments occupied by Mrs. Corkery and her daughter. Very little damage was done, the blaze being extinguished without difficulty in a few moments. The building is also occupied by James Dalton and William Kiernan, Jr., neither of whom suffered any serious loss. The ground floor is occupied by Jos. W. Corkery's barber shop.

UNUSUAL VISITOR IN A MAIN STREET SHOP

A cow in a shoe store is just a much out of place as a bull in a china shop. This is the opinion of those persons who were in J. V. Russell's establishment on Main street yesterday afternoon. Three cows were slowly maneuvering up Main street from Inchiatown but were overcome by the excitement of city life. One of them seeing the door of Mr. Russell's shop standing open, made a brisk for safety, and got inside before the astonished onlookers had a chance to realize what was happening. The cow was evidently unused to shipping and did not know which way to turn. After struggling round the counters for a few moments the animal once more sought the open door.

BOARD OF TRADE BOOM WAS COMMENCED TODAY

Committee Hope to Add Nearly Two Hundred New Members Within the Next Week

The membership committee of the board of trade has commenced its campaign which has during the past few days been announced in the city papers. Last year the effort to increase the membership of the board was made with the result that thirty-two names were added to the roll. That was not a clearly planned campaign and the present one, but the success achieved then with comparatively little effort has led to the belief that by well directed work much more may be done. For the present a list of between one hundred and fifty and two hundred names has been prepared. This has been divided into a number of smaller lists, and each of these has been taken by two of the membership committees. Every man whose name appears on these lists will be seen by the committee-men, and asked to join the board. Active canvassing was begun this morning and it is said that a dozen new members were secured within a very short time.

It is the hope of the committee that at the May meeting of the board which takes place in about ten days, the majority of the present big list of names may be added to the roll and that the membership, which at present is two hundred and ten, may be increased immediately to nearly four hundred.

It has been found that there are many business and professional men in St. John who have never been asked to join the board, and it is felt that a large number of these are only waiting to be asked.

PREMIER HAZEN PREPARING AN IMMIGRATION POLICY

Commission to be Appointed to Get Information from All Parts of the Province

The Star understands that Premier Hazen will very shortly announce an immigration policy for New Brunswick along the lines advocated by the late government, but on a somewhat more elaborate scale. While the details of this scheme are not yet worked out, it is sufficiently definite to warrant an official announcement, the outcome is as follows:

A commission of two or three men will be appointed to visit all parts of the province and secure all available information with regard to the conditions existing, the opportunities, and the requirements in the various industries. Accurate figures will be obtained concerning lands suitable for colonization and all this information will be tabulated. This will occupy considerable time and when it is completed the commission will be transformed into an immigration bureau. If such a course is deemed advisable, or else new men will be selected. Agents will employ. It was the policy of the late government, to visit European countries and the United States, and these men will have at their fingers ends such facts as have previously been obtained.

JAMES ARMSTRONG, OF CARLETON, IS DEAD

James H. Armstrong, a very well known resident of the West Side, died at his home 311 Lancaster street this morning after a lengthy illness. Mr. Armstrong who was a blacksmith by trade, was born at Wigan in Lancashire, England, and came here when 14 years of age. He learned his trade with a blacksmith named Nichols and afterwards for many years was in business for himself on the West Side. Mr. Armstrong at the time of his death was in his seventy-fourth year. On Tuesday, 1904 he was married to Miss Eliza J. Warnock, daughter of the late Walter Warnock who curries him Mr. Armstrong, who leaves three sons: Walter of the Inland Revenue Department, at Ottawa, William of Church E. Gates and Co., lumber dealers of York and James D., of the C. P. R. staff in St. John; and two brothers living in Barrie, Ont. Mr. Armstrong was a member of the Carleton Presbyterian church and Carleton Union Lodge F. and A. M.

CARLETON WOMEN WERE CHASED BY A GANDER

There were five prisoners on the police bench this morning. Three of the number were drunks, and one of these was James Boyd. James is better known as "Heaver," and yesterday his wife made complaint that he had been beating her. The police were to have notified Boyd to appear in court tomorrow but he saved them that trouble by getting drunk and being arrested. He was remanded to jail until the wife could be heard.

Wm. Morris, of York Point, some days ago escaped from the chain gang. He was recaptured last night and pleaded not guilty. He was remanded. J. J. Hudson was reported by Sergeant Ross for allowing geese to wander about the Carleton streets. The Sergeant informed the court that Hudson's geese were on the street Sunday, and an old gander in the flock persisted in chasing women. The magistrate told Hudson that he must not allow his "gander to meander." Hudson was allowed to go under a suspended penalty.

Wm. Donnelly and Walter Lynch were reported for loitering on the Marsh Bridge. Policeman Perry told of them being habitual loafers about the Marsh. The magistrate gave the two a reprimand and told them they were liable to a term of nine months in jail. They were remanded.
