RANKS OF THE LIBERALS THINNING

In the former constituency the candidates are C. E. Johnston, Conservative; R. Bickford, Liberal; and W. V. Cotton, Socialist. In St. Mary's there are J. A. Masse, Conservative; Modeste Martin, Liberal; and N. Allard, who calls himself the working men's friend. There were no special incidents connected with the nominations. Liberals Retire.

One development of the day was the retirement of Adelard Lanctot, former Liberal member for Richelieu County. Up to this morning he insisted on running, although Sir Wilfrid and the regular party nomination had decreed that he should retire because of the exposures made in the House last session in regard to the painting of his residence by employees of the government shipyard. With two candidates in the field it would have been a walk-over for the Conservative candidate to win, and indeed the Liberal Bourassa and Le Devoir had received $100,000 from the Conservatives and Orangemen of Ontario and Rivet refused to withdraw the statement in spite of the demand.

Turnover Expected. A prominent Conservative worker stated today that his party will carry at least four and probably five of the six Montreal seats. Turnovers are expected in St. Marys, St. Lawrence and Hochelaga. So serious is the situation from the government standpoint, that Liberal speakers are holding out all kinds of bait for the voters. In every speech Lemieux reiterates his statement that the Georgian Bay canal will be hurried forward and that immense construction works in connection with it will be located just back of the city. Coupled with this he promises that the St. Lawrence river channel will soon be deepened to 40 feet. He also announced that we would soon have a Spit-head of our own the same as England.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, who met with hostile reception in Westmount, and other parts of the city has hied himself back to the eastern townships, and his presence is needed there. There will not be judging from reliable reports from that district, be any sweep for the government and indeed the reverse may be the case.

It is reported from Stanstead Plain, Que., that American money is being freely circulated in Stanstead county in connection with the pro-reciprocity campaign.

One of the latest prominent men to come out against his party on reciprocity is James Redmond, director of the Royal Bank, who has always voted Liberal. Another prominent life-long Liberal who will vote against the pact is David McLaren, president of the Bank of Ottawa. He will vote for Borden.

EXCEPTIONAL
BOOKED TODAY

This afternoon promises to be an exceptional one on the Marathon grounds. The New England League champions will play a game of ball with the Marathons and in addition to the game there will be some of the finest athletic events ever put on in the city. At 3 o'clock sharp the athletic programme will commence and will consist of the following:

Circling the bases on time.
Fastest time running between home and first base.
Accurate throwing from home plate to second base.
Long distance throwing.
Pungo hitting.
The game of ball will commence at 8:30 o'clock and there promises to be a fine afternoon of both sport and baseball.

MARATHONS DEFEATED BY LOWELLS

A large crowd gathered on the Marathon grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the contest between the two champions defeat the Marathons by a score of 8 to 1.

Joe Tarbell was the pitcher for the Marathons and while he was second for 9 hits, his support was not good and errors were responsible for the runs. The Lowells beat out to bat and the first three men went out as did the first three Marathons in this inning. It was in the second inning that the Marathons blew up and Lowells made four runs. With one out Wright hit to Winter who threw to Bouttes hit to Winter who threw to Fraser at second who dropped the throw. Warwick drew a base on balls and filled the bases. Lavigne hit to Bouttes and scored two runs. The Marathons followed with a single to left field and scored both Bouttes and Lavigne. Magee beat out a hit safe to the infield and while he stole second Wolfgang stole home. Conney hit out third to first, and ended the inning. There were no runs until the 7th inning when the Lowells gained two more scores. A bad throw by Williams allowed Lavigne to go to second base. Magee fled out to Riley in centre. McPaul's error on first gave Conney his base safe and Wolfgang scored. Conney was caught stealing second and Flaharty fled out to right, retiring the side.

The Marathons gained their only run in this inning with one out. Riley drew a base on balls but was forced out when McPaul hit to pitcher. An error of Wright on first and Flaharty went to second and ended the inning. In the 8th inning the Marathons blew up and Lowells made two more runs. Three errors and an infield hit being responsible for the score. Both teams were blanked in the last inning.

The game was a good one with the exception of the errors and these were responsible for the battle not being a much closer one.

The box score of the game is as follows:

PROCEEDINGS OF NOMINATION DAY

being served out with no sign of hand. In spite of all these influences, however, the meeting was a great triumph for the Conservatives and was an indication of the manner in which the people of Queens-Sunbury will rebuke the Laurier ring next week.

Excitement had been run from all points on the river and when the proceedings opened it was computed that upwards of 3,000 people were present. Many drove from all sections of both Queens and Sunbury counties. Altogether in point of attendance nomination day was the greatest observed here in the past for many years.

In the morning the papers of Col. McLean and Mr. Smith were filed.

Smith's Supporters.

Mr. Smith's official nomination paper was signed by the following: R. D. Wilmut, Abner Smith, John L. Camp, Sherman Peters, Morris Schovell, Wm. S. Wood, H. W. Woods, David Nickerson, Geo. H. Keyes, Russell Williams, R. S. Wilmut, J. G. Yeaman, D. C. Lockhart, Luther Smith, Harry Finamore, William Howe, Samuel Starkey, John McNeely, J. H. Scribner, Jr., John Cooper, Jr., Hugh Mack, Kerr, Gilbert Mott, Hugh Quinn, Geo. Robertson, J. H. DeVeber, H. Lee Fox, Jas. Allingham, J. S. Ward, John R. Dunn, A. D. Case, Jas. A. Mott, Manly Duplaine, Merritt Gillespie, S. L. Peters, A. C. Chase, William Nevins, Harry Scott, W. P. Gale, C. L. Scott, R. B. Ritchie, B. S. Babbitt, Geo. Corbett, R. H. Corey, Geo. McDermott, W. H. Hamilton, Darius Carr, Thos. Smith, Fred J. Dingee, Herbert Akersley.

Two-Thirds Conservatives.

The speeches were made in the afternoon at the Court House before a vast crowd, two-thirds of whom were unmistakably Conservatives.

Col. McLean spoke for the allotted time, an hour and a quarter. He failed to excite any enthusiasm and during his speech he was incessantly interrupted by the Conservatives. He devoted in all only about five minutes to it. The Colonel evidently felt more at home discussing local subjects such as the Valley Railroad, the Minto Railroad and other matters.

Col. McLean made one ridiculous statement which was quickly resented by the crowd. He was discussing the sending of Canadian troops to South Africa, who has not yet fully recovered from his indignation to make capital for the Liberals he evidently thought his audience had very short memories and boldly asserted that the troops left Canada by order of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the day after war was declared.

Mr. Smith Applauded.

Mr. Smith, the Conservative nominee, who has not yet fully recovered from his indignation to make capital for the Liberals he evidently thought his audience had very short memories and boldly asserted that the troops left Canada by order of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the day after war was declared.

The reception which the premier met with was a tribute to his great popularity. He dealt very effectively with the statement of Col. McLean's relative to the sending of troops to South Africa, showing that Sir Wilfrid Laurier sent no troops till six weeks after the declaration of war and then only because he was forced into it by the people of Canada. He next showed that the proposed reciprocity pact was an arrangement which would work out to the detriment of this country draining it of its natural resources to build up the pockets of the United States.

Free Run Unless.

The prolonged applause with which Premier Hazen was greeted showed that free run and sandwiches do not go very far when the people are aroused over a patriotic issue. The people there refuse to be hoodwinked longer by the representations of the ring of Col. McLean is a member of the Liberal party and is a member of the Liberal party and is a member of the Liberal party.

WESTMORLAND

Emmerson Tries to Scare up
Race Cry But is Effectually
Silenced by Siddall—Inable Speech.

Special To The Standard.

Dorchester, Sept. 14.—Nomination proceedings passed off quietly with two thousand people present. The crowd was two-thirds for Siddall and the cheers that greeted him could be heard at the railway station a third of a mile off. The Conservatives were in league with the committee spotting and terrorizing employees. Mr. Emmerson opened the speech making but no reply to anything like the old time applause.

He labored hard to show that he had done great things for Westmorland and devoted more time to dead issues such as Confederation and the national policy than to reciprocity. He closed with the statement that the Conservatives were opposing Laurier because he was a Frenchman and a Catholic with some French Acadians in the audience openly resented.

Mr. Siddall on rising was greeted with an outburst of cheering such as has seldom been heard here. The Court-house square and his speech through-out was cheered to the echo. Mr. Siddall made a fighting speech that greatly pleased his friends and surprised his opponents who were banking on his making a poor showing in comparison with the nomination.

Effective Reply.

Mr. Siddall effectively replied to Mr. Emmerson's charge that Conservatives were raising the race and religious cry against Laurier and intelligently with the general issues of the campaign when he asked if Mr. Emmerson is such a great authority on the branch line question and his election so necessary to carry it through is he not minister of railways today instead of a man who is known to be opposed to that policy.

By arrangement, Hon. H. C. Fleming, provincial secretary, was the next speaker and Mr. Emmerson replied. Mr. Fleming dealt extensively with the question of reciprocity. He showed the fallacy and weakness of the pleas for there were no arguments put forward for reciprocity and asked Mr. Emmerson a number of questions which that gentleman wisely ignored in his reply. The day's proceedings were distinctly in favor of the Conservatives, who are now fighting with every confidence that for the first time since the government became a factor in the county of Westmorland will contribute its share to a change of government.

KINGS-ALBERT

Enthusiasm For Mr. Fowler—Liberal Supporters Seem
Surprised at Prospect of Inevitable Defeat.

Never has there been so large, so enthusiastic and so demonstrative a meeting in the town of Sunbury as was held yesterday afternoon in the exhibition building. Over 3,000 farmers and business men from all parts of Kings and Albert counties thronged to listen to the joint debate of Messrs. Fowler and McAllister, and all save Mr. McAllister were in favor of Mr. Fowler had "put it all over McAllister."

The great meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock by the chairman, Mayor Eveleigh. Dr. McAllister had the floor first, but he took up the greater part of his time in criticizing Sir Edmund Walker Lloyd Harris, Mr. M. German and other men who had deeded their party for their country.

Unholy Alliance.

He also spent much time in harping on the so-called "unholy alliance" and in trying to prove that such an alliance did exist he made the statement that Mr. Gilbert had introduced to the house by Mr. Borden and Mr. Monk, but when Mr. Fowler challenged it he had to retract and could only say Mr. Monk's name with Mr. Gilbert.

In the short time that Dr. McAllister dealt with reciprocity he failed to produce a decent argument in favor of the pact.

The speaker read a letter from the F. F. Williams to the effect that that company was willing to pay 7 cents a pound for pork for the next year and also stating that if the reciprocity pact were passed the price would drop still lower.

Dr. McAllister seemed to think that this was an attempt to deceive the farmers who, he said, would get a bigger price when reciprocity went into effect. But the people were not deceived, and when Mr. Fowler spoke later he showed that it was the fear of the passing of the reciprocity pact that caused the slump in the price of pork and that as soon as the present government was defeated and all fear of reciprocity ended, the prices would again advance. Consequently Mr. Williams would naturally desire to get his supply of pork while it was cheap.

Scarcely had Dr. McAllister finished his speech before the building resounded with cries of "Fowler, Fowler" and "Fowler, Fowler" and the speaker was greeted with such a storm of applause as is seldom accorded to a speaker.

In a short time the Conservative candidate utterly shattered his opponent's statements. He showed the true position of Sir Edmund Walker, Lloyd Harris, and Mr. German and dispelled all idea of an alliance between Borden and Bourassa.

In reference to the Salisbury and Harvey Railroad the speaker said that the Hon. Mr. Graham was not in the habit of taking over the branch lines. The government objected to the purchase of this line because the price asked was too large. "Why," said he, "if $300,000 were asked for that 50 miles of line would not be sufficient to build a decent road-bed for that distance?"

Surely a government that would spend $5,000 to make a wharf of sawdust would not hesitate to pay $120,000 for the Salisbury and Harvey road if they really intended to use it over. In opposition to the stand the Liberal government had taken in the matter of the Salisbury and Harvey line the position Mr. Borden occupied and his promise to take over branch lines as "feelers" for the L. C. R.

Mr. Fowler then read a letter from Laurier stating that there was a time when Canada wanted reciprocity with the United States but that time is past, and again from that same statesman that the Liberal government had taken in the matter of the Salisbury and Harvey line the position Mr. Borden occupied and his promise to take over branch lines as "feelers" for the L. C. R.

"These are not the statements of men dead for the last 20 years, but they are those of a man who is alive at this moment. How do they differ from that gentleman's present stand?" Has Canada not progressed under the Liberal government? Has the protection of the national policy, that these men should be so desirous of suddenly changing the whole policy of the country?

Why should a change be made when the progress of Canada has been due to the grand old national policy? The reason has never been given.

We Want Progress.

"They say the Conservatives are standpat, that they say, 'Leave well enough alone.' Now we want to see Canada progress, but let us follow the old paths that have been tried and proved. We are sure of them."

Continuing Mr. Fowler dealt with the pact from the farmer's viewpoint. "They talk of larger markets," said he, "show me the man who talks of larger markets in the Maritime Provinces, and I'll warrant you that man hasn't got $10 worth of produce to sell." (Hear, hear.)

"Why, you don't produce all the oats you want for your own use. You bring your oats from Quebec, and you bring horses from Prince Edward Island. What's the use of larger markets when a man has nothing to sell."

Better Prices Here.

"The average price of horses in U. S. is $108.19 in Canada it is $133. Are we going to take off the duty and allow cheap horses to come into the country? The United States takes the average price of dairy cattle is $33.75 in Canada it is $43, other cattle in the United States average $14.41 in Canada, $21. And this remember, the report of men appointed by Pres. Taft in order that he might get the best of the bargain."

Mr. Fowler said that the reason of

THERE is a value in a von Gal hat that you cannot obtain in any other hat. Whether you pay $3.44 or $5—whether soft or stiff—there the difference in prices was the best trust and quoted from the Telegraph of Aug. 30 to show that there is 300 per cent. difference between what the producer gets and what the consumer pays.

Pork Question.

The speaker dealt bravely with the pork question, and then turned to the transportation question. "If wheat goes south," he said, "it can't go east. If it goes south it will go to Minneapolis mills and be turned into flour and heavy feed, manufactured products. Then the consumer will pay a duty of 75 cents a bushel on flour and $2.50 a ton on feed, in addition to the transportation to Minneapolis and back. And he will also have the satisfaction to know that his flour and feed was ground by American workmen in American mills."

In closing Mr. Fowler exhorted his hearers to "vote for Canada." It was an eloquent appeal and the people responded with a shout. There is now no doubt as to the result of the election in Kings-Albert. Geo. W. Fowler is the man.

Dr. McAllister made an ineffective reply to Mr. Fowler in which he failed to touch on reciprocity, speaking of the Salisbury and Harvey Railroad, and to the Canadians as well as the Nova Scotians, and it was very evident that in the majority of the counties the electors are emphatically in favor of the Fielding pact. In practically every constituency the Conservative candidates received more applause and sympathy than the Liberal candidates. They proved beyond dispute despite "arguments" of their opponents, that reciprocity would do very injurious to Nova Scotians and to Canadians as a whole. It is said that the Liberals will receive a big surprise when the returns come in from Quebec next Thursday, but it is doubtful if it will be any more of a surprise than it will be the Conservative gains in Nova Scotia.

SECOND DAY'S
WELL ATTENDED

Chatham, Sept. 14.—The second day's races at the trotting park were attended by over 1,400 people, who saw great trotting done by that prime lot, the piece of goods, Billy C. He lost one heat in 2:21 class to Masterpiece when he broke near the turn, but came back strong in the fourth and walked up to first with ease. His win was a very popular one, and the big crowd gave horse and driver a wild cheer when they romped under the wire.

The free for all was changed to a named race in order to allow in Lady Glen, and Frank Patch took this 14 straight heats.

The 2:15 class which was first run off on Wednesday which lay back in the early heats of the first day's racing and allowed P. K. and Oswego Boy to tire themselves fighting for first place, got a good lead as toward goal, and had no trouble in beating out Oswego Boy. The latter won a game race but was under too big a handicap to make up his poor start.

This gave first money to Winnie Wilkes, second to Oswego Boy, third to Logan and fourth to P. K.

The 2:21 furnished a great race. Billy C. won the first heat
