ASK DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL FARM FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

Fruit Growers in Convention, Last Evening, Passed Strong Resolution Urging Dominion Agricultural Department to Establish Such a Farm in This Province.

The Fruit Growers Association held their annual convention at St. John last evening. At all of which there was a good attendance. Generally speaking more interest seemed to be shown in the proceedings of the convention than in the past. At the morning session there was a discussion on the question of having a standard size for No. 1 and No. 2 grades of apples in the various varieties, and an address by Professor Blair of Macdonald College on the planting and care of orchards. At the afternoon session there was an address by Prof. Macoun, Dominion horticulturist, on the question of selecting varieties suitable to the climate of the province, followed by a discussion on spraying.

At the evening session Prof. Shaw of the Agricultural College at Truro, N. S., gave an interesting account of orcharding in the sister province, and an instructive discussion followed. A feature of the evening session was the introduction of the following resolution, moved by W. B. Gilman, seconded by J. W. Clark:

"Whereas, it is of great importance to the development of fruit growing in the province that we should have greater and more definite information on the suitability of varieties, cultural methods and many points of orchard practice, such as can only be obtained by scientific investigation in the province; therefore be it resolved,

"That this Association requests the Dominion Minister of Agriculture to establish as soon as possible under his department an experimental farm at some point in New Brunswick, typical of average provincial conditions, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Federal Minister of Agriculture."

President Vroom called for a discussion on this resolution and asked for an expression of opinion from the Secretary of Agriculture for the province. In responding, Mr. Hubbard said it was very desirable to have such a station in the province. Experiments could be carried on more thoroughly than by private individuals. His department had been moving for such a station for about three years. There was a Dominion experimental college in Nova Scotia and also in Prince Edward Island, and there should be no difficulty now in getting the Dominion government to establish such a farm in New Brunswick. Others also spoke in favor of the resolution.

When the chairman put the question the resolution was carried unanimously.

Demonstration Orchard.
At the evening session Prof. Shaw of the Truro agricultural college described a lecture based on the work of the demonstration orchards in Nova Scotia. In the Annapolis Valley, he said, the fruit-growers were pretty unanimous as to what constituted the best varieties of apples. The questions which determined their selection were: What varieties will do well and sell well? About 75 per cent. of the crop in the Annapolis Valley was exported mostly to Great Britain and the British taste had to be considered. Many of the varieties raised there originated in England, such as the Blenheim and Ribston. Outside of the fruit districts of Nova Scotia, where different conditions were met, the best varieties were considered to be the Duchess, Wealthy, Alexander, Dudley, McIntosh, Wolf River, Baxter Milwaukee and the earlier varieties of Crispin Beauty and yellow Transparent. This list would stand the climate of eastern Nova Scotia better than the varieties which flourished best in the Annapolis Valley.

The argument of Nova Scotia aimed to get their stock from the nurseries of the province. But this was difficult. By preference, the farmers should get stock from nursery within 50 miles of his farm. He could then pick out his stock, eliminate the danger of long transportation, and of bringing in noxious pests.

The government of Nova Scotia had recently started three nurseries. They had some times imported nursery stock from France.

"If I was on a farm in New Brunswick," said the professor, "I would start a nursery. Some nurserymen get $2,000 an acre for two years' work, but if things did not turn out well, of course he did not make that."

Continuing he gave an account of the methods of top-grafting, and of the necessity of having the soil in good condition at the time of grafting.

For Early Bearing.
He then described the advisability of adopting methods to make the trees bear early. Cultivation and fertilizing of the soil were the principal factors in achieving this result. Some orchardists believed that trees came into bearing early, if they did not prune the trees which bore fruit.

In order to reduce the cost of picking the fruit and spraying, many growers were now pruning their trees very extensively, and keeping them down to a low thick head.

Mr. Adney—"Do they prune in winter or summer?"
Prof. Shaw—"They cut the young trees in July—practically all the summer's growth. Older trees are cut in the winter."

Mr. Adney—"There is an old fashioned theory that extensive summer pruning increases fruitfulness. What has been your experience?"
Prof. Shaw—"This method of extreme pruning is still regarded as an experiment in Nova Scotia, and it would thicken the heads too much and keep out the sun and air."

In concluding, Prof. Shaw said the general idea was that the Blenheim was slow in bearing and not specially profitable, but some orchards of Blenheim in the Annapolis Valley gave splendid results bringing in $250 an acre.

A short discussion followed in which Tupper Adney, C. N. Vroom and others took part.

Mr. Adney said the Crispin Beauty was excellent for the market, but was not so safe as a commercial proposition.

The resolution calling upon the Dominion government to establish an experimental farm in New Brunswick was then introduced and adopted.

Before adjournment the chairman announced that at ten o'clock this morning there would be a demonstration of box packing at the rink.

DETENTION HOME FOR JUVENILE OFFENDERS

Informal Discussion in Mayor's Office, Yesterday-Salvation Army Officers to Submit Details of a Plan.

The advisability of the better care of juvenile offenders and the establishment of a detention home and juvenile court was discussed at a meeting in the mayor's office yesterday morning. Col. Mapp and Commissioner Rees of the Salvation Army, said they would submit a plan with full details as to the formation and carrying out of a scheme in connection with such institutions.

The meeting was especially called to hear the opinions of Commissioner Rees and Colonel Mapp of the Salvation Army. Both are engaged in prison work in Canada. Besides the two officers Major Pagnier and Ensign Duncan of the Salvation Army, Messrs. Prink, County Secretary Kelley, Coun. Donovan, Ald. McDougal, J. B. Jones, Green, Hayes, Potts, Bilkin, McLeod and Colner were present.

Rees explained the workings of delinquent homes and juvenile courts in Winnipeg, Lethbridge and Vancouver. They said the institutions in both Victoria and Lethbridge were carried on by the city, and the Winnipeg institution was run by the province of Manitoba. They told how the children who committed minor offences were dealt with under the Delinquent Act.

Properly trained officers of the Salvation Army were practically in control of these homes and they kept in touch with the police and other authorities. They also looked after the truant and children wandering about the streets, small boys smoking, etc.

They also kept in touch with the parents of the children and before they were put in the home every effort was made to reform them. The necessity of such a home and instances cases that came before him. He also explained about the juvenile offenders and the children's aid society act.

The former which is a federal act can be put into force immediately. It is shown that the machinery to carry out the law is provided for. The latter act will probably be presented to the legislature at the next meeting of the provincial legislature.

Commissioner Rees followed along the same lines as Major Mapp. The ways and means were also informally discussed. Mayor Frink was of the opinion that the rent of such an institution would be about $300 and County Secretary Kelley said the upkeep would entail an outlay of $4,000 per annum.
