A FEW STYLE NOTES.

Any Other Name.
The fashion colors have again been shuffled. We find that battleship gray has suddenly become tank gray, and that terra cotta has been christened "sirocco." Ontario is blue, and for the life of us we cannot distinguish it from good old-time turquoise. A whole family of purples, shading from the faint lavender of the orchid down to a red-blue, is known as Banded's colors. Taupe has suddenly become "furet" and Pomard is not champagne color, but our old friend tuchia, staggering under a new non de plume. Then there are rust shades, clove color, gunition gray (which has gobled up the suede shades) and a new brown that is called cigar.

The best green of the summer season is mignonette, dully pretty and cool looking.

The small plush hats just appearing are the most becoming things in fall millinery. One little round back push turban is cleverly dotted with white plush corn spots.

Brocade is coming in again. It is said that the mills at Lyons have turned out miles of marvelous silks that come under the title. Full moon, main branches and odd flowers of subdued colors in the rich material. One splendid brocade is called the "Soliel de la Victoire."

MAIL TO THE TAM

Crocheted hats of all descriptions have been in vogue this season. They have developed in all kinds of wool and in every conceivable shape and color combination. Usually they are trimmed with a simple band of moire ribbon or small crocheted flowers. But the latest in crocheted hats is not a hat at all, but a tam-o-shanter. The very smartest are made of angora, usually in gray or white. They fit over the hair snugly, and the tassel, instead of falling loose, is fastened down over the left ear with a huge bright-colored button. This fetching little cap is accompanied by a scarf of the same color and material, finished with a fringe of the same bright tones as the bottom of the tam. These two are worn best with a dark street dress of serge or taffeta.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN.

A woman is claimed to be the wisest at the age of 30.
Women employed in journalism in Japan receive from $10 to $25 a month.

Mrs. P. G. McAvoy is known as the "Apple Queen" of Illinois.

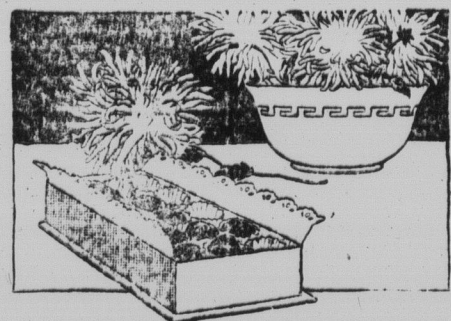

For the first time in the history of the Bellevue Hospital in New York a woman, Dr. Kathryn Dognon, performed a transfusion operation which was successful in saving the life of a woman patient.

was successful in saving the life of a woman patient.

Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, of Massachusetts, who has acted as her father's secretary during his term in the House, has just been admitted to the bar. She is the third generation of her family to be allowed to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

Stanley and Cross Creek.
The Stanley and Cross Creek Institute entertained the members of the Williamsburg and Tay Settlement Institute at a meeting when over fifty were in attendance. The splendid papers, "Woman's Relation to Present Conditions" and "Some Modern Needs" were read. Lunches were sold, from which over $50.00 was realized.

THE EXPLANATION.

Visiting Preacher (after service)—Well, the congregation stayed all through the sermon.
Head Deacon—Young man, the people of this city are not noted for walking in their sleep.—Brooklyn Citizen.

A Reckless Driver.

Automobile parties who were enjoying a run on the Manawagonish road last evening had to take a place nearly in the ditch to escape destruction from the reckless driving of a man with a Ford machine. The man was driving along about as fast as the little old Ford would travel and was steering from one side of the highway to the other. From descriptions given of the man it is thought to be a person who has been reported on more than one previous occasion.

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

OPERA HOUSE.

"Isn't the little one cute?" "and the littlest one of all." Such are the expressions of appreciation that a listener hears at the Opera House regarding the revue given by a juvenile troop of players. The children are all ten or less and though hampered Saturday afternoon by the lack of the proper costumes for their different songs, and obliged to come on in their every day clothes (cunning little dresses and smocks which made rather a sweet picture) gave a performance which pleased greatly. They are excellently trained and graceful in their movements. The "Wedding Bell" song with the tiny bride and groom, elicited perhaps the most applause, though the dancing and the Hawaiian song were both very well done. The juvenile troop are certainly a decidedly good feature of this week's bill.

Christie and Mack, a couple of men, give a snappy dialogue and "The College Boy" is very clever at eccentric dancing.

Dressed in a wonderful shade of greenery-yellow charmeuse, made on panel with not edged by gold lace, Miss Marie Allen sang charmingly and was very well received. She gave "Poor Butterfly." "A Heart That is Free" and "Joan of Arc," which are all favorites. Her "Lonesome" song with its recital was a decided success.

Plunkett and Romane are a lively couple who offer an act remarkable for the scantiness of its costuming. I thought the act below the standard of vaudeville.

Jess and Bud Gray, singers, received applause and laughter as a reward for their efforts to amuse and entertain. "Bud's" loud voiced solo is really very funny.

Miss Burke in a bathing suit with the scenes taken at Palm Beach, make the week's chapter of Gloria's Romance very different from the others. She disports in the briny and on land, finding Frenau out in still another deception. There were the usual large crowds both Saturday afternoon and evening.

ST. ANDREWS

The funeral of the late Hugh McQuoid, Jr. who was the victim in the tragic drowning accident on Van-Horne's Bar, on Thursday night last, took place on Sunday afternoon last and was one of the largest funeral processions seen here for many years.

The services were from the Methodist Church and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hicks, the Pastor. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McQuoid, the parents of the deceased young man, in the loss of a son so young and so promising. In the prime of his young manhood that young man could ill be spared in his family and in the community, where man power is so much needed and is becoming so greatly depleted.

through the ravages of war and other causes that call the boys from their homes in such large numbers at the present time.

The Algonquin Hotel management is now experiencing its banner year in the tourist business, every available space being occupied and guests are being turned away daily for want of rooms. The management is also excelling itself this year in the provisions that have been made for the comfort and entertainment of the guests.

After the season of 1916, the management made provision for a large number of additional guest rooms for the present season, and the construction of an outside dormitory, but all that has proved insufficient to take care of the increased patronage, and would seem inevitable that before another season a large addition must be provided for in some manner, in order to keep up with the growing business.

The daughters of the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, were guests last week of Lord and Lady Shaughnessy, at "Tipperary."

Mr. Charles R. Hosmer, Montreal's heavy financier, after spending ten days with his family here, at their beautiful home, "Hillcrest," returned to Montreal on Monday night.

Major L. P. D. Tilly, of St. John, spent the week end with his family here and returned to St. John on Monday.
