Short of definite period. The Sultan's army is very a most formidable one. It would make stubborn resistance. The policemen of Europe would pay themselves at the ex pense of the conquered in the end, but cer nations appears eager to undertake the neighbor to undertake it. A few more massacres may cause the Powers to move but if they do it will be from no love for the turbulent folk whom the Turks are killing. Nor will it be with the idea that Macedonia may become respectable and and the utter ruin of his provinces in the process seem not improbable in the light of yesterday's news.

The Premier went to the heart of the matter. He touched the points which are vital and at which friction is possible when a definite plan is forthcoming. Bri true to her. He believes that they wi retain all the rights they now enjoy and will ever be loyal. Free trade of the Em pire against the world is out of the ques tion, as is a common tariff, he says. A make concessions. The treaty or bargain he insisted, "must in no way infringe the autonomy of the Dominion." This is in line with the Canadian stand at the Col onial Conference, a stand which a very great majority of the people of this coun try fully endorses. During the coming months the preference will be the subject of study and enquiry throughout the Empire. From the spirit displayed at the Montreal Congress it is evident that loyalty and Imperialism will do much to make possible a trade bargain which might otherwise be difficult because of the lack of a common motive. That the Colonel Secretary will make any proposa calculated to impair the autonomy of any colony is not predicted of him even by his detractors, the most violent of whom admile his shrowdness.

MR. HATHEWAY AT THE CONGRESS.

A most amazing report of Mr. W. Frank Hatheway's speech at the Montreal Congress appears in the Witness of that city. The Witness makes it appear that as soon as Mr. Hatheway had fairly settled himself in the oratorical saddle he was seized by the leg and unhorsed by a gentleman named Boulton. No doubt Mr. Hatheway was astonished and shaken by this unexpected assault, but with that axility for regred and irregular hills from which flow The Witness makes it appear that as soon as Mr. Hatheway had fairly settled himpected assault, but with that agility for which he is justly famous, he sprang astride again and-the insensate Mr. Boulton fell upon the unfortunate orator once more and reduced him to the common

The Congress, it appears, was about to adopt a resolution favoring conciliatory neasures in reference to labor troubles, when Mr. Hatheway proposed the addition of a compulsory arbitration clause "And, further: that the governments o the self-governing colonies be asked to consider compulsory arbitration, the working of the law in New Zealand and in The St. John man apparently was un-

Comparison of Seagoing Tonnage Here and at Montreal, and a Query Suggested by the Figures

A city correspondent has sent the fol A city correspondent has sent the fol-lowing to The Telegraph:
According to the trade and navigation tables for 1902, the total tonnage of sea-going vessels entered and celared in that

In round numbers, the total tonnage of sea-going vessels at the port of St. John was almost three-quarters of the tonnage of the sea-going vessels at Monteral in the same year. If, however, coasters are included, the total tonnage of St. John would amount to only about one-third of the tonnage of Montreal in the same period. Of course St. John is chiefly in terested in sea-going tonnage. Is not the good reason for losing no time in making harbor improvements?
