Miss Peters Favors Public Hangings

Says It Will Hasten the Abolition of Capital Punishment

Committee Reports Against Assisted Immigration; Scores Miserable Pay of Women School Teachers; Wants Equal Suffrage and Many Other Things.

Montreal, May 3.—"When is a private execution a public execution? When it is a Montreal," said Miss Peters, president of the Dominion Women's Suffrage League, in a speech at the annual convention of the Dominion Women's Suffrage League, held at the Hotel Windsor, Montreal, on Saturday night.

She was in effect the concluding paragraph of a long and eloquent report on the work of the committee during the past year. The report was read by Miss Peters, and she was followed by a number of other speakers who discussed various subjects of interest to the women of the Dominion.

Miss Peters' report was a scathing one. She pointed out the many failures of the government and the need for reform in many areas. She called for equal suffrage, better pay for women school teachers, and the abolition of assisted immigration. She also mentioned the need for public hangings and the improvement of the education system.

The report was well received by the audience, and Miss Peters' speech was one of the highlights of the convention. She concluded her report by saying that the women of the Dominion were determined to bring about these reforms and to secure equal rights for all.

DEVELOPMENT

Mr. William Amos has sold a property in Rodney street, West End, to Walter Evans, the price was $2,300.

Ward farm at Highfield, Kings County, New Brunswick, has been sold to Alfred Bursley & Co. to Samuel C. McDonald, who will take immediate possession. The farm consists of about 100 acres and has fine farm buildings. Mr. McDonald is a native of New Scotia, who has been living in Massachusetts and has been attracted to New Brunswick by the opportunities which the province has to offer.

Isaac Williams has purchased from John M. Hay the lot of about 100 acres on the field street. The sale was made through Keith & Gates, real estate brokers.

One of the largest tracts of suburban property which has taken place around St. John was practically completed yesterday forenoon when Allison & Thomas, acting for Sydney H. Sprague, outside investors, became the owners of the Donovan farm near Coldbrook.

The property, which was owned by Jeremiah Donovan, late of London, consists of 255 acres of land, of which 100 acres are perfectly level. It has a good frontage on Robb's Bay and a back frontage on the old Westport road, on which it has a frontage of about 1,000 feet. The section to the east of the latter road, containing about 100 acres, is a very desirable section of land to the Loch Lomond Road. The property includes the dwellings and extensive farm buildings of Messrs. Donovan.

No announcement has been made of the purpose to which the land is to be devoted, but it is understood that it was bought chiefly as an investment.

The purchase of Captain Haynes farm at Riverside, adjoining the new property of the Golf and Country Club, which has been secured by local investors, has been practically completed. The property, which is situated on the east side of the city, contains about 150 acres.

Str Bohemia (Br) reports April 6, lat 41 21 N, lon 65 19 W, passed a large log about 30 feet long thickly covered with marine growth. Later a spar standing upright and projecting about two feet out of water, apparently attached to submerged wreckage.

William Hanson, president of the Maritime Coal Road and Power Company, accompanied by Mr. Radcliffe Halme, and by Alexander McLaughlin, two of the directors of the company, all of Montreal, went to the Joggins yesterday to inspect the property of the company at that place. Mr. A. Sammett, a well known engineer of Montreal, was with the party. They arrived in Amherst at night and spent the morning in town.

The News understands that the visit of these gentlemen to the Joggins Mines was a preliminary one, and that the company intend to make a more detailed study of the future of these two places. It is proposed to install a number of additional electric coal cutters at the Joggins Mines and also to improve the hoisting gear in connection with that slope, as well as to make very many other improvements which will tend to reduce the cost of production and to make the mine on a more profitable producing basis.

At Chignecto Mines the company propose to add a one thousand kilowatt turbine driving generator shaft doubling the present capacity of the power plant at Chignecto Mines. The foundation for the new plant will be laid at once and the building to contain it will be rushed forward as soon as possible. The generator itself has already been ordered. If at all possible, a duplicate power line will be run from the power plant to Amherst.

It is understood that the Company intend prospecting extensively on their Chignecto area with a view to opening up a new slope of the mine above the present one which will probably lead for Montreal as soon as it is to be hoped that every success will attend this new forward movement.

Extensive developments for their property in Lancaster are being planned by the Canadian Consolidated Lands, Ltd., and it is their intention to make this one of the most desirable residential districts in and around the city. Harold Groom, who will be the local manager, has arrived here and engaged to take up his office in the Stockton building. He will be followed, in a fortnight, by the company's consulting engineer, George Miller of Montreal, who will spend the summer at St. John, supervising the improvements to the property.

Their land in Lancaster near Tilton's corner and an adjacent property, which will be extended to make the main street through the property. It is also interested by Charlotte street extension. The streets have already been surveyed and lines will be laid out and graded and sidewalks laid.

The boulevard idea will be adopted in the streets near the school building, which will be set out this summer. Buildings on the property are restricted to detached semi-detached dwellings costing not less than $3,000 and the design all to have to be passed by the company's architect. To establish the standard of buildings expected and to add to the value of the streets, the company intend to start work this summer building attractive dwellings to cost from $3,000 to $5,000 and these will be sold on easy terms. Their observations of local conditions has convinced the company that ances which were absolutely false, and much hardish results.

The representatives of the committee on education and the committee on vacation schools and supervised playgrounds were at the features of the Saturday morning session.

The education committee which had been instructed to secure data regarding the remuneration of rural teachers reported that two facts were clear, first, that women did not receive equal pay for equal work, and second that some increase in remuneration had been made, but not proportionately with the increased cost of living.

Women School Teachers Miserably Paid.

Excepting the west, salaries of rural teachers were miserably inadequate, with the result that children were being deprived of the educational advantages which were their right. Quebec province failed to adopt a compulsory school attendance measure was noted. The over-reliance of the educational authorities on a problem in many parts of Canada.

In the discussion Mrs. Byers, of Sarnia, urged that text books should be introduced in the public schools which would give a clear, sensible idea of human development and sex hygiene.

Prof. Derrick pointed out that such text books must be very carefully prepared and that specially trained teachers must be secured to teach such subjects.

Opinion was divided as to whether medical inspection in schools should be under municipal or provincial control. The most of the speakers inclined to the latter.

It was decided that provincial governments be urged to provide for medical inspection in rural schools.

A resolution from Kingston council, advising local council to work for the establishment of night schools, where they do not already exist, was passed.

Another resolution from Toronto council urging that women be elected to school boards wherever possible, or that council members be urged to attend school board meetings was passed.

The second report, after setting forth the desirability of making social centres of a holiday type, recommended that hereafter the committee be known as that supervised play, recreation and social centres.

The report was adopted after a brief discussion.

The suggestion was made and adopted that the delegates form themselves into a committee of the whole for the purpose of forwarding their observations of local conditions to the Dominion parliament with letters and telegrams em-

LIBERALS JUBILANT

(E. W. Thomson in Boston Transcript).
Ottawa, April 28.—Back to Parliament Hill. Legislators all looking thinner than a month ago, more worried. Some doubt whether they have not blundered in establishing closure, and especially refusing Sir Wilfrid Laurier a chance to speak against the very workable Speaker who declared that the Grand Old Chief, who never outraged courtesy in all his long career, had the floor. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had good talk with him. He looks like a winner. Much pleased with the way his side whipped the other fellows in Alberta on the 15th inst. Most properly given the main credit to Attorney-General Cross, of that province.

By the way, that boy was Tom Cross, son of the aforesaid dignitary.

All the Liberals here jubilant over their party prospects. They say the senate will show up Premier Borden's Navy bill. If he then proposes to abolish the senate he will, they say, do the Old Curious nothing but good. If he calls a general election on Senate Reform and his Senate-rejected Navy bill, he will be (so the Crisis says) soundly thrashed. There are stories harder to believe. Fact is that, despite the enormous immigration, land speculation is flat in the west, banks have restricted loans times as a bit harder all over Canada than last year. Hence opposition prospects have been, like the tea-drinking rejected Navy bill, before my weary eyes. Can the ministry be forced, despite their new closure, to go to the country soon? The Liberals say yes, decidedly. They say they can and will do the forcing. The Tories say, "D—d if they can!" This does not seem to indicate a Tory longing for appeal to the electors.

The contract for building the new power station in Dalhousie has been awarded to D. A. Stewart who is to have the building finished by the middle of August. The contract price is in the vicinity of $3,000.
