A MESSAGE.

It was only a crumpled letter, In a careless, girlish hand; It was only a childish message From the sun-kissed, southern land. It was only a brief memorial

Of the tears the absent shed; It was a trifle from the living But a message from the dead! " Father, dear, you are gone to battle But I think incessantly, But I think incessantly, As I miss your morning blessing. What your sufferings must be!
So she wrote, and so beld it.
With a blessing on her head,—
When the token of the living
Was a message to the dead!

You would wish me to be so; If I'm quiet half your dangers Dear mamma need never know.
So, good by, papa! God bless you!
Guard and keep you evermore:—
See! I send you fifty kisses.

From an ever-ready store It was only a crumpled letter In a dead man's hand that day. Just to show how hearts were aching In his own land far away. It was only a loving message
From a loving child that sped,

But the words the living pencill Were a message to the dead! Lay it with him in the grave,—
If it be a consolation it be a consolation,
'Tis the latest he will have.

So that when the angels told it 'Twas no message to the dead! LOCALS.
