THE REBEL QUEEN

By WALTER BESANT,

Author of "The Ivory Gate," "St. Katharine by the Tower," "The Golden Butterfly," "The Monks of Thelma," "Dorothy Foster," "The World Went Very Well Then," Etc., Etc.

The Lesson of "THE REBEL QUEEN."

IN this great kindergarten which we call our world it has ever seemed to be Our Teacher's method to instruct by object lessons. But we are dull pupils. It has taken almost nineteen centuries to show even the finest of minds among us that there is an open book in the history of the "Chosen People."

To read this book with the earnest thought which it deserves is equivalent to granting to the author his premises, because they are the facts of history, and of our common human nature. They appeal to the latent sense of right and wrong, which is in all of us, the latent belief which we all have in the Great Master, the hope in the future, which is the light of all our hearts, the power of contrition, which is in itself regenerating, and, above all, to the great brotherly instinct of humanity, which exists in spite of all sins, enmities, and unutterable cruelties of man to man; and because it exists, must grow until its warmth and life shall penetrate and inspire "all sorts and conditions of men."

What the world owes to the down-trodden persecuted people is not easily or quickly told. What it does not owe would be a far shorter creed. For any one who can read "The Rebel Queen" without feeling his heart expand to wider and deeper sympathies, and melt with sincere humility for the share which he or his ancestors may have had in the unjust humiliations of a persecuted race, as well as swell with gratitude for the debt which we all owe to it, we must ever feel the sincerest commiseration. In the mind which can fail (thus taught) to appreciate the lasting value of the lessons of the Law there must be some unhealthy bias, whether or not we may agree with all of Mr. Besant's conclusions. One serious thought is left burning in upon our minds: What are we, the other peoples of the earth? What are our destinies, that for our own sakes a whole people should have been in a manner vivisectioned for so many centuries? What shall make us worthy of receiving this costly object-lesson?
