Small Gains for the Tories and Entailment—Parliamentary Reform—Hobbes and Retrospect at Dublin University—Mr. Gladstone Issues More Manifestoes.

LONDON, July 2.—A most desperate electoral struggle between the Gladstonians and the Unionists ended to-day in the utter rout of the former in the parliamentary district known as Leith-Burghs. Mr. W. J. Wicks returned as the last parliament a regular member by a majority of 870 in a total poll of 8840 votes. He opposed the Home Rule bill but was nevertheless considered irrevocable in his district and was nominated to continue his opposition to the premier's Liberal policy. Mr. J. J. Mackenzie, a Scotchman of Leith, but who looked upon his opposition as a candidate to oppose him—all those mentioned for the seat having been the Unionists' opposition to the premier, with the exception of Mr. Mackenzie, who withstood opposition and left the Liberal camp to the House of Commons with a largely increased majority.

Mr. Francis Flack. LONDON, July 2.—Mr. Flack receives letters every day mentioning him with injury and accusation for his efforts to "diminish the Empire." He has not, however, admitted to the protection of or public attention to his person. He is reported to be in the city, and in his campaign work by a body guard of personal friends, all stalwart young Irishmen, who say they feel perfectly able to take care of him and himself.

Mr. Chamberlain on the Deputy of the Assize. LONDON, July 2.—Mr. Chamberlain, speaking at Birmingham to-night, said that he was asked to treat the people, but the people were being tricked regarding Mr. Gladstone's statement that the masses were with him. He said that the masses were with him, and that the masses were with him.

A SONG FOR UNIONISTS. Mr. Chamberlain's contribution to the Anti-Home Rule Campaign. LONDON, July 2.—The following verses are extracted from the long poem contributed by Mr. Chamberlain to the "Times" in support of his "song for Unionists." It is entitled, "The Commonweal—a Song for Unionists."

WEST END EARLY CLOSING.

STREET CLOSURE AND MECHANICAL REPAIRS IN ST. ANDREW'S HALL.

Shops to Close at 8 o'clock Every Night Except Saturday—No One Against It—Speakers and Resolutions—All Feared in the East End.

The early closing hour proved very impetuous in St. Andrew's Hall last night, where a public meeting had been called by proclamation. About 300 were present, and the speakers, clerks and mechanics. A brass band stationed at one of the windows helped to gather them in. All Feared arrived at 8 o'clock, and the meeting was held in the City Clerk's staff. The band played another tune, and the meeting came to time at 8.30.

Mr. Feiler took the chair, and asked the speakers of the requisition and those wishing to air their views to come on the platform. They came. Their names are Frank Britton, Hugh Robb, Edmund E. Sheppard, George H. Taylor, W. Wright, George J. St. Leger, Patrick Hughes, J. H. Kenny, A. A. Alexander, ex-Alderman George Keane and his dog, M. Voler, J. G. McAlister, Thomas Taylor, W. Wright, George J. St. Leger, John Armstrong, John Watson, R. Porter and J. Scott.

J. H. Kenny, who was appointed secretary of the meeting, read a resolution which resolved that 8 o'clock be the hour for West End shops to close on ordinary evenings. Mr. ex-Alderman Keane was the first speaker. He came forward, laid his hat on the table, traced up and made a speech that was warmly received. He said that the early closing in its nature, and reached geographically round the poles. He alluded to the nature of the business and the fact that it was a matter of public concern. He said that the early closing was a matter of public concern, and that it was a matter of public concern.
