

It would appear from your evidence that there is very little land fit for agricultural purposes at all. Is that correct?

A. Yes, there is very little good agricultural land in the Queen Charlotte Islands at all because it is too steep.

THE CHAIRMAN; Is it good for grazing?

A. No, it is all moss. At Massett there is good grazing land. It is gravelly and flat, but the cattle apparently do very well, what cattle there are, which I believe number about 20 or 30. Cattle in that part are apt to break their legs very easily on account of falling into holes.

NOTE: The applications which Mr. Young put in with reference to the Queen Charlotte Islands were compiled by Mr. Green from information received from the Indian Agent and also from personal inspection. In some cases Mr. Green made sketches of the Massett applications which have been put in. That list of applications was sent in to the Provincial Department of Lands with a letter for Mr. Green in August, 1912.
