

OBITUARY

THOMAS DALY

A link with pioneer days on the Gattineau was broken on Saturday, October 10th, when Thomas Daly of Farrelton, Que., passed away at the age of sixty-six.

Almost a century ago there left historic Wexford sturdy Daly brothers to seek their fortune in Canada. Colonel By had just started the Rideau Canal and this was the first work the brothers did in the new country. The scene of their labor was the site of Canada's present beautiful capital; though then it was barely the beginnings of Bytown. Here Thomas Daly's father was born, if not the first white child born in this part of Canada—the claim is not undisputed—he was at least one of the first.

Shortly afterwards the Daly brothers took up farming in the forest primeval of the beautiful Gattineau region. There numerous worthy descendants still reside.

The Thomas Daly who has just gone to his reward retained many of those virtue qualities that were essential to the successful pioneer. Sturdy physically and mentally, active and hard-working, he yet loved the woods and the mountains of this most picturesque part of Canada with the appreciation of a nature-lover and the proverbial local patriotism of the mountaineer.

Widely, and along certain lines, deeply read, it was one of the great objects of his life to see that his children should have adequate opportunities for an education. The result is that at the close of his life he left a large family exceptionally well provided for in this respect. The high-school work of his four daughters is praised at their Alma Mater, Pembroke College; and three of them, including Sister Mary Theresa of the St. Joseph's Community of Pembroke, are qualified Ontario teachers. The other is a nurse at Atlantic City.

One son, Maurice, was graduated this year from Toronto University with honors in philosophy; and Conor, the youngest, has just succeeded him at St. Michael's to begin an honor course in the same institution.

On Monday, October the twelfth, the large congregation that assisted at the funeral testified to the respect in which his numerous connection of relatives, friends and neighbors held this man who through hard work, perseverance, and singleness of purpose, accomplished all the worthy aims that he cherished in this life.

To his wife—the valiant woman of Proverbs in whom the heart of her husband trusted—to his children and his grandchildren the editor of THE CATHOLIC RECORD, in memory of a long and prized friendship, tenders his sympathy and condolence. May the brave soul we all loved rest in peace.

MRS. M. FORHAN

General regret was expressed throughout Owen Sound at the passing of one of its best known and well-beloved women in the person of Eliza Johnston, devoted wife of Mr. Michael Forhan, whose death occurred about midnight on Tuesday, October 6th.

The late Mrs. Forhan was the daughter of Thos. Browne Johnston of Exeter, England. She came to Canada, when about ten years of age, with her parents who settled in Toronto. In 1867 she came to Owen Sound where she has resided ever since. She was one of the old pioneers and had the pleasure and satisfaction of seeing the city and St. Mary's parish grow to their present fine proportions; and of having had no small part in their progress. She was one of those women who was greatly interested in all that pertained to her adopted home and her good deeds and strenuous labors will be a lasting monument to her devoted life. She was particularly active in the affairs of St. Mary's church. Much of the success in the early years of the Altar Society and the Sacred Heart League must be attributed to her. As a member of the G. and M. Hospital Auxiliary she worked indefatigably until failing health compelled her to cease from the labors of all the organizations in which she was interested. Her kindly and thoughtful disposition will long live in the memory of those who knew her best. As a mark of the general esteem and respect in which she was held, the city flag was flown at half mast during the funeral.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two sons, Oswald, of Vancouver, B. C., Harold, of Hepworth, Ont.; and four daughters, Mrs. Alice Amyot of Windsor, Sister Aloysis of the Ursuline College, Chatham, and Misses Edith and Irene, at home. She also leaves two brothers Thomas and Frank Johnston of Toronto and two sisters, Mrs. A. S. O'Donnell of Santa Monica, Cal.; and Mrs. Margaret Sprull of St. Boniface, Man.

The funeral took place Friday morning, the Requiem Mass being sung by Rev. N. McNulty, C. S. B., assisted by the Rev. N. Roche, C. S. B., pastor of St. Mary's, as deacon and Rev. J. McCowell as sub-deacon.

May her soul rest in peace.

IN THE MEMORY OF THOSE WHO KNEW HER BEST.

The funeral took place Friday morning, the Requiem Mass being sung by Rev. N. McNulty, C. S. B., assisted by the Rev. N. Roche, C. S. B., pastor of St. Mary's, as deacon and Rev. J. McCowell as sub-deacon.

May her soul rest in peace.

SISTER M. SHEILA

Sister M. Sheila, of the Ursuline Order at Chatham, died at Rochester, Minn., Oct. 10th. The funeral service for Sister Sheila was held at the Ursuline College Chapel, Chatham, Ont., Oct. 14th. Solemn Requiem Mass for the Dead was celebrated by her cousin, Rev. M. Reid of Montreal, with Rev. F. X. Laurendeau of Ford as deacon and Rev. A. P. Mahoney of London as sub-deacon. Interment at St. Anthony's Cemetery, Chatham. Sister Sheila was formerly Kathryn O'Hara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. O'Hara of 696 Waterloo St., this city. She is survived by her parents, three sisters, Dorothy, Sheila, and Pauline, three brothers, Thoms, J., Robert and Marcus, all at home. Sister Sheila was the first graduate of St. Angela's College, this city, to join the Ursulines.

BELGIAN HIERARCHY

ISSUES JOINT LETTER ON REUNION WITH EAST

His Eminence Cardinal Mercier and the Belgian Hierarchy have addressed the following joint letter on the reunion of the churches to Father Lambert Baudin of the Abbey of Mont-Cesar.

"We are following with respectful attention the efforts of the Holy Father Pius XI. in behalf of the Reunion of the churches. We recall the august words of His Holiness in the Encyclical Ecclesiam Dei of November 28, 1923. 'Let the Latins strive to acquire a deeper and more complete knowledge of the institutions and customs of the East. Let them be convinced that when once there is among us a better knowledge of the East, a just appreciation and true charity will follow. These are dispositions of spirit of the greatest importance for the preparation of religious unity.'"

"The Holy Father witnesses the development in the East of a movement of prayers and works which is awakening in Christian souls a great desire for unity thus facilitating the return of our separated brethren.

"We greatly desire to see the priests and the faithful of Belgium respond with filial alacrity to the unceasing exhortations of the Supreme Pontiff and associate themselves with this movement destined to prepare the rapprochement and the reconciliation of the Christian East and the Christian West.

"The celebration of the centennial of the Council of Nicaea, the first Ecumenical Council and the solemnity of the Holy Year which is particularly consecrated, according to the intentions of the Holy Father, to prayers for the great cause of religious unity, will furnish a happy occasion for the organization of this apostolate and will awaken in the faithful an ardent zeal for the realization of this eminently Catholic ideal.

Above all, we willingly authorize in Belgium following the example of the Holy See, the celebration of oriental liturgical functions which will enable the faithful to understand that the diversity of customary rites and of ecclesiastical discipline is no obstacle to the perfect communion of saints and to the unity of Catholic faith.

"We bless all those who, with you and your brothers of the Benedictine Congregation, are working for the restoration of the Unity of the Catholic Faith."

PROTESTANT BISHOP PRAISES CATHOLICS

Dublin, Ireland.—Acknowledgment of the generous neighborly spirit of Catholics in Connaught in their relation with the small body of Protestants in their midst was made recently by the Protestant Bishop, Dr. Patton, at the Synod of Clonfert.

"Let me," he said, "mention an incident of a most gratifying nature, well worthy of record. Last year the Protestant church of Aghnamiddle, in the village of Toomevarra, was set on fire by some miscreant. There was not a single member of our creed resident in the village. But the Catholics, its sole inhabitants, have always lived in harmony with the rector of that church and with those who come to the village to worship in it. When the fire was first discovered, our Catholic fellow-countrymen came to the rescue and forced their way into the blazing building where the

FLAMES AT THE EAST END WERE SO FERCE

That they blistered the western door. In that burning building these neighbors of a different faith did their utmost to save all that was possible.

"And when the rector afterwards applied to a mainly Catholic tribunal for compensation, it was not only granted, but in such a manner as to mark the sympathy of the whole Catholic community. The achievement betokens a brotherhood of mutual confidence and willing service in the district wherein it was wrought."

GEORGETOWN FOREIGN SERVICE SCHOOL HOST TO MANY STATESMEN

Washington, Oct. 18.—The Foreign Service School of Georgetown University, historic Jesuit institution here, had the honor of being host to many of the most prominent legislators of the world while the inter-parliamentary Union was in session here. In turn, the School attracted the intense interest of the delegates, who expressed themselves as astounded that in five years it has attained to such an international estate as to have eight foreign countries represented on its faculty and twenty-two countries among its student body, with graduates in forty-four countries throughout the world.

Among the distinguished visitors at the Georgetown School were: Dr. Josef Karl Firth, former Chancellor of Germany; Dr. Fernand Merlín, president of the French delegation; Vladimir Nolloff, president of the Bulgarian group; Dr. Walter Schuecking, president of the German group; Carl Lindhagen, Mayor of Stockholm, Sweden; Gustav Grätz, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Hungary; Antonius Piip, Minister from Esthonia; H. J. Procopé, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Finland; Luis Churion, president of the Venezuelan Chamber of Deputies; and Dr. Bronislas Dembinski, former Secretary of State of Poland.

The School was host at a former luncheon at the Cosmos Club here in honor of the visiting statesmen and legislators, at which the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Regent; Dr. William F. Notz, Dean; Dr. Thomas H. Healy, Assistant Dean, and Dr. James Brown Scott, of the faculty, received the guests. Among the speakers were former Chancellor Wirth, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, Dr. Merlín, Dr. Piip, former Minister Procopé and members of the Georgetown faculty.

NEW BOOKS

"Stranded on Long Bar." By Henry S. Spalding, S. J., 12 mo. cloth, frontispiece. Net. $1.25.

A country town on the Mississippi shore, a deserted island, and a stranded launch—these provide the locale. Two boys are drawn into the bitter, and on one side unscrupulous, rivalry of two steamship owners. Partly through their justice is done and a happy ending realized. Not, however, until after many discouragements, and many a baffling hindrance has been encountered.

A lovable old negro joins the boys, helpful and humorous, and wise in the ways of birds, fishes, plants and animals. And with all the gripping action, the young readers will find something of permanent value in the story.

"Mirage." By Inez Speeking. Cloth. Net $1.75.

The story of a Catholic family—it is the sort of family life that doesn't ordinarily find its way into a novel. In its essentials it is a familiar record, but courage and frankness and sympathetic insight were needed in writing it.

Next to Betty herself, her father stands out most prominently in the novel. Mercilessly, though without passion, the author has sketched this figure of a man who argued theology with anyone who would listen, and let his children starve.

Betty spent her childhood in suffering and toil and sacrifice for her family. She faced it with resignation, because she found in her little dream-world the promise of eventual relief. Arrived at womanhood, new calls to imitate herself, she is heard, until at last comes the great trial—the choice between love and her "duty" to a thoughtless, selfish family.

"The First Christmas." By Thomas A. Donoghue, S. J. Size 6 x 9 inches, with nine original colored illustrations. Price 25 cents.

A story-poem for children on the birth of Our Lord with the idea to impress upon them the Christian meaning of Christmas.

"Let us gather together, dear children, each year
With our hearts full of joy, for Christmas is here
And listen in silence to a story of old
The greatest and truest that ever was told."

The rhythm of this wonderful "Christmas Poem" for children is the kind that, once read will linger with the child, as long as the famous poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas" has lived with us all.

The New Missal for Every Day

A Complete Missal in English, with Introduction, Notes and a Book of Prayer.

By Rev. F. X. Lasance
Author of "My Prayer Book"

Revised in conformity with the Vatican Typical Edition of the Missale Romanum. To which are added supplements containing the proper Masses for the United States and various Masses for Religious Orders and for special devotion.

When "The New Missal" by Father Lasance appeared some years ago, it was generally acclaimed as the first successful attempt to popularize the Church's official book of worship, the "Missale Romanum," because its simple directions and practical arrangement overcame all objections to the use of the Missal by the Laity as being difficult.

It is therefore of great significance to be able to announce a New Revised Edition. Retaining all the distinguishing features, particularly the Introduction, the notes, and the Appendix of General Prayers, that mark it as an outstanding accomplishment, it contains the newest changes, also some additions, the usefulness of which will be readily apparent.
